NEWSPAPER DIVISION
STATE ... MASSACHUSETTS

Today

Bury Me in Pink World Prayer Day Easy to Say, Hard to Do To Get Things, Fight

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1930, King Features Synd., Inc.

WOMAN'S interest in dress, strong and deep, goes back a million years. She started with a necklace, according to scientists. First an ornament around the neck, then one around the waist, then a skirt and all sorts of things.

A woman in California, who murdered a man and killed herself, asked to be buried in white satin, with yellow roses in her hand.

A well-known actress in New York jumps from a 20th-story window, and makes two requests, first, that she be buried in pink satin; second, that her husband keep away from the funeral.

Yesterday was "world day of prayer" among Protestants in all lands.

Sixteen hundred cities and towns, some as far as Turkey, Syria, Africa and Japan, joined in the prayers.

This time it is not prayer for Russia but a general prayer for "the redemption of the world."

How far do those prayers travel through the ether before they reach their destination? Are they all heard simultaneously by miraculous power, or received and sorted out according to world redemption theories offered? Some world redemption plans must be far apart. Those from Africa and Japan, for instance.

Henry Ford says farmers will solve their problem by "new mass production." Wisely he mentions "machinery, chemistry and education" as the big factors.

This farmer who raises corn, cow peas, alfalfa, horses and other things, can testify that "mass production farming" advice is easier to give than to take.

Farmers must do their producing on 20,000,000 farms. Henry Ford couldn't establish mass production in 20,000,000 factories.

Beautiful in sincerity and humility is Gandhi's appeal to the British government: "On bended knees, I ask you to ponder this phenomenon," namely, the "impoverishing of India's dumb millions" by Britain.

Gandhi says: "I do not intend to harm a single Englishman." He will only resist passively.

Very touching, but not the attitude that gains independence, not the attitude of a people ready for independence.

Britain set a different example before the Hindus after the Sepoy rebellion.

The British put murderous rebels inside a cannon and blew them to pieces, knowing that religious superstition would make the punishment most horrible.

No rebellion of consequence since then.

The Hindus might learn from the late Emmeline Pankhurst.

She wanted votes for women and SHE FOUGHT ENGLISH MEN.

She attacked them physically, chained herself to the iron railing of the House of Parliament, that the police might not drag her away. When they sent her to prison she starved, and would have died, except that shame compelled the British to release her.

On Thursday, the British, with Mr. Baldwin presiding, unveiled a statue to Mrs. Pankhurst, close to the spot where she had chained herself to the steel railing. AND BRITISH WOMEN VOTE.

To get what you want, fight for it.

One industry marches on to higher figures. In the cigarette business prosperity reigns. Everybody always has money to buy cigarettes.

When employment is lacking, there is leisure to smoke more cigarettes, and all feel that they must have them, job or no job.

Last year's production was 119 billion cigarettes, almost a thousand cigarettes per year for every man, woman and child in the United States.

One thing most important to all business men in connection with the gigantic cigarette industry is that cigarette men are the most aggressive, energetic and continuous ADVERTISERS in the nation.

Money is cheap. Wall Street is correspondingly cheerful.

For money to build a house, you had to pay 6 and sometimes 8 per cent.

To speculate in stocks, you could borrow money for 3½ per cent.

On soft, green fields in the countryside and on the hard sidewalks of Wall Street, a new crop of lambs will soon be skipping.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3

MOVIE STILLS SHOW SHARKEY HIT SCOTT LOW

See Pictures on Page 11

WEATHER

Rain early tonight followed by cloudy and colder; Sunday fair and cold; strong shifting winds becoming northerly and diminishing tonight. Details on Page 5

High tide 4:37 a. m.; 5:06 p. m.
Sun rises 6:16; sets 5:42.

The American is the only Boston evening paper using Universal and International News Services

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

VOL. 26—No. 294 Entered as 2d Class Matter at Boston P. O. Published Daily by H. E. Newspaper Pub. Co. BOSTON, SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1930 2 CENTS ZONE PRICE 3 CENTS

COMPLETE WALL ST. AND BOSTON STOCKS CLOSING PRICES

Aged Woman Hangs Self on Flagpole

SUSPECT CLAIMS POISON PEN CONFESSION EXTORTED BY POLICE

AGED WOMAN HANGS SELF AT AIRPORT

Policeman Finds Unidentified Victim Swinging From a Flagstaff in Rain

In the driving early morning rain at the windswept Boston Airport today an aged woman mounted four steps of the administration building, looped a flagpole halyard around her neck and stepped into space.

She was dead when Patrolman Robert Peterson of the East Boston division, covering a beat in the airport district, discovered her shortly after daylight.

Peterson found her hanging hatless from a rope on which the state flag is strung on one side of the entrance to the administration building. Her hat was on the step beside her and one knee was touching the third step.

He cut her down, called help and took her to the East Boston Relief Hospital, where Dr. Arthur Hoiland pronounced her dead.

The woman was between 70 and 75 years old, five feet two inches tall, weighing 125 pounds. She had gray hair, with a few wisps of black still remaining.

Her hat was of black straw and she wore a brown overcoat, flesh-colored stockings and black low shoes.

The body was taken to the North Grove st. mortuary to await identification. She is believed to have been a resident of the East Boston district and to have gone to the airport with the intention of throwing herself into the harbor, but finding the fence blocking her way chose another way out.

Case Signs R. I. Dry Referendum Bill

Providence, March 8—A statewide referendum on repeal of the eighteenth amendment was assured today when Gov. Norman S. Case signed the bill introduced by Senator Harry Bodwell and passed by Senate and House 24 hours before.

Gov. Case said it would give the people an opportunity to express their opinions. Senator Bodwell said that while it would have no legal effect it would have a moral effect.

Taft's Condition Not So Good Today

Washington, March 8 (AP)—The condition of former Chief Justice Taft was reported by his physicians today as being "not quite so favorable as yesterday." Dr. Thomas A. Claytor and Dr. Francis R. Hagner issued the following bulletin at 11:30 a. m.:

"The former chief justice has had a less restful night and his condition is not quite as favorable as yesterday."

IN NEWS TODAY

Financial	16, 17, 18
Radio	18
Comics	13
Magazine, Fiction	14
Sports	31, 32, 33
Greater Boston News	9
Crossword Puzzle	10
Amusements	6, 7, 8
Women's Clubs	4
Ann Arden's Chat	4
Ship News	18
Society	4
Aviation	15
Letters to the Editor	12
Editorial	4
Church News	16

4 DETECTIVES IN GARRETT CASE QUIZ

Question Bootleggers In Cambridge; Warner Has Photographs Made

Presence of private detectives in Cambridge, checking on pool selling and liquor clues, was the latest development today in connection with the investigation of the activities of Oliver B. Garrett, former patrolman.

It was learned that four detectives visited a number of apartment houses and interviewed well-known bootleggers and sellers of pool tickets.

They also questioned persons said to have information concerning a "whoopee" party alleged to have been given in a house in Hancock st., Cambridge.

NEIGHBORS COMPLAIN.

This party, according to report, was attended by a lawyer, a court official, an ex-policeman, two well-known politicians and several women.

The party became so boisterous, it is understood, neighbors complained, and the visit of the detectives is believed to have resulted.

While no statements could be obtained from the investigators, it is understood they were satisfied with the results of their activities.

The only witnesses questioned to-

Continued on Page 3, Column 1

RUTH READY TO SIGN UP

St. Petersburgh, Fla., March 8 (AP)—With a solid gold fountain pen in his pocket, freshly filled, "Babe" Ruth came in from his Jungle Club retreat this noon, prepared to accept at once the offer of a two-year contract at $80,000 a year, made yesterday by Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees.

"I have thought it over and that looks like a fair proposition to me," said the Babe. After trying to call the colonel on the phone from the Jungle Club, unsuccessfully, Ruth hopped on a car with two newspaper friends and went to the Princess Martha Hotel in St. Petersburg, where Col. Ruppert and the Yankees have their headquarters.

Captain, Crew of 9 Abandon Ship Afire

Lunenburg, N. S., March 8 (AP)—Capt. Charles Conrad of the auxiliary schooner Athenia May, bound for St. Pierre in ballast from Nassau, the Bahamas, and his crew of nine men, were safe ashore after their ship had been destroyed by fire. The fire started in the lighting plant.

Abandoning ship 18 miles off La Have, the men reached shore three hours later in two boats. One of the boats upset in landing at Hirtle's beach, Kingsburgh.

Judge Sanford of Supreme Court Dies

Washington, March 8—Justice Edward T. Sanford of the Supreme Court died here today. His home was in Tennessee.

'Poison Pen' Plot Suspect and One of the Victims

Contos Gazulis — Sergt. Walter French

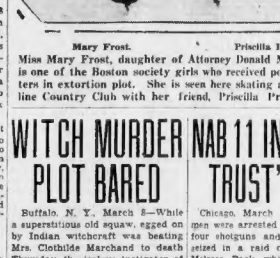
Costos Gazulis, 18, former Boston University student, who is charged with sending extortion letters to prominent Boston families, with Sergt. Walter French of Station 16. (Staff photo.)



Mary Frost.

Priscilla Prince.

Miss Mary Frost, daughter of Attorney Donald McKay Frost, is one of the Boston society girls who received poison pen letters in extortion plot. She is seen here skating at the Brookline Country Club with her friend, Priscilla Prince.

WITCH MURDER PLOT BARED

Buffalo, N. Y., March 8—While a superstitious old squaw, egged on by Indian witchcraft was beating Mrs. Clothilde Marchand to death Thursday, the jealous instigator of the murder was riding with the victim's husband, Henri Marchand, artist-sculptor of Buffalo Museum of Science staff.

This fact was revealed in the confessions of Lila Jimerson, 35, and Mrs. Nancy Bowen, 66, Cayuga squaws who told a weird story of unrequited love, in revenge for which, and ancient black magic of the Iroquois was invoked through the medium of the Ouija Board, to bring about the death of the innocent woman, who was 50 years old.

The younger squaw, according to the police, became enamored of

Continued on Page 2, Column 5

BALANCES AND RECEIPTS

Washington, March 8—Today's Treasury balance, $31,855,660. U. S. Customs receipts, $7,521,206.

NAB 11 IN 'BOMB TRUST' RAID

Chicago, March 8 (AP)—Eleven men were arrested and two bombs, four shotguns and several pistols seized in a raid on a farm near Melrose Park which, police said, was headquarters for a "bomb trust."

The farmhouse was surrounded shortly before midnight by two squads of detectives, automobile headlights were turned on the building from all sides and the occupants ordered to surrender. Several men tried to escape by climbing out windows, but were covered by officers' guns and captured.

The raid was the result of a tip from undercover men of the State's attorney's office that a general meeting of the bomb trust was to be held at midnight at the lonely farm, southwest of Chicago.

BANK STATEMENT

Boston balance	$58,000,000
Boston clearance	70,000,000
New York balance	145,000,000
New York clearance	1,238,000,000

COOK SPURNED BY DAUGHTERS

Leavenworth, Kan., March 8—Ignored by his divorced wife and two daughters, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, North Pole explorer, leaves the penitentiary today or tomorrow, a free man.

Cook will be released on parole, after serving five years as a model prisoner whose fortitude, service and kindness to other inmates made him a favorite.

Among the 4900 prisoners many have reason to characterize him as "regular" for the encouragement he gave them as head of a night school he organized, night interne in the prison hospital and editor of The New Era, prison magazine.

His life was rendered drab and cheerless by the failure of his divorced wife and two daughters, to visit him.

Dr. Cook, who is 65, has little money but an inexhaustible fund of optimism, and plans to publish material he has written on his polar expeditions.

Secretary Davis Greets Coolidge

Pittsburgh, March 8 (AP)—Former President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge were here for a short time today, en route to their home in Massachusetts from the Pacific Coast.

They remained in their private car. The train left here at 9:10 a. m. Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, who arrived from Philadelphia, called to pay his respect.

FIVE INJURED IN SMASHUP

Two men are in a serious condition at City Hospital and three other persons, including two young women, are injured as a result of a collision between two machines at Bear Hill rd. and Main st., on the Fellsway, Stoneham, early today.

The two men taken to City Hospital by passing machines are:

Arsen Tchoinski, 46, and married, of 30 Venelya ave., New York city: contusions and abrasions of the back, chest and abdomen.

Souren Mouradian, 42, single, of 75 L st., South Boston; contusions and abrasions of the back, abdomen and scalp. Sprained right hip and sprained wrist.

Others injured were:

David Sawyer, 28, single, of 255 Walnut ave., Roxbury; bruised about the body. Taken to his home.

Miss Lulu Ronebolt, 23, of 25 Bailey st., Everett; bruised about the arms. Taken to her home.

Miss Madeline Fabiano, 22, of Cashmere pl., Everett; shaken up and suffering from shock. Taken to her home.

Lindy Plans Secret Glider Flight

Pebble Beach, Cal., March 8 (INS)—Charles A. Lindbergh today planned a secret glider flight from some unfrequented spot.

Only his closest associates were told where he expects to launch the tail plane Anne Lindbergh.

HIS BRIDE OF TWO MONTHS IN COURT WITH HIM

Repudiates an Admission of Guilty, but Is Arraigned on Extortion Charges

Costos Gazulis, 18, former Boston University student, today repudiated his confession that he sent poison pen extortion letters to prominent Hub families.

Through his attorney, the youth said his admission of guilt is as "extorted by police artifice."

The case was further complicated when Judge Murray declined to hold a hearing today on the charges against Allen E. Burke, said by police to have been exonerated by Gazulis' confession.

Cool, debonaire, and apparently without a care in the world, Gazulis was arraigned on four charges of attempted extortion and pleaded not guilty to each. He was held in $5000 bail for hearing March 18.

HIS BRIDE IN COURT.

His bride of two months, Valeria White Gazulis, former B. U. student, also, and daughter of a Bar Harbor, Me., family, was present in the courtroom with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gazulis of Cumberland st., Back Bay. The youth's mother was in a state of near collapse and several times was assisted by her husband.

Present also at the hearing were several prominent attorneys believed to represent other families who received threatening letters.

ON FOUR CHARGES

Gazulis was specifically accused of two attempts to extort $5000 from Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKay Frost, of Exeter st., parents of Mary Ryerson Frost; one attempt to extort $2000 from Mrs. George G. Meade, of 51 Commonwealth ave., mother of Miss Olga Monks, and one attempt to extort $600 from Burke, the other defendant.

George Demeter, of 11 Beacon st., retained as counsel by Gazulis, issued the following statement repudiating his client's confession:

"Young Gazulis denies having any connection with the alleged attempts at extortion from certain noted Boston families.

"From his statement to me as his counsel he is revealed completely innocent.

CLAIMS POLICE TRICK.

"During my visit to his cell in Station 16, where he was detained for court, he emphatically declared that the confession obtained from him was forced by police artifice.

"He termed it an extorted confession induced by a promise of protection. His youthful mind was lulled into a notion of security by the flattery and overpowering assurance that only a confession of guilt would release him from custody of the police.

"The insistent promise by the police of full protection and absolute freedom from further annoyance was too powerful for the youthful mind to resist and Gazulis accordingly submitted."

BURKE STILL HELD

It was believed that following Gazuli's arraignment and the police claim that Burke was no longer involved, the latter would be dis-

Continued on Page 2, Column 4

YOUTH DECLARES 'POISON PEN' CONFESSION EXTORTED BY POLICE

FACES FOUR CHARGES IN COURT

Judge Fails to Release Burke Until Case Comes Up Later in Week

Continued from First Page

charged by the court. This did not follow.

Atty. Chamberlain, for Burke, asked Judge Murray to hold the hearing for his client today, but court ruled that Burke should be heard on March 12, the original date set in the continuance.

Judge Murray first suggested that both cases be heard the same day. "I am given to understand there is some connection between both cases," he said.

Sergt. French said there was no connection whatever.

EVIDENCE SIMILAR

Said Judge Murray: "It has been represented to me by an attorney at law that the evidence in both these cases is somewhat similar."

French admitted that was true and Judge Murray ruled that Burke's case could not be heard before the original continuance date of March 12, and suggested that it be arranged so he will be heard at the same time Gaudile is arraigned.

Federal authorities viewed the poison pen letters and pictures that accompanied them and said they were not interested in the case. Police have reached the conclusion that no woman was involved.

What a World!

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

IF MORE PEOPLE WOULD ONLY CONCENTRATE ON WHAT THEY SHUD DO THEMSELVES, AN LESS ON WHAT OTHERS SHUD DO, THINGS WUD BE LOTS BETTER
WHAT YOU SHOULD READ
WHAT YOU SHOULD DRINK
WHAT YOU SHOULD WEAR
HOW YOU SHOULD LIVE
WHAT YOU SHOULD EAT
CAN'T ANY BODY BE ALLOWED TO THINK FOR HIMSELF ANY MORE?
HOW YOU SHOULD SLEEP
WHERE YOU SHOULD WORK
WHAT YOU SHOULD FEEL
WHAT YOU SHOULD SPEAK
WHAT YOU SHOULD THINK

'CANNIBAL' IN SUIT FOR HIS JANGO PAY

African Claims He is a Seaman and That Davenport Film Is Fake

"Jango," Dr. Daniel Davenport's jungle motion picture, and the two "cannibals" he exhibits in connection with the film at Tremont Temple, are branded as frauds in an attachment for $700 on the box office receipts filed in Suffolk registry of deeds.

The attachment was for back wages, alleged to be due Firpo Jacko, billed as "Malamba, the cannibal," but who formerly was a seaman, that ships plying between African and American ports, according to his statements to his attorney, Michael Heaphy of Beacon st., and to other Boston lawyers.

SAYS SHOW PROBED BEFORE

Jacko charged that "Jango" was not all filmed in Africa; that part was produced in the Bronx, New York. He further charged that his employer, Dr. Davenport, has never been to Africa in his life. He says "Jango" was manufactured from lengths of actual jungle film, combined with those photographed of a small animal circus which Davenport bought and set up "on location" in the Bronx.

Jacko, who speaks English, although publicly billed as understanding only a French dialect, further charged that Davenport was under investigation while presenting his act and film in Pittsburgh. He said the two negroes were compelled to testify that they had met their employer in Africa in order to save their own means of livelihood.

DAVENPORT IN REPLY

The negroes have lived in a rooming house owned by Mrs. J. Z. Montgomery, Columbus ave, South End. Interviewed, she said, "They are no more cannibals than you are. They're perfect gentlemen. And all this talk about ooo-ooo mumbling and grunting. They speak English well. I haven't had a bit of trouble since the Cattus upon they've been here. They go to church every Sunday."

Dr. Davenport today branded the man's charges as "an attempt at shakedown."

An application for a warrant for Dr. Davenport on criminal charges of non-payment of wages to Jacko was issued by Judge Michael Murray, but was later thrown out, since the law specifies that the defendant must have 24 hours' notice of suit before appearance.

POWER CHIEFS FORECAST U. S. APPOINTEE

American G. & E. Method of Charges Self Fees Exposed; $1,000,000 "Lost"

Washington, March 8—Power leaders forecast four years beforehand the appointment of F. E. Bonner, of San Francisco, present executive secretary of the Federal Power Commission and under heavy senatorial fire as "a power man," it has been disclosed.

Secret memoranda put into evidence before the Federal Trade Commission in its investigation of utility finances showed that Sidney Z. Mitchell, president of the Electric Bond and Share Company, and others, were watching this appointment closely.

The executive secretary of the power commission is most of the time in full charge of its organization, which has coming before it investment accounts estimated to include $500,000,000 of "water" that may be saddled upon rate-payers and taxpayers.

Other power developments were:

Admission that the American Gas and Electric Co. charges itself, in the guise of its subsidiary Indiana-Michigan Electric Co., engineering fees representing a profit of nearly 300 per cent.

The fees are added to capital and so projected into the "value" on which consumers are forced to pay an annual profit.

Disclosure that a missing $1,000,000 of the original American Gas and Electric common stock, all "water" but now worth many millions, passed to an official of Electric Bond and Share.

Disclosure that enormous quantities of power in the South and Middle West pour into a great common stream, which "ebbs and flows" from State to State over transmission lines. Evidence of this was termed a significant gain for the federal regulation forces.

The memoranda naming Bonner were addressed to Mitchell by Richard B. Scandrett, Jr., at that time vice-president of American Gas and Electric.

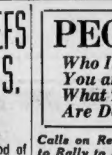
They referred to a "probable change" in the secretaryship due to the expected resignation of O. C. Merrill. Bonner's experience was sketched with no specific comment for or against him.

PEOPLE

Who Interest You and What They Are Doing

Calls on Republicans to Rally to Party

This is no time for Republicans of Massachusetts to turn their backs on their party, Mrs. Louise M. Dodson of Washington declared at a luncheon at Hotel Statler. Mrs. Dodson was guest of honor of the women's section of the Republican State committee.



Mrs. Louise Dodson

The speaker, who is director of women's work for the Republican National committee, said:

"If I can leave but one thought with the Republicans of Massachusetts, I wish it might be this:

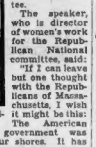
The American experiment in government was conceived on your shores. It has been a success largely because the force behind it has been the Republican party."

Corbys' Divorce Suits Fall Flat Over 'No!'

New York, March 8—A sharp little monosyllable uttered by two charming young women in Supreme Court in Mineola torpedoed the divorce suits of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Corby. The word was:

"NO!"

And it left Mrs. Corby, the former Countess Valier of London; her husband, a millionaire chemist, and Miss Virginia Epperson, a trained nurse, as white as the snow on Pike's Peak.



Mrs. May Corby

Miss Epperson was asked:

"Were you guilty of misconduct with an unknown man in a compartment on Nov. 6?"

"No."

Mrs. Corby was asked:

"Were you guilty of misconduct with an unknown man in an apartment on Nov. 6?"

"No."

Justice Fawcett instructed a verdict clearing both defendants. This leaves a separation suit pending against Corby and continues the $500 temporary alimony.

Nicholas Murray Butler Warns of Parley Failure

New York, March 8 — Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University and of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, sailed for Europe, accompanied by Mrs. Butler and Miss Sarah Schyler Butler. He will return late in May.

Dr. Butler

Dr. Butler issued a statement on the London naval conference in which he termed parity "the latest form of verbal narcotic to be widely used."

"Like it fellow drug, law enforcement," he continued, "the use of this preparation produces an impression, not only of thinking, but of blissful satisfaction."

The appeal to the American delegation in London, made public Monday and bearing the signatures of 1200 prominent men and women, "should arouse slumbering public opinion to a realization of the dangers that would threaten even partial failure of the London conference," he said.

Joseph E. Mahoney of E. Dedham Buried

The fire engine that Joseph P. Mahoney of Dedham formerly drove was in the van of his funeral procession today, carrying flowers, as the cortege passed from his home on Chauncy st., East Dedham, to St. Mary's Church.

Solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. James Doyle, assisted by Rev. Robert E. Lee and Rev. Anthony Laverty. Dedham selectmen and town officials were among those attending, and police and firemen were in the procession. Interment was at Brookdale Cemetery, Dedham.

ALL QUIT WORK AT COMMAND OF GANDHI

Tieup at Ahmadabad Called; Celebrates the Arrest of Mahatma's Aide

Ahmadabad, India, March 8 (AP) —A complete "hartal" (cessation from work) was observed here today in "celebration" of arrest of Vallabhai Patel, one of Mahatma Gandhi's chief lieutenants. The hartal was in response to Gandhi's appeal to Indians to observe a peaceful cessation from work "in celebration of incarceration of the uncrowned king of Gujerat."

Gandhi to Start His Campaign March 12

Bombay, India, March 8 (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, Indian Nationalist leader, announced today that arrest of his chief aide, Vallabhai Patel, would bring no change in his plans to begin his campaign for civil disobedience against British rule in India Wednesday, March 12.

He said after a night of thought he had decided to adhere to his original plan and to leave Ashram Wednesday morning and journey afoot to Jalapura, 140 miles away. He and 50 companions will pass through several towns carrying on an extensive propaganda.

At Jalapura they will violate the state monopoly on production of salt.

Arrest of Patel a Check to Gandhi

London, March 8 (AP)—The arrest of Vallabhai Patel, one of Mahatma Gandhi's chief lieutenants, at Borsad, Bombay, yesterday, was considered by some students of Indian affairs here as probably being a more effective check to Gandhi's "civil disobedience" campaign than would have been the arrest of Gandhi himself.

The sanctity of Gandhi, his asceticism, and his unswerving devotion to the cause of Indian nationalism, have been great assets with all supporters of the movement, but Patel was regarded here as the strong man of the agitation.

Patel was the champion of the famous "no tax" agitation in the Bardoli district of Bombay in July and August, 1928. He won considerable prestige among the natives for carrying his project through to an end. While nominally a compromise it was regarded actually as surrender of the Bombay government.

DETECTIVES ON GARRETT CASE

Continued from First Page

day by Atty.-Gen. Joseph E. Warner were Everett Redden of Brighton, father of Mrs. Garrett, and Edward Costello, Boston police reporter.

PHOTOS ARE TAKEN

The fact that the State has employed cameramen to take photographs of property in Hingham and Newton once owned by the family of Garrett was revealed today.

The most valuable of this property is Pine Grove Farm, Hingham, which formerly stood in the name of Mrs. Garrett, who sold to a corporation made up of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen, Jr., of Winchester, and Mrs. Dudley Mullennen.

PROPERTY IN NEWTON

The action of Atty.-Gen. Joseph E. Warner in having the photographs taken revealed that the Garretts also owned property in Newton.

It is understood that photographs will be introduced when the hearings are resumed, next Wednesday or Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Mulhewen already have been questioned at the attorney-general's office, as have Francis LaCroix, former manager of the farm, who is a brother of Henry LaCroix of the headquarters liquor squad, and a contractor who constructed a number of buildings on the place.

Atty.-Gen. Warner and his aides are guarding carefully the identity of some of the witnesses in their investigation.

QUESTIONS NEWSMEN

The attorney-general began questioning newspapermen for the first time, when Edward Costello, police reporter, whose name was mentioned by Deputy Superintendent McDevitt in his testimony, was sent for.

Deputy McDevitt said when he went to visit Garrett to obtain a report on the Marshfield Fair accident, the patrolman was entertaining a number of reporters who he insisted were his friends. The witness said the only one he recognized was Costello.

Both Garrett and his wife are to be summoned to testify before Warner concludes his investigation.

It also became known today that Warner may ask the Legislature to give him more time to complete his probe. He was asked to report by April 1 and he may request another month.

The search of banks for accounts in the names of Garrett or his wife continued today. Six accounts have been unearthed to date, five in the name of Mrs. Garrett.

Gas Station Held Up Third Time in Year

For the third time within a year a gasoline station at Broadway and Northern Artery, Somerville, was robbed today. It was the second time within the same period that the attendant, Stephen D. Molloy, was held up.

The thief drove up in an auto with a companion. The driver asked for gas. When Molloy went into the office to change a bill after filling the tank, he was followed by the other man, who pressed a gun against his back and ordered him into a wash room. The thief stole $10.

NATION HONORS HOLMES AT 89

Washington, March 8 (AP)—The 89th birthday of Oliver Wendell Holmes was celebrated in the Senate today when it paused in consideration of the tariff to listen to a speech of tribute a short time before the Supreme Court gathered in the conference chamber to extend personal greetings to the venerable jurist.

Hardly had the Senate convened before Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, called attention to the birthday anniversary of his distinguished fellow Bay Stater whose once erect military carriage now is somewhat bowed with age although his step is still firm.

Recalling that the 27 years of service by Justice Holmes set a record for the Supreme Court, Senator Walsh referred to the justice as "one of the noblest and most patriotic members of the American judiciary."

"Few men have been spared to give so many years of service to the nation," he added, explaining that Holmes had been on the highest courts of Massachusetts and on the Supreme bench for a total of 47 years.

It was, so far as Justice Holmes' own arrangements were concerned, only another day spent in attending to pleasant duties. The rest of the day was to be spent quietly. Mrs. Holmes died only a few months ago and anniversaries now do not call for celebration.

Gives Approval to B. & O. Merger

Washington, March 8 (AP)—C. V. Burnside, assistant finance director of the Interstate Commerce Commission, today recommended that the commission approve acquisition by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad of the Buffalo & Susquehanna Railroad, provided all existing routes and channels of trade were kept open.

TODAY

Continued from First Page

ping. Spring lamb for restaurants, spring lambs for bears.

The farm board intends to continue buying wheat, hoping to "push the price back near the $1.18 loan price."

That has a sad sound for farmers who thought Uncle Sam and the board would arrange to get them at least $2.

The board warns wicked speculators not to take advantage by buying at low prices and selling to their Uncle Sam.

SOVIETS BANISH BAPTISTS

Copyright, 1930, by Universal Service, Inc.

London, March 8—While Moslems and Jews as well as Christians are victims of persecutors in Soviet Russia, first reliable reports of persecution of any one Christian denomination have been given to Universal Service by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke, secretary of the Baptist World Alliance.

"There are a million Baptists in Russia," he said, "and information in my hands justifies describing the anti-religious movement as the most carefully organized since the days of Emperor Diocletian.

"The Rev. P. V. Ivanoff Klishnikoff, secretary of the Russian Baptists' Union, has been banished to Siberia, 200 Baptists have been imprisoned without definite charges and several churches seized, including a $100,000 chapel at Novo-Sibersk.

Dies in Hollywood

Hollywood, Cal., March 8—Mira Hershey, 86, philanthropist, died at the Hollywood Hotel, which she owned, after a lengthy illness.

STORM HALTS SHIPPING

A heavy northeast storm with high wind and rain lashing the New England coast, has shipping badly tangled up today.

Both Boston-New York passenger boats were delayed. The Robert E. Lee, due here with 125 passengers, reported she would be four hours late. The George Washington, which cleared the harbor last night, was tied up at the east end of Cape Cod canal until 4 a. m.

Heavy seas and rain, nearly as dense as fog, were reported outside.

A radio from the White Star liner Cedric, due here tomorrow with 400 passengers, said weather conditions would prevent her docking until Monday afternoon.

At Wingaersheek beach, Gloucester, the 75-foot patrol boat C. G. 178, which grounded at high tide yesterday, was still fast in the sand. The crew of eight men were removed to Rase 7, Gloucester, and three boats, the cutter Ossipee and the patrol boats, 154 and 155, were standing by the C. G. 179.

The stranded boat was exposed to the storm and apparently being driven deeper into the bar. There was a possibility that she would be a total loss as the coast guard had failed to float her on two high tides.

Three transatlantic freighters, Tomalva, Darian and Salonica, were held outside Boston harbor waiting for driving weather and several coastwise vessels were delayed.

The storm was predicted to continue until tonight. Colder weather will follow. Rain was general over the coast states from West Virginia to the St. Lawrence valley. There was no cold weather anywhere in the district.

'WIDOW' FIGHTS ERLANGER WILL

New York, March 8 (AP)—Litigation over the millions of Abraham Lincoln Erlanger, czar of the theatre, was forecast today by contradictory statements as to whether he left a widow.

Erlanger, died yesterday at his apartment on Riverside Drive. The superintendent of the apartment building told reporters: Mrs. Erlanger has issued instructions she is not to be disturbed by reporters or anybody else."

"There is no Mrs. Erlanger," said Abraham's brother, Mitchell L. Erlanger, retired justice of the State Supreme Court. "There is no widow. What I am telling you is 100 per cent the truth."

Max D. Steuer announced he had been retained as attorney for "Mrs. Erlanger, in whose arms Abraham L. Erlanger died in the Riverside Drive apartment."

Informed of Mitchell's statement, Steuer said: "Every department store in New York has charge accounts in the name of Mrs. Erlanger with the Riverside Drive address."

Besides a brother, Erlanger is survived by two sisters, Miss Rey Erlanger and Mrs. Carolina Bergman.

Capt. Wood Dies in Paris

Paris, March 8 (AP)—Capt. Edward Wood, Jr., of Philadelphia, 63, is dead here. He served with the 13th Field Artillery during the World War. Burial will be at Arlington Cemetery, Washington.

BARES WITCH DEATH PLOT

Continued from First Page

Marchand, for whom she had served as a model for Seneca Indian groups, and because her love was unrequited, she prayed upon the ignorant older woman to kill Mrs. Marchand with the hope that the artist would marry her.

Walter F. Hofheine, first assistant district attorney, will go before the grand jury Monday to seek first degree murder indictments against the two women, held without bail.

It was learned definitely that Mrs. Bowen was alone when she killed Mrs. Marchand.

MARCHAND'S STORY

Marchand himself informed police that the young squaw ,who with Mrs. Bowen he had met in his studio studies on the Catskill reservation near Gowanda, N. Y., called him up about 1 o'clock the morning of the murder and later visited him at the museum.

He said he consented, at her request, to take her to visit his automobile. Before calling on the artist, it was learned that Lila bought a 10-cent hammer and a bottle of chloroform, which she gave to Mrs. Bowen to kill Mrs. Marchand.

zMrs. Marchand was beaten with the hammer and choked to death with a chloroform-soaked rag.

Taken prisoner in her Catausrgus reservation home, Miss Jimerson revealed the hiding place of Mrs. Bowen.

WHEN PLOT BEGAN

The younger woman said she began last January by suggesting that she and Mrs. Bowen try to get into communication with Chief Charley, Mrs. Bowen's dead husband, in the spirit world by means of the Ouija board.

The old squaw was unable to read the letters on the board and Miss Jimerson formed them into sentences and translated into the Indian tongue what purported to be messages from Charley, saying he had been killed by Marchand and was wandering hungry and distraught in the spirit world waiting to be avenged.

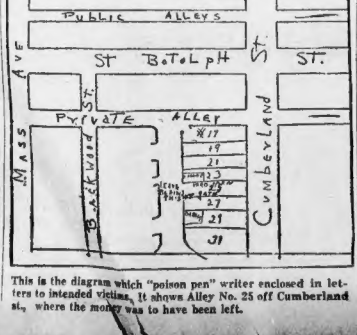
After several sessions with the Ouija board, Miss Jimerson told Mrs. Bowen that the messages spelled out: "Go to 576 Riley st. It's a little house in the rear. It's a little woman. She is short. Her hair is black with gray. It is bobbed. She has some teeth out—upper teeth. She has a polite dog."

Finally Mrs. Bowen agreed to kill Mrs. Marchand, police said Miss Jimerson told them, and went to the Marchand home.

Thomas Barrington Dies

Geneva, March 8 (AP)—Thomas Barrington, delegate of the Irish Free State to the League of Nations tariff truce conference, died today after an illness of several days.

Map Sent Out by 'Mr. X'



This is the diagram which "poison pen" writer enclosed in letters to intended victims. It shows Alley No. 25 off Cumberland st., where the money was to have been left.

Fell to Death

Mrs. Pearl L. de Maret of Washington, D. C., special stenographer to Secretary of State Stimson, who was killed when she accidentally fell from the window of her room in Mayfair Hotel, London, Eng. (International Newsreel photo.)

College Secretary Dies

Northampton, March 8—Miss Elizabeth L. Curtis, 40, secretary of the board of admission at Smith College, died at Dickinson Colley Hospital after a month's illness with typhoid fever.

3300 ALLOTTED TO C. M. T. C.

Maj.-Gen. Preston Brown, commanding the First Corps Area, announced today that the season for enrollments in the Citizens' Military Training Camps in New England will open on March 10.

The War Department's allotment of 3300 trainees for the New England States this year is the largest the local corps area has received.

Four separate camps will be operated under the jurisdiction of the commanding general, First Corps Area.

General Brown stressed the necessity for interested young men filing.

Population Decreasing

Westfield, March 8—The town of Montgomery, already one of the smallest towns of this part of the state of population, is growing smaller. Only 32 families reside there, according to the town's records. There now are 25 vacant dwelling houses there.

"United States" to Be Arrested; Too Much Smoke

Washington, March 8 (AP)—The United States has been named in a warrant charging a violation of the District of Columbia law against excessive smoke.

David Lynn, the Capitol architect, expects it to be served promptly. He has been warned repeatedly by the health department that the smoke customarily emanated from the Capitol was in violation of the statute in question.

The maximum penalty of $100 fine may be imposed. Just who would be the respondent was not clear.

The Post Office Department was hailed into court several years ago on the same charge, convicted and fined.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

In Today's News Answers on Page

1. What is ordered in "rum purchase case"?... 9
2. Who is sought in Poison Pen plot?..... 1
3. When will Vincent Club show be given?.... 4
4. What do Sharkey-Scott pictures show?.... 11
5. What is Curley's edict on graft?..... 9
6. Who was guest of Princess San Faustino?.. 4
7. What college sextets meet tonight?..... 11
8. What Shakespearian plays open Monday?... 6

$1,500,000 TO BE SPENT IN VAST SOUTH STATION IMPROVEMENT

REMODELING TO REQUIRE MONTHS

Wall Will Shut Out the Smoke From Concourse; Whole Interior to Be Arranged

Dtailed plans for remodeling the South Station at a cost of $1,000,000, were announced today, revealing radical changes that will take place in addition to removal of the train shed canopy.

Smoke will be entirely eliminated from the concourse by a solid wall which will separate the concourse from the track platforms. The platforms will be wider, and baggage trucks will be detoured down ramps to a subway to remove them from the path of passengers.

The outer doors of the big station will be at the sidewalk, instead of at the end of a long entrance as at present.

The concourse will be in amber-colored marble. Stores and ticket offices for local stations will line the area opposite the tracks. The information booth will be in the concourse opposite Track 14, together with the board announcing arrival of through trains.

Doors leading to track platforms will be of glass in aluminum frames. A terrazzo floor will be laid. The Pullman and interline ticket offices will be combined and left in the waiting room. The post-office will be shifted to another position. The restaurant and lunchroom will be remodeled.

Because of the necessity of keeping the station open at all times the renovation will take several months.

NAME 5 'OLDEST' PHYSICIANS

The effort to locate the oldest family doctor in New England to participate in the cornerstone exercises of the New England Medical Center has brough quick results.

Five doctors have been nominated by friends. They are Dr. Melvin T. Stone, of Troy, N. Y., 78, who recently completed 50 years in the profession; Dr. C. C. Larabee, Prospect Harbor, Me., 89; Dr. George Darling, South Rye Gate, Vt., 80, who has been a family physician more than 50 years; Dr. Edmund P. Stevens, North Cambridge, 86 who has practised in North Cambridge since 1870, and Dr. William E. Fellows, Bangor, Me., 80, who has practised 50 years.

B. U. Soph Hop

Sophomores at Boston University's college of business administration will hold their annual "Soph Hop" at Hotel Kenmore on Friday, March 28.

Boston Smart Set in Colorful Turn Out to Aid Ellis Memorial at Dance Recital

Miss Margaret Smith, debutante daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Gilbert Smith of Union Park, made a lovely "flower girl" at the Boston Opera House, when the Ellis Memorial was benefitted by the dance recital of Doris Humphreys and Charles Weidman.

Mrs. Benjamin Crowninshield Miss Eleanor Mason Mrs. Francis Higginson

Mrs. Benjamin Davis Crowninshield, Miss Elean or Mason and Mrs. Francis Lee Higginson, Jr., were an attractive trio who sold boutonnieres to the fashionable throng that filled the golden horse shoe. Mrs. Crowninshield was in charge of the large group of debutantes, post debs and young matrons who sold flowers.

Mrs. William Eliot Sharp was among the youthful "ribbon brigade" at the Opera House. All the girls worked hard to garner more dollars for the Ellis Memorial treasury. The chairs in the boxes in the golden horse shoe sold for $50 each.

Know Anything? Ha! Not if He Chooses!

Louisville, Ky., March 8 (AP)—A distinguished gentleman, who stopped in town on his way across the country, was asked sundry questions about this and that by seekers of headline material. "I have no information about anything," he replied affably. His address is now Northampton, Mass. Formerly it was Washington, D. C.

FRENCH FLOOD ROUTS 10,000

Toulouse, France, March 8 (AP)—The people of the stricken French flood regions are rapidly going about the task of repairing damage wrought by overflow of the Garonne and its tributaries.

At Montauban, where 10,000 out of 28,000 inhabitants are without shelter, housing was the first problem faced by authorities, who made a survey of damage in the town.

By almost superhuman efforts the electrical power plant again was put into commission, but it will be two months before the gas plant will be available. There is no drinking water from the usual sources.

Detachments of military engineers from Perpignan and Versailles are on their way to aid in the work of rehabilitation.

Loss of life in the flood may run over the previous high estimates of 500, with Moissac, where 150 perished, the hardest hit of all the towns. Property damage will aggregate many millions.

At Villemur, on the Agout river, rescue workers with provisions had to detour nearly 20 miles to get from one part of the city to another.

Vermont Sends Sympathy to France for Flood Horror

Paris, March 8 (AP)—With sad memories of her own floods the State of Vermont has voiced her sympathy for the flood sufferers of France.

The American embassy today forwarded to the French government the following cablegram received from Governor John E. Weeks:

"The citizens of Vermont are deeply touched by the suffering and loss in France caused by floods. Please convey to President Doumergue our heartfelt sympathy."

25 M. I. T. Students in Business Research

Twenty-five M. I. T. students are making research studies in New England business problems upon suggestion of Col. Frederick H. Payne of Greenfield, member of the New England Council. The results of their research will be presented in theses. Subjects for study were decided on by President S. W. Stratton and Prof. Irwin H. Schell of the institution.

Prince Gets Air License

Buenos Aires, March 8—Louis Ferdinand Hohenzollern, son of the ex-Crown Prince of Germany, has been granted a license as a third-grade sky pilot after a successful test flight in the airdrome here.

Noted Couple in Havana

Photo shows Mr. and Mrs. Edmund McCarthy of New York at the races at Oriental Park, Havana. Mrs. McCarthy is the former Veronica Curry, daughter of John F. Curry, grand sachem of Tammany Hall. McCarthy is a Springfield man. (International Newsreel photo.)

Dry Propaganda of W. C. T. U. Is Barred in Schools

Providence, March 8—Women's Christian Temperance Union circulars, containing propaganda in favor of the national prohibition law, must not be distributed in the East Greenwich schools, the school committee of that town ruled.

Arthur A. Earnshaw, chairman of the board, announced last night that the committee has directed Superintendent Thornton to return 400 pamphlets to the East Greenwich unit of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

U. S. JOINS RUM PLAGUE PROBE

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 8 (AP)—Federal authorities today joined city officials to combat a mysterious malady, with paralytic symptoms, that has stricken 300 persons here. Dr. Walter H. Miles, city health director, said he attributed it to poison liquor or Jamaica ginger.

Two girls of high school age, two physicians, a preacher and five drug store employes are among the stricken.

Some men, who admitted drinking large quantities of "jake" were only slightly affected, he said. Another man demonstrated the paralysis in his feet by sticking pins through the flesh. He said he drank a two-ounce bottle of Jamaica ginger.

Puzzled by the strange malady, officials were at a loss as to what course to pursue. Dr. Miles said it was not contagious.

Schact Calls for Election Meeting

Berlin, March 8 (INS)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, who announced his resignation from the presidency of the Reichsbank yesterday, today summoned the general council of the bank to meet in extraordinary session on March 11 for the purpose of electing his successor.

Stock issues on the Bourse which suffered sharp declines yesterday recovered today.

Baron and Baroness Hunt Tiny Antelope

New York, March 8 (AP)—Baron Rodolphe de Schauensee and the baroness are members of a Philadelphia expedition bound for the Kalahari desert, Rhodesia, especially in search of the rare blue duiker, the smallest known species of antelope, about the size of a rabbit.

To Enact Comedy

The dramatic club of the Mishkon Tefila Junior Council will present, on March 9, "The Poor Nut," a comedy that made a hit here in Boston a few years ago.

FIRST WELDED SHIP BUILT

Charleston, S. C., March 8 (AP)—The "Carolina" first riveteless self-propelled steamship in American maritime history awaits only favorable weather for speed trials and tests on the Atlantic ocean before being placed in service.

Richard F. Smith, a little past 50 years old, is the builder. Reared in the environment of the ship yards at Newport News, Va., Smith for years had dreamed of an all welded ship. Two years ago his plans were completed and he brought his idea to Charles V. Boykin, vice president of the Charleston Dry Dock and Machine Company.

The keel was laid on June 1, 1929, and amid secrecy the work began.

The hull of the ship rose, not with the rat-tat of the pneumatic hammer, but with the hiss of the electric welding apparatus singing the song of industry.

Judge McManus of Framingham Dies

Framingham, March 8—Judge Edward L. McManus, for the past five years first associate justice of the Fourth Middlesex District Court here, died suddenly at his home here. He was in his 61st year.

Judge McManus succumbed to a heart attack after returning to his home from his office. He arose from his bed after taking a nap and started to walk around when he became faint and called to his son, Albert. As his son reached his side he collapsed and died before medical aid could reach him.

Meets Parents After Lapse of 25 Years

New Bedford, March 8—James Houghton of Ogden, Utah, was reunited with his parents in this city after an absence of 25 years. Back in 1905 Houghton left his home in Lancashire, England, to accompany a friend to America.

He settled in the West and had never made any trips to New England. Meanwhile, his parents came from England to this city.

Cat Spurns Life Net; Leaps in Snowbank

Lenox, March 8 (AP)—Dr. E. R. Messer's cat is obstinate. She went to the top of a tall tree and wouldn't descend till a limb broke. And then she refused to fall into a life net which firemen had spread.

She leaped 10 feet beyond it in a snowbank.

Bear Hunting Good in Philly; Cop Bags 1

Philadelphia, March 8 (INS)—A large black bear was killed by a policeman while walking his beat in West Philadelphia early today.

The huge beast was attempting to attack workers in a garage at 40th and Ogden sts.

Profanity "Shows" Columbus Was a Corsican

Paris, March 8 (INS)—Profanity hurled at Christopher Columbus proves he was born in Corsica, according to Canon Castaing, who made an investigation in an effort to settle a controversy over the navigator's nationality.

The words "Damn the Corsican who brought us here," according to Canon Castaing, is engraved on a stone found by Prince Pierre Bonaparte in Haiti, an inscription presumably made by luckless Spaniards whom Columbus had transported to the new world.

Arrest Made, Still Seized in Malden

One man was arrested, a 200-gallon still seized and several hundred gallons of mash were taken by the Malden liquor squad, headed by Sergt. Dennis Holland, in a raid at 3 Fenwick st., that city.

A man who said he was Philip Appel, a painter, of Mills st., Malden, was arrested by the police charged with unlawful manufacture of liquor.

DOHENY READY FOR OIL TRIAL

Washington, March 8 (AP)—What is expected to be the last criminal action growing out of the scandals of the Harding administration will begin Monday with Edward L. Doheny facing a charge of having bribed former Secretary of cute the famous lease on the Elk Hills naval petroleum reserve.

Confident that he will be acquitted, in spite of the fact that Fall was convicted on the same charge a few months ago, Doheny is here ready to take the stand himself and again tell his story of lending $100,000 to Fall, a friend of many years' standing.

Frank J. Horgan, chief counsel for the defense in all the criminal actions arising from the oil leases, will plead Doheny's case, assisted by Joseph J. Cotter, who was counsel for Doheny's Pan-American Company when it negotiated the Elk Hills lease.

FLIERS' BODIES RECOVERED

Los Angeles, Cal., March 8 (INS)—The bodies of Pilots James Doles, A. W. Bieber and Steward John Slaton lie here today awaiting burial. A searching party late yesterday extricated the threee bodies from the battered fuselage of the tri-motored plane which plunged to the bottom of a deep canyon in the San Bernardino mountains.

Culminating a 13-day search for the missing Western Air Express air liner, the rescue party made its way to the crumpled plane after airmen located it Thursday. A storm encountered after leaving Kingman, Ariz., is believed responsible for the crash.

Scattered pieces of wreckage showed that the left wing of the plane struck a mountain peak and the plane tumbled 1000 feet to the canyon's floor.

Holy Ikons Are Destroyed in Russia

Associated Press photo shows peasants of the Bogorodsk district loading holy ikons torn from the walls of a Russian church into a wagon which was to convey them to the town square to be burnt. It is said that more than 5000 ikons went up in flames.

News and Gossip of Society; Forecasts of Events in Greater Boston

VINCENT CLUB TO PRESENT SPECTACLE

ALL PREVIOUS EFFORTS of the exclusive Vincent Club in staging its annual show will be eclipsed this year by the brilliant spectacle to be presented at the Arlington Theater on March 13, 14 and 15. From the opening chorus of society's fairest maidens to the glittering finale of "Jewels," led by Miss Helen Warren, the production will be a parade of beauty and exceptional talent, displayed in a stunning Parisian setting. Having watched the daily rehearsals of "Vincent Virtues and Vices" at the Somerset, I can vouch for the truth of the posters that herald this show as "snappy." Miss Nancy Whitman is to lead the Hurdy Gurdy number with its gay gypsy chorus and Miss Susan Wigglesworth and Miss Susan Hammond will lead the song and dance called, "Just Say," which is especially clever and catchy.

HANDSOME MRS. A. LYNDE COCHRANE will be seen in Dixie Cinderella and in a thistledown waltz number and her performances will be a real treat, she having had professional experience. One of the beautifully costumed numbers is the Apple Blossom chorus, the theme song of the show, and another is the Moonlight ballet. Other numbers on the program are Bubbles, the Silent Prompter, Dancing Shadows (to be led by Miss Dorothea Frothingham), a comic skit known as The Call of Spring, Naughty Nineties, The Russian Cossacks and a Girl for Every Month.

AMATEUR NIGHT WILL BE a comic skit followed by a slave dance, originated by Miss Eugenia Frothingham, and a Boy and Girl number, done by Miss Sally Wambolt and Miss Minna Lindsay. A lovely Lady of Spain, tango dancer, and Castilian Belles provide the motif for more gorgeous costumes and fancy stepping. A Crazy Rhythm promises merriment, but requires skilled dancing. The Jewel chorus will complete a program which will delight a capacity audience at five performances, given for the benefit of the Vincent Memorial Hospital.

MUCH THOUGHT IS BEING given just now to the costumes that the younger set is preparing to wear to the final Junior Supper Dance of the season, at the Copley-Plaza on next Friday evening. At this dance practically the entire cast of "Vincent Virtues and Vices" will be in attendance in costumes worn in the show, coming over from the Arlington Theater after the final curtain falls on their performance. Five hundred or more are expected to throng the ballroom for this event, which will be preceded by many dinners and attended by several out of town guests. Mrs. James J. Jackson, Jr., is active on the dance committee, assisted by Mrs. Daniel Simonds, 2d (Elizabeth Sprague). Philip Dalton has charge of arrangements.

THE CHILTON CLUB WAS the setting for a smart luncheon today when Mrs. George Crompton of Worcester entertained about 20 debutantes in honor of Miss Eleanor Leake, daughter of Mrs. Henry Sabin Leake of New York. Miss Leake has been visiting Mrs. Crompton and following the luncheon today is spending the weekend as the house guest of Miss Katharine Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Thorndike Endicott. She is a debutante of the New York set, having made her formal bow at a dinner at the Ritz before the second Junior Assembly. Miss Leake belongs to the New York Junior League.

SOCIETY'S PHILANTHROPICALLY minded took their places in the golden horseshoe at the Opera House last evening in a rich assortment of evening gowns and wraps that formed a picture in color, while Doris Humphreys and Charles Weidman danced for the Ellis Memorial. Black lace was the choice of many, both the older and younger sets affecting it with bright velvet or white fur wraps. Among those wearing black lace was the distinguished looking Mrs. John Bryant, whose low-rounded bodice was outlined with coral leaves and who carried a coral ostrich feather fan. Miss Rosamond Musgrave's black net frock had a wide ivory hem, while that of Mrs. Francis Lee Higginson, Jr., fell in soft folds to her ankles and had a youthful cape over the shoulders.

BROWN LACE WAS THE choice of Miss Helen Warren, who was in Mrs. Robert H. Stevenson's box with Miss Frances Burnett in blue chiffon and Miss Betty Thomas. Miss Miriam Winslow looked smart in a green and gold lame fitted gown. Miss Nancy Olney's fair skin was brought out by a flame satin gown and her mother, Mrs. Richard Olney, was in black velvet with pearls. A deep fringed green gown, worn with a short white fur jacket, was becoming to Mrs. Thomas J. Morley who had Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. William B. Pratt in her box. Miss Barbara Neville chose black velvet with rhinestone shoulder straps and Miss Miriam Eastabrook blue chiffon with crystal earrings and long white gloves. Mrs. Curtis Guild wore a hand blocked red and black chiffon combined with black lace. She had her sister, Mrs. Vittorio Orlandini, Mr. Orlandini and Maj.-Gen. Clarence R. Edwards in her box.

AROUND OF ENTERTAINING has been planned for Sir Archibald Flower, Lady Flower and their debutante daughter, Miss Evadne Flower, who arrive in Boston tomorrow for a brief stay. Sir Archibald is chairman of the board of governors of the Shakespeare Memorial Theater, at Stratford-on-Avon, of which King George is a patron. He is here in connection with the appearance of the festival company of Shakespeare players in Hollis Theater on March 24, when they open a two weeks' engagement in Shakespearean repertory. Sir Archibald and Lady Flower with Miss Evadne will be guests at a tea given by Guy Waring tomorrow afternoon and on Monday will be luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gray, British consul-general. On Tuesday evening they are the guests of Miss Frances Curtis at the Women's City Club.

OF THE ENTERTAINMENTS coming early in April with charity as its reason is the benefit performance which is to be given in Symphony Hall by Agnes de Mills and Warren Leonard, noted dancers, and Frank Parker, diseur, for the North Bennet St. Industrial School. Friday, April 4, has been selected for this performance and Mrs. George H. Lyman, Jr., and Miss Mary Williams are chairmen of arrangements. In the past the annual benefit for this school has taken the form of an antique sale. Assisting Mrs. Lyman and Miss Williams in making this event a gay one socially are the members of the board of directors, who are Mrs. Carteret Fenno, Mrs. Henry Lyman, Mrs. John Homans, Mrs. Quincy Shaw McKean, Mrs. Robert E. Peabody, Mrs. Roger Warner and Miss Pauline Fenno and Ethel Forbes. Others are Miss Ellen Graves, Miss Katharine Homans and Miss Helene Sharp.

MRS. I. TUCKER BURR, Mrs. Arthur L. Devens, Mrs. Alexander G. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Pervere, Dudley L. Pickman are among those sailing today on the Lapland on her last cruise of the season to Havana, Nassau and Bermuda. Mrs. James J. Storrow is returning to her Bermuda home also today, having spent a brief interlude in Boston. Others who are in New York before setting out on spring vacations include Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Pickman, Mr. and Mrs. David Cheever and Mrs. Malcolm Bradlee, staying at the Savoy-Plaza. Arrivals at the Madison are Mrs. Arthur E. Davis and Mrs. George B. Davis of Dover and Mrs. Constantine Hutchins of Chestnut Hill.

Betty Alden

Miss Priscilla Prince, the debutante daughter of Mrs. Charles B. Prince of Marlborough st., was one of the active members of the Junior League who served as a salesgirl at a recent rummage sale. Miss Prince is among the group of debs who will have a sea voyage in which to recuperate from a strenuous round of parties this season.

Prof. Metivier, Once in Harvard, Dies at 70

New Bedford, March 8—Joseph Metivier, 70, a former professor of French at Harvard University, died at his home in Marstons Mills. Death was due to heart trouble.

Born in Alsace-Lorraine, France, after completing his education in the higher schools and colleges of learning in his native land, he came to this country and became a member of the faculty of Harvard.

During the World War he served with the Y. M. C. A. in South Carolina, resigning his position at Harvard. After the war he became professor of French at Clark University, Worcester.

Honored by League

Miss Margaret Wiesman was elected executive secretary of the Consumers' League of Massachusetts at the annual meeting. Dr. George H. Bigelow, state health commissioner, was the speaker. (Staff photo.)

DRY LAW NOT PARTY ISSUE, REPUBLICAN WOMEN TOLD

REPUBLICAN women were told that prohibition was not a party issue, but that the subject might be discussed at club meetings, provided a vote was not taken and extremists didn't break the club into factions.

Amos L. Taylor, chairman of the Republican State committee, warned the women against any such hazardous situation, yet urged them to work out the subject to their own satisfaction.

The occasion was a luncheon tendered Mrs. Louise M. Dodson, director of the women's division of the National Republican committee, by the Republican women of Massachusetts. The luncheon was held at the Hotel Statler and was presided over by Mrs. Frank Roe Batchelder, vice chairman of the state committee.

Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson was a surprise speaker.

AGAINST DRY LAW

She declared herself to be an anti-prohibitionist, but reminded the women that her goal was, and should be, the same as theirs—temperance for America.

"What I might say may not please most of you, who are in favor of prohibition and think it is working. I am an anti-prohibitionist. I do not think prohibition is working. But let me remind you that our goal is the same. All intelligent Americans are working for temperance and whether you are or are not in sympathy with prohibition, you should be interested in achieving temperance."

Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, national committee woman from Massachusetts, urged the women to have more courages of convictions. Mrs. Franklin W. Hobbs, president of the Women's Republican Club, brought greetings from her organization.

Mrs. Frederick E. Judd, of the children's welfare committee, and vice-chairman of the legislative department of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, quoted President Hoover's message asking support from the country's women on law observance and enforcement of the prohibition laws.

MRS. TILLINGHAST TALKS

Mrs. Frederick E. Bagley, chairman of the Massachusetts Civic League's Child Welfare Committee, stressed the importance of building up a fine young America, upon whom the future of citizenship and prosperity would depend.

Mrs. Anna C. Tillinghast, commissioner of immigration for New England, talked of establishing friendly contacts with those of foreign birth.

Mrs. Sadie Lipner Shulman, speaking for the Jewish group, said they resented segregation and that since we were all American, the party ought to recognize individual worth and forget race or creed.

Others who spoke were Mrs. Helen Whitehouse, Mrs. Severio Romano, Miss Josephine Romanick, Mrs. Robert S. Lovett, Mrs. Agabia N. Maloof and Mrs. Alexander Kevorkian.

CONSUMERS' LEAGUE OF MASSACHUSETTS

"About 400,000 persons in Massachusetts have some form of the more important chronic diseases," Dr. George H. Bigelow, State commissioner of public health, told the annual meeting of the league at 3 Joy st.

Dr. Bigelow, introduced by the league's president, Edward Ingraham, said that this volume was on the increase.

In addition to re-election of the president, the following were named: Mrs. Walter A. Hooley and Mrs. Frank W. Hallowell, vice-president; Hector M. Holmes, treasurer; Mrs. Rodney R. Jarvis, recording secretary, Miss Margaret Wiesman, executive secretary.

TENTH DISTRICT CONFERENCE

Wednesday is the opening date for the conference of the tenth district, of which Mrs. Lewis R. Hovey of Haverhill is director. The Shawsheen Village Women's Club will be hostess, and Mrs. William A. Green the president will welcome the club women.

YOUTH CONFERENCE

At the luncheon of the Youth Conference on March 14, which is to be held at Hotel Statler, under the sponsorship of the American Home Department of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, the honor guests will include the following:

Mrs. Asel A. Packard, Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, Governor and Mrs. Frank G. Allen, Miss Jane L. Mesnick, Dean of Simmons College; Mrs. Lucy Franklin, Dean of Women at Boston University; Mrs. Margaret Stannard, director of the Garland School of Homemaking; Mrs. Della Thompson Lutes, of the Priscilla Proving Plant; Mrs. Amy Young Burns, music chairman of the State Federation; Mrs. Archibald M. Hume, originator of the Youth Conference; Mrs. Ralph H. Read, chairman of the American Home Dept. of the State Federation.

STATE HOUSE WOMEN'S CLUB

Miss Ethel M. Johnson, assistant commissioner of labor, is chairman of the program for the dinner meeting at the Women's Republican Club, 46 Beacon st., next Monday at 6 p. m.

WORCESTER WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. Edward Franklin White of Indiana, will speak Wednesday in Tuckerman Hall at 3 p. m. on Law Observance. She is to be remembered as former first vice-president of the general federation.

Nancy Brewster

$500,000 FUND FOR COLLEGE

Within the last five months Williams College has been able to raise $500,000 toward a proposed addition of $1,500,000 to her endowment funds, of which prospective total about $1,200,000 is now in hand, contributed by 99 alumni.

President Harry A. Garfield of the college, class of '85, made the announcement to about 150 members of the Boston Williams Alumni Association at their annual dinner at the University Club.

Damond E. Hall, '97, president of the alumni, announced that it was the largest attendance in the history of the organization.

President Garfield spoke with deep feeling of the late Edward Bok and Mrs. Bok in recognition of their interest in Williams, which prompted them to donate $150,000 of the above contributions, their gift to be for a "Woodrow Wilson professorship."

Liberals End Truce on Unemployment

London, March 8 (AP)—Liberal party headquarters issued a statement today saying that from Monday on the Liberals will maintain constant pressure on the Laborite government with regard to the unemployment policy.

The statement was interpreted as meaning that the truce between the Labor government and the Liberal party on the question of unemployment is at an end. The Canadian Press correspondent in London today said the Liberals will join the Conservatives in condemning the government's methods of dealing with unemployment and trade depression.

General Meriwether Takes Hub Post

Brig.-Gen. Meriwether L. Walker, who came here about a year ago from the Canal Zone, of which he had been governor-general, today took over the headquarters command of the 1st Corps Area from Maj.-Gen. Preston Brown.

Gen. Brown on Monday becomes deputy chief of staff of the United States army, a Washington tour of duty.

Crack Navy Flier Allowed to Resign

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Rear-Admiral Richard Leigh, acting chief of naval operations, announced today that the resignation submitted yesterday by Lieut. Alford J. Williams, crack Navy racing pilot, would be signed by Acting Secretary of the Navy Jahncke within a week and would become effective within two months of the date of signing.

Newton High Wins Dartmouth Plaque

Hanover, N. H., March 8—The Dartmouth Plaque, awarded each year to the secondary school whose delegation in the freshman class at Dartmouth has the highest scholastic average, was this year won by the Newton high school of Newtonville, Mass.

The Newton delegation of five men averaged slightly under "B." They were represented by Norman H. Payne, Richard G. Rice, Alden Spears and Charles S. Webster.

This Modern World

Edited by ANN ARDEN

A Department Devoted to Fashions, Decoration and Social Customs

Bows Return to Their Own and They Adorn Frocks, Hats and Accessories

A FEW seasons ago bows were merely fussy bits which the well-dressed woman would not have tolerated on her most naive frock—but the fashion pendulum has swung back to the furbelow period and bows have returned to their own. Frocks, hats and accessories admit that fashion is being courted by bows this spring and, lest you be a bit behind the trend, it would be well to capture a bow or two for yourself.

The charming gown pictured is of fine lace in all-over pattern, and with finely pleated ruffles of net, four on the skirt, and one finishing the edge of the bertha cape, which gives such a soft becoming line over the shoulders, and dips a few inches lower across the back.

THE long princess line is not broken, but enhanced, by the soft ruffles on the skirt.

The gown is in a delightful shade of lime green; and the perky bows, like lighting butterflies, are of yellow velvet—one below the left shoulder and the others topping the skirt ruffles on sharp little upward points on a line below the right hip.

The springlike color combination in this frock, and the restrained good taste of its rather dramatic lines, make it an ideal choice for a maid-of-honor costume, not to mention its appeal for spring and summer attendance at weddings, garden parties and informal dances. Of course, one could order it in other delectable color combinations.

The model has dainty silver brocade slippers, with crystal ornaments; a necklace of crystal, with baguette center drop; bracelets of crystal, and simulated emeralds, and the newly-smart single pearl ring.

COLORS are soft and lovely this season in keeping with the softened lines of the new mode. As usual, white leads, but this season it appears in pure and more creamy tones, as opposed to the almost beige off-white of last season. Next in importance are the peachy pink tints, then a soft blue, with just a touch of green, clear yellow and citron yellow; pale prune, nearer the apple green than the chartreuse tones; orchid with an overtone of pink.

Gloves are definitely a necessary part of daytime and evening wardrobes nowadays. A novelty such as the suede glove in color for evening can be put to use to individualize the costume and point up an evening frock. Gloves in 24-button length, rather wide above the elbow, were shown with many of the evening gowns in the recent Paris openings. Deep rose gloves were worn with a rose and beige printed chiffon. Green gloves in a slightly darker shade accompanied a light green chiffon frock.

IRENE DANA, the clever Paris designer, creates a new note for a glove by sewing a printed chiffon scarf at the end of the elbow length glove—the chiffon matching the dress.

All white for evening, newly popular, makes very good use of jewelry in color that takes its inspiration from the flower garden and the floral jewels of the Napoleonic era. White satin with brilliant accents of emerald, ruby or sapphire is beautifully formal. White Chantilly accompanied by gay colorful jewelry takes on new graceful fragility. White slippers ornamented with jeweled buckles carry out this unusual color scheme. The jewels, needless to say, need not always be genuine in this day of costume jewelry.

Model from F. P. O'Connor Co.

HOOVER CLASS ON VACATION

Dark Hollow, Va., March 8—Due to the illness of Christine Vest, teacher, President Hoover's mountain school, is closed for a week.

The Yosemite, Kye girl has capitulated to the flue. She has been confined to the schoolhouse with only Paulin Burraker, 13, for company.

Four and one-half days after school opened and the eager pupils had just learned to spell "cat," the teacher was forced to go to bed in the bright cheery room Mrs. Hoover had furnished for her in the schoolhouse.

Dr. G. F. Boss of Criglersville, eight miles away, has made almost daily trips to where the little schoolhouse is perched high on the purple slopes.

Little George Burraker has struggled up the steep incline from his home, a quarter of a mile away, to carry wood for her.

Mrs. R. W. Sore of Criglersville sends up milk and flowers. The marines stationed near the President's summer camp on the Rapidan, take up her mail.

Villagers Protest Route of Turnpike

Worchester, March 8—More than 100 residents of Fayville village, many of them property owners, attended an informal hearing in the offices of the county commissioners on the route to be taken through that town by the new Boston and Worcester highway to be constructed this summer.

The various blueprints were studied by the abutters and many went on record as protesting the change in the layout of the turnpike which they claim will ruin their property and cause wholesale reductions in valuations in the main portion of the village.

Woburn Boy First in West Point Exam

Washington, March 8—Leo William Henry Shaughnessy of Laurel st., Woburn, finished first in a civil service examination to determine Senator Walsh's appointments to West Point, the War Department has announced.

Three examinations were held in January and Senator Walsh automatically certified the three named presented to him. The first alternate is James Edward Walsh of 6th st., South Boston, and the second alternate is John J. Foley of Circuit ave., Worcester.

Kentucky Governor Vetoes Gift Park Bill

Frankfort, Ky., March 8—Governor Flem D. Sampson vetoed the bill providing for acceptance of Coleman DuPont's offer to purchase Cumberland Falls for $250,000, and give it to Kentucky for a state park.

The House quickly [illegible] the veto, 69 to 23. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Daily Antique No. 41

The piece shown today is of unusual character, and quite rare. It is a pine desk, with hinged top and pedestal base. On the desk is an old pewter ink pot. The two articles date from the late 1700's or early in the nineteenth century. They come from a small town in northern Maine, and were originally part of the equipment of a Sunday school in a country church.

The desk and inkpot are owned by Owen Rossitur, well-known Boston collector of 33 Newbury st.

In connection with the Massachusetts Tercentenary Year, the Boston Evening American will publish from day to day interesting specimens of authentic antiques. Readers possessing genuine antiques, particularly articles of Colonial or early American origin or of historic association, are invited to forward photographs and records for publication. In case no photograph is available, the American will send one of its staff cameramen to photograph your antique if you live in Greater Boston. Material should be addressed to "Antique Editor, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston."

Colds QUICKLY YIELD TO FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE NO DOPE

MRS. HEARST ROYAL GUEST

By PRINCE PIGNATELLI

(Universal Service Special Cable)

Rome, March 8—A dinner and dance was given here in honor of Mrs. William Randolph Hearst by the Princess Jane Campbell San Faustino.

The affair was the first of a series of social functions arranged in honor of Mrs. Hearst during the ensuing week. It is expected that she will be received by the Pope and King Victor Emanuel and Queen Helena during the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Hearst will be honor guest at a dinner and opera party given by Alexander Kirk, of the American embassy. On Sunday Mrs. Hearst will be the guest of King Gustaf of Sweden at luncheon, afterward attending a dinner and reception at the Palazzo Colonna as the guest of the Prince and Princess Colonna.

The American embassy will give a reception in her honor on Monday and on the following day a dinner and reception will be tendered by the Princess Del Drago. On Wednesday the Princess Al Tripi will be her hostess at dinner.

MARTHA LEE

well known household economist

OF THE

Boston Evening American

will appear

IN PERSON

at the

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

as a special feature of an unusually fine program

Every Day at 11:25

for one week

Beginning March 13

TWO SONS WENT TO WAR, ONE RETURNED

Mothers were the "second line of defense" in the World War, as in all wars. Now the government is going to send to France, that they may view the last resting place of their hero sons, the Gold Star mothers of America, those mothers whose sons made the supreme sacrifice. Today the Boston Evening American presents the 11th in a series of biographical sketches of heroes who gave their lives in the war—sketches made by the Gold Star mothers or widows themselves.

The men folks in the family of Mrs. Clara Briggs of 292 Temple st., West Roxbury, were military minded.

Mrs. Briggs sent two sons to war, one of whom lies in a poppy-covered grave in France.

While the two boys were overseas doing their bit, their father showed his patriotism by serving with Co. K, 10th Regiment, of the Massachusetts State Guard, recruited for home service in place of the national guardsmen called to war. The grandfather of the young men of the A. E. F. was a Civil War veteran.

With this military background, it was not surprising to find Albert Lester Briggs and Charles Franklin Briggs enlisting very shortly after the war was on.

Charles was the boy who has a hero's grave in France. Albert was a Yankee Division member. Charles joined up on Boston Common when only 18 years old. He went over with the 30th Infantry, 3rd Division, in Company G.

The youngster had plenty of action in the two battles which he went through.

"It makes you see red when your buddy is killed besides you," he wrote home.

On the day after Quentin Roosevelt was killed, young Briggs was in action. A bombardment began.

"You're going to be killed today," a member of his outfit called to Charles.

The West Roxbury boy knew his chum was "trying to be funny," but all the same Charles answered seriously.

"I don't care," he replied. "If I can give a good account of myself."

Survivors of the battle related how impressed they were with the youth who had enlisted because of an ideal.

Within a short time after enlistment, Charles was promoted to corporal. He seemed to enjoy studying military technique and appeared to be a natural leader.

Charles had tried to enlist in the marines the day after war was declared, but they decided against his youthful appearance.

The boy had been a Western Union messenger and later a clerk for the Holtzer-Cabot Co. He went to the High School of Commerce.

The last letter which Charles wrote home was penned on Mother's Day, a fact which his mother will always remember.

On Monday, the Boston Evening American will tell of the remarkable record of the Whelen family of Natick. Five boys served in the war, one of them meeting death. He was killed in

THE WEATHER

For Boston and vicinity—Rain until 8 or 9 o'clock tonight followed by cloudy and colder with temperatures falling to about 28 by morning; Sunday fair with temperatures generally below 40 and probably freezing again Sunday night; strong shifting winds becoming northerly and diminishing tonight.

For Southern New England—Cloudy with rain this afternoon and probably in Massachusetts until early tonight; colder tonight; Sunday fair; strong shifting winds and gales becoming westerly this afternoon and diminishing tonight.

For Northern New England—Rain or snow and colder tonight; Sunday generally fair preceded by rain or snow on the east Maine coast; easterly gales shifting to northeast or west and diminishing late tonight.

For Eastern New York—Mostly cloudy and colder, probably light snow in north and central portions tonight; Sunday fair with slowly rising temperature; strong northeast winds and probably gales diminishing tonight.

OCEAN FORECAST

Steamers departing today for European ports will have northwest or west gales and overcast weather with occasional rain on the Grand Banks.

OBSERVATIONS AT BOSTON AT 8 A. M.

Barometer ..... 29.44 inches
Temperature ..... 40 degrees
Wind ..... Northeast, 10 miles
Humidity ..... 96 per cent
Sky ..... Rain
Precipitation previous 24 hours ..... .23 inches
Maximum temperature yesterday ..... 38 deg.
Minimum temperature last night ..... 37 deg.

The Weather in Other Localities

Stations	Temperature—8 A.M. today	Max. yester-day	Min. last night	Weather 8 A.M. today
Atlantic City	44	50	42	Cloudy
Bismarck, N. D.	20	32	18	Clear
Buffalo	32	46	32	Snow
Calgary	22		20	Clear
Charleston, S. C.	54	62	52	Clear
Chicago	32	38	30	Cloudy
Cincinnati	34	44	34	Cloudy
Denver	26	46	26	Clear
Eastport, Me.	34	38	34	Cloudy
Hatteras	58	62	56	Clear
Helena, Mont.	26	42	24	Clear
Huron, S. D.	22	32	22	Clear
Jacksonville	54	66	52	Clear
Kansas City, Mo.	36	56	36	Clear
Key West	66	82	66	Rain
Los Angeles	52	66	50	Cloudy
Memphis	52	64	42	Clear
Miami, Fla.	68	76	62	Rain
Montreal	28	40	28	Rain
Nantucket	44	48	42	Rain
New Orleans	54	72	54	Clear
New York	44	54	36	Clear
Norfolk, Va.	54	58	54	Cloudy
No. Platte, Neb.	30	50	30	Clear
Philadelphia	46	50	42	Rain
Phoenix, Ariz.	48	70	36	Clear
Pittsburgh	38	46	38	Rain
Portland, Me.	36	40	36	Rain
Raleigh	52	58	52	Cloudy
St. Louis	36	54	36	Cloudy
St. Paul	20	36	20	Clear
Salt Lake City	28	44	30	Clear
San Francisco	50	60	50	Clear
Santa Fe, N. M.	22	40	20	Cloudy
Seattle	38	48	36	Cloudy
Tampa	62	74	62	Cloudy
Washington	44	54	44	Rain
Wichita, Kan.	34	54	30	Clear
Williston, N. D.	26	36	26	Clear

CALENDAR FOR SATURDAY, MARCH 8

Sun rises 6:10
Sun sets 5:42
Length of day ..... 11 hrs. 32 min.
Moon sets ..... 1:39 a. m.
High tide ..... 4:27 a. m.; 5:08 p. m.
Ht. of tide 9.9; 10.2 ft. a. m.; 8.1; 9.0 p. m.
Full moon, March 14, 1h. 58m., evening, E. S. T.
Last qr., March 21, 10h. 12m., evening, E. S. T.
New moon, March 29, 4h. 46m., morning, E. S. T.
First qr., April 6, 6h. 26m., morning, E. S. T.

War Took Her Baby

Mrs. Clara Briggs of 292 Temple st., West Roxbury, saw her two sons march off to war, and only one of them returned. Charles, only 18, lies in hero's grave in France. (Staff photo.)

an air raid when a bomb wiped out 46 men at once.

(The Boston Evening American wishes to warn Gold Star Mothers that an imposter is at work, falsely representing himself as an agent of this newspaper in an endeavor to sell various articles. This series is designed solely as a news feature, paying tribute to the memory of the boys who lie buried in France. No charge of any sort is being made by this newspaper, nor is there any attempt to sell war souvenirs. — Editor).

Poultney Bigelow to Chop With ex-Kaiser

New York, March 8 (AP)—Poultney Bigelow, septuagenarian litterateur, who thinks Wilhelm Hohenzollern is a much maligned man, is on his way to Doorn to chop wood with him and talk over the war.

SECRETS OF BIG DRUG RINGS REVEALED

San Francisco, March 8—How the Al Capone and Arnold Rothstein dope rings operated on the Pacific coast has been revealed to the Government by "Black Tony" Parmagini, convicted overlord of the drug pedlars of the West.

This much was evident, though U. S. Atty. George J. Hatfield and other Federal officers refused flatly to discuss the disclosures made in the interview Parmagini sought with Hatfield last Thursday.

Facing a sentence of 17 years in the penitentiary and a fine of $24,000 on a first conviction, besides being held without bail, "Black Tony" realized that the only way he can get any "breaks" is to give the Government real assistance in their war on dope and dope peddlers. That is his reason for talking, officers declare.

BOSS ON WEST COAST

Among the revelations it is understood "Black Tony" has made are these:

That he was the generalissimo on the whole Pacific coast of the Al Capone ring, which made Chicago its headquarters.

That Jack Sieman, now a fugitive in Canada, occupied a similar position here for the Arnold Rothstein ring.

That he has revealed the workings of the Bolshevik dope ring on the Pacific Coast and also in the East, though it involves Eastern members of his own gang. He has protected his own gang here.

That he has told whose hand it was necessary to "grease" in the South, where he made his headquarters in Los Angeles for some time, in order to get dope across the border and distribute it without molestation.

SPEED APPEAL HEARING

Hatfield today petitioned the circuit court of appeals to set the earliest date possible for the hearing of Parmagini's appeal. May 5 was the date set, but the court promised to advance this date if Parmagini's counsel requests it. Parmagini's attorneys have intimated that they prefer to take the matter of bail for "Black Tony" to the U. S. Supreme Court. Hatfield claims Parmagini will jump the country if released on bail.

Parmagini is the one man now available to the government who can reveal the details and ramifications of the nation wide dope ring, and the federal officers are determined to hold him until they get all possible details as to the ring's operations.

REPEAL OF DRY LAW REJECTED

Providence, March 8 — Voting along strictly party lines, the Republican majority in the House rejected two Democratic requests for discharge of the House special legislative committee from further consideration of two measures designed to repeal the Sherwood state prohibition enforcement law.

Demands for discharge of the committee were made by Rep. McCoy of Pawtucket, Democratic floor leader, and Rep. Kiernan, Democrat, Providence. Both declared the Bodwell prohibition referendum resolution that passed was only an empty political gesture of the Republican machine and said the real test was in the repeal of the Sherwood enforcement law.

Repair Man Breaks $50,000 Bowl in Edsel Ford Home

Detroit, March 8 (INS)—The Rhages bowl, one of the world's finest art treasures, valued at $50,000 and owned by Edsel Ford, has been smashed into half a hundred pieces.

It was wrecked by a repair man, who dropped the cover of a console on the priceless bit of pottery while repairing a pipe organ in the Ford home.

The object is known as the King and Queen's bowl. It dates back to the 11th century.

HOOVER SEES TRADE BOOM

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE
Universal Service

Washington, March 8 — The United States will return to normal prosperity levels within the next 30 or 60 days, President Hoover announced, following a cabinet meeting at which the whole business and unemployment situation was carefully reviewed.

The President said that within that time the major effects of the recent stock market depression will have been overcome, that the industries of the country would be resuming normal activities and that unemployment would be relieved.

The President in a statement gave this survey of the situation:

"The Departments of Commerce and Labor are engaged in the usual monthly survey of business and unemployment and especially of the results obtained from the measures which have been in progress since the last of November, to reduce unemployment and the hardship following the dislocation from the stock exchange crash. The survey is not as yet complete. There are, however, certain conclusions that are evident."

'COMPANIONATE HUSBAND' FAILS IN LOVE SUIT

Chicago, March 7 (AP)—Judge Michael L. McKinley today ruled that a husband who shirks the responsibilities of marriage by, what the court termed an "amazing" companionate agreement, cannot collect damages when the romance collapses.

The judge directed a jury in Superior Court to refuse damages to Leo D. Dolan, 22, University of Chicago student, who asked $50,000 from his father-in-law, Edgar Roth architect, alleging alienation of affections of Mrs. Virginia Roth Dolan, 22.

The couple were married in September, 1928, after they had signed a pre-nuptial agreement which, offered in evidence, Judge McKinley characterized "most amazing."

Among other things, it provided: Virginia should not contract bills in Leo's name.

Each was to pursue respective courses at the University of Chicago.

Virginia was to be allowed to teach school until 1933, but no farther away from Leo than 600 miles.

Either could object to any company the other kept.

The agreement was to take precedence in event of a clash with law.

Testimony was that the couple lived together only a short time.

Steamship Towed In

New York, March 8—The steamship Edward Luckenbach, which grounded January 10, 10 miles south of Block Island while en route from New York to Boston has been towed into port.

Resigns From Navy to Try Speed Flight

Washington, March 8—Alford J. Williams, former football and baseball star, who has flown 266 miles an hour, faster than any other American, submitted his resignation from the navy.

Williams announced in his formal resignation, effective in two months, that he would organize a plan to build a plane to recapture the world's speed record for the United States.

Woman Found Dead Seated in Her Auto

Mrs. Elizabeth Thayer of West st., Quincy, was found dead seated in an automobile in front of the residence of her son, Joseph Thayer, in Copeland st., Quincy. Death was due to a heart malady, according to Medical Examiner F. E. Jones.

Discovery of Mrs. Thayer's body was made by the Rev. John F. O'Riordon of St. Mary's Church, Quincy, as he was passing the automobile.

Help Your Kidneys!

Deal Promptly with Kidney Irregularities.

KIDNEY disorders are too serious to ignore. It pays to heed the early signals. Scanty, burning, or too frequent kidney excretions; a drowsy listless feeling; lameness, stiffness and constant backache are timely warnings. Heed them!

To promote normal kidney action and assist your kidneys in cleansing your blood of poisonous wastes, use Doan's Pills. Are endorsed the world over. Sold by dealers everywhere.

50,000 Users Endorse Doan's:

Mrs. W. E. Paxton, 8337 Second Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "Backaches, dizzy spells and headaches troubled me. I was tired and droopy and at times spots and specks blurred my sight. I was lame and sore all over. The kidney secretions burned and contained sediment. Since taking Doan's Pills I haven't been bothered with these troubles."

Doan's Pills
A Stimulant Diuretic to the Kidneys

MARION DAVIES

The Screen's Merriest Star in the Year's Cleverest Talkie!

Not So Dumb

KING VIDOR'S

screaming production of "Dulcy" the great Kaufman-Connelly stage hit!

BROADWAY hailed it as the smartest comedy of years. The screen brings it to you in a distinguished All Talk, All Laugh edition that will win your cheers!

with
ELLIOTT NUGENT
RAYMOND HACKETT

A METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER
ALL TALKING Picture
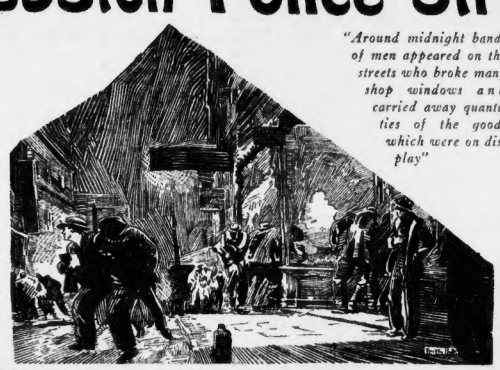
LAST 2 DAYS
LOEW'S STATE
MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE

CALVIN COOLIDGE

Tells About The

Boston Police Strike



"Around midnight bands of men appeared on the streets who broke many shop windows and carried away quantities of the goods which were on display"

". . . Soon Samuel Gompers began to telegraph me asking the removal of Mr. Curtis and the reinstatement of the union policemen. This required me to make a reply . . . that 'There is no right to strike against the public safety by any body, any time, any where.' This issue I took to the people in my campaign for re-election as Governor."

Read how the former President met the emergency . . . why he supported Curtis . . . and other comments on this dramatic event, which brought him nation-wide prominence, and eventually election to the highest office in the land.

"Pope Pius Encyclical goes to very bottom of today's education problem," says Rev. Virgil Michel in a comprehensive article.

"Refueling in Skies Will Revolutionize Passenger Flying Within 10 Years." Capt. Ira C. Eaker, U. S. Army Corps, tells why.

"Civilization owes its advance to mighty stimulus of business." A timely article by Dr. Julius Klein, Asst. Sec. of Commerce.

Many Other Striking Articles—Tomorrow in the BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER

Stage Screen Music

AVON'S BARD IN LENTEN PORTION

By NICHOLAS YOUNG

HAVING tested the valor and endurance of the faithful playgoer with six months of fluff and flurry, and a dip here and there into the erotics of the theater, the drama's master minds appear to have caught the idea that the town is ripe for a grand conclave of the classics. Will Shakespeare is pounding at the door—and he's going to slip through the outer gates at the Wilbur on Monday, when the lamentations of "King Lear" will be given in full cry by Fritz Leiber.

* * *

BUT that is only a taste of what the gentlemen in charge of booking arrangements have in store for the constant student. Following two weeks of Mr. Leiber, who proposes to make nightly changes in his playbill, there will trickle into the drama's temples two weeks of the Stratford-on-Avon Festival Company at the Hollis which, like

Nicholas Young

Mr. Leiber, gives its time and talents only to the illustrious and immortal bard. Like meat in the sandwich, we are now apprised, Walter Hampden is to be inserted into this Olympian feast with two weeks of his own stern drama, starting with "Richelieu" but paying full tribute to Avon's popular dramatist with fulsome emphasis on the dolors of "Hamlet."

* * *

THEREFORE, there will be six concentrated weeks of solemn drama—most of it Shakespeare. As it turns out, the prospects may be encouraging, even in the face of customary Lenten abnegations. There are many, among the virtuous and intellectual, that clutch at Shakespeare as a duty and not as passing entertainment. These you will find lined up in battle array to give Mr. Leiber a smart welcome. Already it is discovered, Mr. Leiber's performance in "Hamlet" next Tuesday shows a clean sell-out.

* * *

AS Mr. Leiber will stride through the role of Hamlet four times during his visit; as Mr. Hampden pins great faith upon his own performance in the same role and will show it at the Wilbur a week later; and as the visiting troupe from Stratford at the Hollis during the same period, will take two artistic flings at the same tragedy, it will be seen at a glance that the mad Prince of Denmark may be very much in the playgoer's eye during the next four weeks.

* * *

WHILE all this is going on at the Wilbur and the Hollis, George M. Cohan with his own play, "Gambling," will strive in a personal way to avoid the classics and keep ablaze the Tremont's lately bedimmed lights.

All the World's Still a Stage, and all the Men and Women Are Merely Players

ISABEL BARING AND MARY PHILIPS

THIS SISTERLY attitude is struck during the action in "Gambling," coming to the Tremont Monday. Miss Baring seems to be seeking consolation in the arms of Miss Philips.

EVELYN HERBERT

MISS HERBERT is a most alluring leading lady. She is resplendent in "The New Moon" now at the Shubert. She sings, plays, dances and is far more than passing fair. She is beautiful.

FRITZ LEIBER AND JOHN FORREST

MR. LEIBER APPEARS as King Lear at the Wilbur Monday night. His company will remain in Boston for two weeks. The repertory will be entirely of Shakespearian drama.

Real Class

ROSALIND RUSSELL

MISS RUSSELL is one of Mr. Clive's performers in "A Night Off" at the Copley.

THAN THE PEN THE PLAY IS MIGHTIER

GEORGE M. COHAN wields a strange influence on playwrights. He makes them want to act. When any one does something that will stop a playwright from playwrighting, that is news. Last season there was A. E. Thomas, author of "Vermont," who had almost to be tied to prevent him from playing the revenue agent in his own play. He finished as an actor.

This season there is Robert Middlemass, the police inspector in Mr. Cohan's "Gambling," at the Tremont.

Mr. Middlemass is one step ahead, or rather 12 steps ahead, of his competing manuscript manipulators, he has had good engagements in as many plays as he has written—12 in all. He differs from the rest because none of his work has been produced—that is, none of his full length effusions. Bert Lytell played in a vaudeville skit of his and so have others, but nobody has shown the proper spirit to stage one of his bigger writings. Mr. Middlemass said:

"When I asked Mr. Cohan for a word or two it so happened that I had a bundle of manuscripts under my arm. He quickly told me he wasn't reading plays.

"I lost no time in telling him I was an actor more than a playwright. He seemed so pleased to learn that I wasn't trying to sell him a play that, in his confusion, he engaged me to appear in 'Gambling.'"

HOOT MON! 'TIS HE HIMSELF

SIR HARRY LAUDER, noted singing comedian, who appears with his company of entertainers at the Colonial next week, writes most of his own songs, but rarely "tries them out on the public" until they have been thoroughly tested in private and carefully fitted with effective costuming and the conversational "patter" that adds so greatly to the enjoyment of his programs. The comedian does not believe in taking "snap judgment" on his songs, and some of his most effective song characterizations have been held back several seasons until he was personally satisfied that they had reached the standard required by his public.

Sir Harry Lauder

"I'm Lookin' for a Bonnie Lass to Love Me," was carried about in the singer's musical consciousness for three years before it was finally offered to the public.

Last season Sir Harry outlined a song which he entitles "The Pirate," and during the past summer during his engagements in New Zealand, it was offered from time to time for the entertainment of his friends—but only in private. When it is finally made known to America it will be offered as a new feature of his program.

Stanley Lichtenstein

Stanley Lichtenstein, tenor, will give his first Boston recital in Jordan Hall on Saturday afternoon, March 29. Mr. Lichtenstein will be accompanied by Jessie Fleming Voze.

Screen Star

BETTY COMPSON

MISS COMPSON is in "The Great Gabbo" at the Modern, Beacon and Egyptian.

MOTORS GAVE HIM LIFT

CLARENCE BROWN, director of Greta Garbo's first all-talking picture, "Anna Christie," film feature at Loew's State next week, was an automotive engineer before entering films in 1915. The director who first brought Gilbert and Garbo together in "Flesh and the Devil," was born at Knoxville, Tenn., May 10, 1890. He attended the local schools and later matriculated at the University of Tennessee. His first job on winning his sheepskin was with the engineering department of the Moline Auto Company. He next held an important post with the Steven-Duryea Company of Chicopee Falls. The Brown Motor Company, of Birmingham, Ala., was incorporated next with Brown as owner.

Brown began his screen career as assistant director with Maurice Tourneur.

Shakespearean Bill

The repertoire of Fritz Leiber and company at the Wilbur next week follows:
Monday—"King Lear."
Tuesday—"Hamlet."
Wednesday Mat.—"As You Like It."
Wednesday Eve.—"Merchant of Venice."
Thursday—"Macbeth."
Friday—"Julius Caesar."
Saturday Mat.—"Hamlet."
Saturday Eve.—"Twelfth Night."

Next Week's New Playbills

TREMONT—George M. Cohan in his own play, "Gambling." The story of a square-shooting gambler, with adventures in criminal investigation. Included in the supporting cast are Mary Phillips, Robert Middlemass, Isabel Baring, Harold Healy, Douglas MacPherson, Jack Leslie and Lida McMillen. Produced and staged by Mr. Cohan.

* * *

WILBUR—Fritz Leiber in Shakespearean repertoire, starting on Monday with "King Lear." During the first week a nightly change of bill is announced. Included in the supporting cast are Virginia Bronson, Vera Allen, Marie Collier, Olga Lee, Virginia Stevens, Louis Leon Hall, Lawrence H. Cecil, John Burke, Philip Quinn, Robert Straus and John Forrest. Produced by the Chicago Civic Shakespeare Society.

* * *

COLONIAL—Sir Harry Lauder and his company of assisting players. Mr. Lauder, international character and perhaps the world's most spectacular one-man entertainer, brings new creations as well as old. In the supporting company are the Arnaut Brothers, imitators of birds; Kharum, Persian pianist; Fleurette Joeffrie, soprano, and Don Julian, caricaturist. Directed by William Morris.

* * *

COPLEY—"A Night Off," a revival of Augustin Daly's well seasoned but always popular farce. The story of a scholarly professor who has written a play. Mr. E. E. Clive gives himself the role of the professor. In the supporting cast are May Ediss, who returns to the Stuart st. playhouse for this engagement; Richard Whorf, Ralph Roberts, Ian Emery, Esther Mitchell, Francis Compton, Elspeth Dudgeon, Katherine Gilchrist and Gerald Rogers. Staged by E. E. Clive.

Povla Frijsh

Povla Frijsh, the Danish song interpreter, will give her second and last Boston concert this season in Jordan Hall next Saturday afternoon. Celius Dougherty, pianist, will again be her accompanist.

Musical Art Quartet

The third and last concert of the series this season will be given by the Musical Art Quartet in Jordan Hall next Wednesday. The quartet will be assisted by Felix Fox, in the Brahms Quintet.

Waltz Me Around Again, Donald

DONALD BRIAN

MR. BRIAN IS apparently as young as ever. He sings and swings through "The Merry Widow," now at the Majestic, with all his former glory. The sketch is by Artist Charles Schmidt.

YOUTH STEPS OUT AND UP FOR DRAMA

FOR some years past, theater managers have bewailed the fact that they could not fill their galleries. In a general way, theatrical productions had to exist on the higher-priced patronage downstairs. The real profit comes from the additional income from seats sold at a lower scale.

"Little Accident" encountered a condition approximating this when it opened at the Plymouth. But at every performance insufficient seats in the orchestra and boxes drove some of the overflow patronage upstairs, where it found it could enjoy the performance equally as well.

But the lack of real demand for gallery seats caused the management of the Dell-Mitchell comedy some anxiety. Here was something extraordinary in comedies; and comedies 15 or more years ago always sold the low-priced tickets first. What had become of such patronage?

The management discovered there was an increasing demand for the upstairs seats. Carefully watching such patronage, they found that it came from a younger element, seemingly strange to the legitimate theater.

Judicious questioning has revealed that the newcomers are exactly the same type that ruled when "the gods" of the gallery held sway. In other words, "Little Accident" is bringing the balcony and gallery back to the drama. The patronage is young and intelligent.

Mysterious Island at the Repertory

The Jules Verne romance, "The Mysterious Island," is the attraction at the Repertory, starting tomorrow. It is a vivid drama of undersea adventure with human actors, clad in diving suits, struggling with the denizens of the deep. It was photographed by the Technicolor process.

Lionel Barrymore, plays magnificently the role of a brilliant scientist. Lloyd Hughes and Jane Daly provide an entrancing love story. There are added features to the bill.

Plays Remaining

"Young Sinners" at the Lyric. (Third week.) Spirited presentation of what makes parents angry. Highly spiced entertainment.

* * *

"The Merry Widow" at the Majestic. (Second week.) So well done that it easily holds its own in any company. The last week.

* * *

"The New Moon" at the Shubert. (Fourth week.) Romance and thrills set to a perfect Sigmund Romberg score. Evelyn Herbert and Robert Halliday make it a jubilee.

* * *

"Little Accident" at the Plymouth. (Eighth week.) Long distance champion of the current drama and running as smoothly as in its early weeks. Points a moral with a laugh.

Peppy Maiden

MARJORIE PETERSON

MISS PETERSON IS SCINTILLANT IN "Young Sinners" now at the Shubert Lyric.

HIGHLAND LAD MAKES GOOD

ROBERT HALLIDAY, popular leading man of "The New Moon," fascinating operetta now at the Shubert, made his first appearance as an actor with a small theatrical organization in Scotland known as Kennedy's Concert and Comedy Co. This is interesting just now, because it is the same organization with which Harry Lauder, some 20 years earlier, began his career. In spite of its ponderous title this was a mere barnstorming company, which traveled by wagon from town to hamlet, setting up its modest scenery in schools, halls or lodge rooms, and the members of which had to play parts, sing, dance and, if necessary, hang and change what small effects the company carried.

Robert Halliday

It was a hard but thorough school. During the year that young Halliday, then 16, traveled with the company, it was discovered that he possessed an unusual voice. In London, the next season he was billed as "The Phenomenal Boy Baritone." He became quite popular in the London music halls, and before he was 20 he was brought to America with a vaudeville act in which he was featured.

Boston's own impresario, the late Henry W. Savage, gave Halliday his first chance on the legitimate stage, engaging him for a small part in his revival of Everywoman.

Frances Gettys

Frances Gettys, soprano, will give a concert in Jordan Hall on Thursday evening, April 3. Miss Gettys made her debut last season in the same auditorium.

SAYING 'YES' IS OFT THE ONLY WAY

By HARLEIGH SCHULTZ

WINNIE LIGHTNER'S name is in the bright lights. Months ago, after she forced herself upon our attention by her excellence in "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," we wrote that this would be the outcome. Now she has arrived. It's a bit too bad they couldn't have given her something better than a night club - backstage - racketeer story; there have been too many such already. Yet Miss Lightner is here, and we confess to being glad to offer welcome. Somehow we have a "weak spot" for her—on screen.

* * *

"SHE COULDN'T SAY NO" is the title of her first starring picture. It is now being shown at the Washington St. Olympia and Fenway theaters, these two houses having "twinned" it since the Uptown was turned over to "The Vagabond King." One would expect pure comedy; and we all know that comedy is Miss Lightner's forte. She is a mistress of clowning. But lo and behold! the film proves to be true-blue, deep-dyed melodrama, with broken hearts, and shootings, and villains, and heroes, and heroines. Yet it makes pleasing entertainment, especially because Miss Lightner has a good many chances to spill over some of her sunny personality. She has some able aides, also. The production may be looked to for a box office success, on the ground that it has heaping quantities of the elements that make for plenteous playing upon the deeper emotions, and the dislikes as well.

Chester Morris

* * *

ONE of these elements is the cabaret settings. These seem always to have the pocket-book appeal, particularly for the fans, who delight in the frivolities of the jazz age. Miss Lightner is cast as a big-hearted hussie earning her bread and butter in a resort known as the Dizzy Club. A racketeer falls in love with her and sets her up as star singer at the more classy Kitty Kat Klub. Just when life seems about to be one gay club after another, Cupid butts in. A gangster, loved by Miss Lightner, is smitten of a society damsel who reciprocates. Thereafter many things happen; melodrama's meliowest ingredients are brought into the story. In the end, the gangster gets "his" at the hands of his "boss," the two girls are left, still rivals, but each minus "her man." Miss Lightner later braces up, and carries on in show business. Great fame comes to her. And thus endeth the story.

* * *

WE would have preferred more of Miss Lightner in brighter vein. Still, there is sufficient of her at her best to make the picture worth while on the score of enjoyment of her talents; and there are Mr. Arthur and Mr. Marshall, abetted by Mr. Morris, to make the tenser sequences interesting.

Worth While

ELVIRA ENDERS

MISS ENDERS has one of the principal parts in "Little Accident" playing at the Plymouth.

Stage ◆ Screen ◆ Music

Fate Seems to Have Its Ups and Downs in Reel Love Just About as Much as Most Folks Have Theirs in Real Life

WINNIE LIGHTNER—JOHNNY ARTHUR
IT'S PLAIN to see Miss Lightner does like Mr. Arthur in "She Couldn't Say No" at the Washington St. Olympia and Fenway.

JUST A LITTLE LOVING
JEANETTE MacDONALD is feeling the lure of romance in "The Vagabond King" at the Uptown. Dennis King will soon get the kiss.

GRETA GARBO—MARIE DRESSLER
OVER THEIR glasses Miss Garbo and Miss Dressler are having a heart to heart talk in "Anna Christie" which comes to Loew's State on Monday.

RATHER A DELICATE TOUCH
OLIVE BORDEN is blissful and William Colby appears puzzled by the thrill in "Wedding Rings" at the Keith-Albee. Sweet kiss, any way.

GARY COOPER—MARY BRIAN
MR. COOPER is wounded and Miss Brian is worried in "Only the Brave" at the Metropolitan. But everything comes out all right in the end.

IS CLIVE BROOK POPULAR? CONTRAST LOOKS LIKE IT

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Universal Service Motion Picture Editor

Copyright, 1930, by Universal Service, Inc.

NEW YORK, March 8—Clive Brook, with the polished manner and the natural English accent, is one of those actors who are consistently popular. Mr. Brook jogs along doing nothing spectacular but always maintaining his place in the affections of his feminine admirers. That's what Paramount counted on when they signed him to a two-year contract.

So few of the studios are putting actors under contract these days that Mr. Brook's agreement, whereby he will be co-starred with Ruth Chatterton, is particularly interesting. The Brook contract does not go into effect until August, giving Mr. Brook a chance to fulfill other engagements.

Louella O. Parsons

One of the most interesting of the Chatterton-Brook stories is the original society play being written for them by Vincent Lawrence.

* * *

THE theater-going public who remember Jack Donahue as Marilyn Miller's leading man and again as the partner of Lily Damita in "Sons o' Guns" will be interested to know that his first picture for Paramount will be "Battlin' Butler." "Battlin' Butler" was one of the first of the prize-fight plays. It ran in New York as a stage play for a long time. Later Buster Keaton brought it to the screen in a silent version. It still has possibilities in that the comedy is up-to-date and it is one of those comedy dramas that some of us old-fashioned people enjoy.

* * *

ONE of our busy members of the Sherlock Holmes' clan reports that Florenz Ziegfeld is looking for a house at Malibu That means that Mr. Ziegfeld rumors as to ill health notwithstanding, will leave for Hollywood this spring with his lovely wife, Billy Burke, and his daughter, Patricia. "Whoopee" goes into production the last of this month. Busby Berkley, one of New York's outstanding theatrical directors, will lend a hand on the dances and stage direction of this Eddie Cantor special. What with Sam Lee and other dance specialists coming to Hollywood we may be seeing Broadway shows rehearsed in California.

STANLEY SMITH, who has proved that they like them young, is on his way to New York to play the younger male lead in "Queen High," opposite Ginger Rogers, for Paramount. The manner in which young Smith has forged ahead the last year is amazing. I can think of no one who has been put in leads in so short a time. Olive Borden, the slim brunette, who left Fox one day when they failed to pay her what she thought she was worth, also has a part, which means, of course, that Oliva is coming to New York. Another Hollywoodian due here is Edward Sloman, who will direct "The Sap from Syracuse" for Paramount.

* * *

THE naivette of Rudy Valles's book is amazing. Rudy says he wrote it himself and after reading it I believe him. His admission that Buddy Rogers is much more of a sheik than he, is a noble gesture, proving that Rudy is, as he confesses, with out conceit. Can anyone be naive as Rudy and still live in this wicked city. They tell me at the bookstands his book is going very well. At the Warwick Hotel here, the pleasant young man who sells books and papers says that he has ordered additional books of "Some Like It Hot" by Dorothy Herzog, but there has been such a demand for it, his order had been held up. That will be good news to Dot's friends.

* * *

I JUST have to write something of Olsen and Johnson, a team of young comedians, signed by Darryl Zanuck. Their vaudeville following will be interested to know that they are to be teamed with Lotti Loder, Warner Brothers' Hungarian importation. It will be Olsen, Johnson and Loder comedy trio, and although their first picture is "See Naples and Die," they will be kept on as a permanent combination. Is it an admission of ignorance to say I never saw Olsen and Johnson? I am sorry but I cannot say whether they are an addition to the movies or not.

* * *

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood collected at random by an observer: Helen Twelvetrees exhibiting a new roadster by driving up and down Hollywood Boulevard. Bella Bennett lunching with Rene Torres, recent motion picture discovery. Jack Oakie, Robert Armstrong and Mervyn Leroy at the weekly Olympic fights. Conrad Nagel chatting with Hal Wallace on the First National lot. Moon Carroll, English actress, at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio. Richard Barthelmess trying to locate a girl with an English accent for his next picture, "The Dawn Patrol." John Gilbert being asked to give the name of his first picture to be made for Charlie Chaplin. That's all today.

Underseas Hero

KENNETH McKENNA
MR. McKENNA is one of a number of fine actors in "Men Without Women" at B. F. Keith's

BEATS HOUSE JACK BUILT

AN entire theater interior was built in the James Cruze, Inc. studios for "The Great Gabbo," all-dialogue dramatic spectacle now playing at the Modern, Beacon and Egyptian. The stage was the largest ever built in a Hollywood studio. Frank Madigan, one of Mr. Cruze's army of technicians, constructed this interior from ultra modern designs furnished by Robert Lee, the Cruze technical director. One thousand five hundred extras formed part of the audience. The cast of "The Great Gabbo" includes Erich von Stroheim, Betty Compson, Margie "Babe" Kane and Don Douglas. It is Cruze's first screen extravaganza and in it he is said to have added new laurels to his direction.

Eric von Stroheim

Movie Clock

FEATURE photoplays in the picture theaters, and their starting time today are as follows:

FENWAY—"She Couldn't Say No"; p. m., 1:30, 3:35, 5:40, 7:45, 9:50
REPERTORY—"Down to the Sea in Ships"; continuous after 2 p. m.
TREMONT TEMPLE—"Jazz"; p. m., 2:30, 8:15.
MODERN AND BEACON—"The Great Gabbo"; a. m., 9, 11; p. m., 1, 3, 5, 7, 9.
ORPHEUM—"The Ship from Shanghai"; a. m., 9:15; p. m., 12:15, 3:15, 6:15, 9:30.
KEITH-ALBEE — "Wedding Rings"; a. m., 10:53; p. m. 3, 6:10, 9:20.
SCOLLAY—"Her Unborn Child"; p. m., 12:30, 3:20, 7:30, 10:20.
UPTOWN—"The Vagabond King"; p. m., 3:05, 3:08, 5:16, 7:23, 9:30.
STATE—"Not So Dumb"; p. m., 12:30, 2:55, 5:15, 7:45, 10:15.
PARK—"The Melody Man"; a. m., 10:34; p. m., 12:54, 2:54, 5:10, 7:08, 9:20.
METROPOLITAN—"Only the Brave"; a. m., 11:51; p. m., 2:09, 4:27, 6:51, 8:08, 10:27.
WASHINGTON ST. OLYMPIA "She Couldn't Say No"; a. m., 9:20, 11:15; p. m., 1:20, 3:20, 5:35, 7:40, 9:50.
NEW B. F. KEITH'S—"Men Without Women"; a. m., 10:26; p. m., 12:30, 2:37, 5:15, 7:35, 9:51.

DE PROFUNDIS TAPPED OUT OF SUB

WHEN a submarine is sunk in collision, what do the imprisoned men do? This is a question raised by that thrilling photoplay, "Men Without Women," now at the New B. F. Keith's, and easily one of the great pictures of the screen. The picture ends more happily than the submarine disasters of real life, but the question is one that has been asked again and again after each catastrophe. Several times during the recent years the world has waited breathlessly for the answer. Off the coast of Block Island, in September, 1925, destroyers, tugs and wrecking barges gathered swiftly to save the men of the sunken S-51. Later came the sinking of the S-4 off Provincetown. Off the coasts of Italy and England the tragedies have been repeated.

J. Farrell MacDonald

The riddle remains. What did the men do while waiting to be rescued? Was there stark panic? Some writers let their minds run riot on this. Was there stern discipline to the end?

The Navy Department laconically reported after raising a submarine that "every man died at his post." Did they suffer while slowly suffocating?

John Ford convinced Fox executives the idea would make a great photoplay. Winfield Sheehan told him to go ahead. Ford developed his ideas with James Kevin McGuinness, and together they wrote the story. Dudley Nicholas, former newspaper man who had served in the navy, was called in to do the dialog.

They decided that men in the submarine service wouldn't go into a wild panic in an emergency. Obviously, they wouldn't be in the service unless they had steady nerves. And habitual discipline would come into play even in the face of death.

Russian Film

Under the direction of the Artkino Guild, the Russian film, "Ten Days that Shook the World," is being shown at the Fine Arts. On the same bill is also a short film, just here from London, made by H. G. Wells' son, of one of Wells' short stories called "Day Dreams."

The Compinsky Trio

The Compinsky Trio of New York returns to Boston a second time this season for a concert in Jordan Hall on Thursday evening, March 20. The personnel is Sarah Compinsky, pianist; Manuel Compinsky, violinist, and Alec Compinsky, 'cellist.

SMALL GIRL IN BIG ROLE

ELIZABETH WRAGGE, who does the important role of "Pegs" Kennedy in "Her Unborn Child" at the Scollay, is hailed as a feminine Davey Lee, Al Jolson's child prodigy. Elizabeth, who is 10, made her talkie debut in "Glorifying the American Girl," but it remained for the producers of "Her Unborn Child" to develop the latent screen genius in the child. Little Miss Wragge depicts the part of a typical American kid, always in hot water and jocularly known as "the little snoop" by the adult members of the Kennedy family, in whose home the major portion of the plot of the story is laid. Aside from her distinct flair for comedy in its most subtle shadings, Elizabeth displays an amazing understanding in the interpretation of several tense dramatic sequences and is no small measure responsible for the insistent human appeal of this picture.

She is ably supported by several well known players, among whom are Adele Ronson, Doris Rankin, former wife of Lionel Barrymore; Paul Claire, Frances Underwood and Harry Davenport.

Film Futures

MARCH 13—
Ruth Chatterton in "Sarah and Son" at Metropolitan.
MARCH 17—
Lawrence Tibbett in "The Rogue Song" at Loew's State.
MARCH 20—
Nancy Carroll in "Honey" at Metropolitan.
MARCH 21—
"Song of the West" at Washington St. Olympia.
MARCH 24—
William Haines in "The Girl Said No" at Loew's State.

Amusements Amusements Amusements Amusements

TREMONT THEATRE MATS. WED. & SAT.
Begins MONDAY NIGHT at 8:15 P. M.

"Somebody should create a foundation which would endow all stage aspirants with tickets for the new Cohan play."—HEYWOOD BROUN, N. Y. Telegram

GEORGE M. COHAN
IN HIS OWN AMERICAN PLAY
"GAMBLING"
ALL EVENINGS $1 to $2.50 ALL MATS. $1 to $2.
DIRECT FROM 7 MONTHS ON BROADWAY
ORIGINAL NEW YORK CAST including
MARY PHILIPS
ALL EVENINGS $1 to $2.50—ALL MATS. $1 to $2

COLONIAL THEATRE
WEEK DAILY OPENING MONDAY NIGHT MATS. WED.—THURS.—FRI.—SAT.
MERRIEST MUSICAL EVENT OF THE YEAR
THE ENTERTAINER SUPREME,
SIR HARRY LAUDER
DIRECTION OF WILLIAM MORRIS
IN NEW AND OLD SONG CHARACTERS
Assisted by a COMPANY OF INTERNATIONAL ARTISTS
ALL NIGHTS: $2.50, $2.00, $1.50, $1.00
SAT. MAT.: $2.00, $1.50, $1.00, 50c
OTHER MATS.: Orch., $1.00; Bal. $1.50, $1.00
Sec. Bal. 50c

COPLEY
Management E. E. OLIVE
EVENINGS 8:30
MATINEES TUES., THURS. & SAT. 2:30
"A NIGHT OFF"
THE BEST LAUGH OF A CENTURY

Doors open 10:45 De Luxe Shows at 12:19, 2:41, 5:03 7:25, 9:47
Youth Sweeps You Off Your Feet with Its Daring Defiance.
Paramount's Romantic All-Talking Melodrama
GARY COOPER in "Only the Brave" with MARY BRIAN
On the Stage SAMMY COHEN in Person "PUTTIN' ON THE DOG" Fun for the CHILDREN in the Lounge Following Afternoon Stage Show
Coming MAR. 20 PAUL ASH Rajah of Jazz IN PERSON
Metropolitan

SCOLLAY SQ. BIGGEST SHOW VALUE IN BOSTON
ON THE STAGE IDA MAE SPARROW in "Wedding Cinderella" A Petite Musical Comedy Satire
BOYLE and DELLA MELINO and DAVIS and OTHER BIG ACTS!
A BOY AND GIRL IN LOVE—FORGETTING EVERYTHING ELSE!
ON THE SCREEN SMASHING TALKING PICTURE OF THE STAGE PLAY WHICH ROCKED A NATION!
"HER UNBORN CHILD"
VAUDEVILLE AT 2:45, 5, 7:30, 9:45 P. M.
FEATURE PICTURE AT 12:30-3:20-7:30-10:20 P. M.
CONTINUOUS 10 A. M. TO 11:30 P. M.

LOEW'S STATE
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer presents MARION DAVIES in "NOT SO DUMB"
ALL-TALKING LAUGH RIOT
Screenings at 12:30-2:55-5:15-7:45-10:15
USUAL GREAT STAGE SHOW
Harry Rodgers in Daily Organ Concert at Noon
NEXT WEEK—AT LAST! The Mighty, Glamorous
GRETA GARBO TALKS IN HER FIRST ALL-TALKING PICTURE
"ANNA CHRISTIE"

LOEW'S ORPHEUM
Today Opening 9:30 to 12:30 25c Complete Show
M-G-M'S ALL-TALKING DRAMA
"THE SHIP FROM SHANGHAI"
Latest LAUREL-HARDY ALL-TALKING COMEDY
LOEW'S GREATEST VAUDEVILLE
Ross Wyse, Jr. & Mr. & Mrs. Ross Wyse
OTHER ACTS
Next Week NORMA TALMADGE
In Her First All-Talking Hit "NEW YORK NIGHTS"
4 LOEW'S GREATER VAUDEVILLE

THE WORLD'S GREATEST SONG ROMANCE BECOMES THE WORLD'S GREATEST MOTION PICTURE
DENNIS KING in The VAGABOND KING with JEANETTE MacDONALD
"SOME DAY" "ONLY A ROSE" "SONG OF THE VAGABONDS" "LOVE ME TONIGHT"
UPTOWN Now

OLYMPIA WASH. ST.—HAN. SQ. FENWAY HUNT. AVE.—OPP. P. O.
SHOWS 9:50 11:15 A. M. 1:20-3:25 5:35-7:40 9:50 P. M.
SHOWS 1:30 3:35 5:40 7:45 9:50 P. M.
NOW
PEP! PERSONALITY! PLUS!
Wild Winnie of "Gold Diggers" Fame in a New Bonehead of Sense-Talk Comedy
Winnie LIGHTNER in "She Couldn't Say No" with CHESTER MORRIS
Sally Eilers—Tully Marshall—Johnny Arthur
SEE—"Winnie" Clown to the Benefit of Tired Business Men and Women
HEAR—"Winnie" Sing "A Dare Full Woman Like Me"—"Watching My Dreams Go By."
A Warner Bros. Vitaphone ALL-TALKING-SINGING Mellow Picture

MODERN BEACON EGYPTIAN
Continuous at All 3 Theatres
NOW PLAYING!
Boston's Greatest All-Talking Picture
"The GREAT GABBO" with ERICH VON STROHEIM & BETTY COMPSON
"SHE'LL LOVE IT! IT'S ADORABLE!"

TREMONT TEMPLE TWICE DAILY 2:30 & 8:15 P.M. LAST DAY
JANGO with DR. DAVENPORT and CANNIBALS IN PERSON
Evs. & Sat. Mat. 50c to $1.00 All other mats. all seats 50c Reserved

BOWDOIN VAUDEVILLE IN PERSON
CHARLES KING, DIXIE LOVE in "CHASING RAINBOWS," ALICE WHITE in "THE GIRL FROM WOOLWORTH'S," TALES OF THE ORIENT, "SCOTTY" PIGGOTT, PICTURES Every W. & Sat. Lew Orth's Cabaret Night

For other amusement ads see next page

Stage Screen Music

DANCERS GIVE PROGRAM FOR ELLIS HOUSE

By MOSES SMITH

DORIS HUMPHREY, Charles Weidman and their company of dancers appeared in Boston for the first time last night at the Boston Opera House, under the auspices of the Ellis Memorial House.

The principals deserve praise for bringing with them a sufficient ensemble to be able to exhibit here a varied program of dances which have elicited considerable praise elsewhere. They were also thoughtful in providing what sounded like a chamber orchestra of fair size, which played off stage. A large orchestra is economically impracticable; but why not two pianos, which with all their disadvantages, give a resonant, harmonically complete version of a score?

It is Miss Humphrey's contention, as stated in the program book, that the "dance is the thing, not the costumes, decorations, music or drama." Despite this, however, attempts were made to interest—or so it seemed—several musical compositions. And, as invariably, this did violence to the music, or dance, or both. Why not let the music speak for itself? It is able to do so in the concert-hall.

To the extent that music is a point of departure for the dancer, however, it may produce interesting results. Far more interesting, even though not completely convincing, were several numbers in which the dancers did without any music at all, attempting to give a complete rhythmic and pictorial composition without aid other than the dancers' bodies. The "Water Study," depicting graphically the surge of waves, and parts of "Drama of Motion," which had no program at all, but was "absolute" dancing, were most suggestive.

Miss Humphrey has unusual grace, of a rather virile character, lacking in the plasticity, the softness of, let us say, Ruth St. Denis. Her style and method, her imaginative conceptions, are well thought out, and she seems to be contributing definitely to her art.

An audience of fair size applauded heartily.

ACTOR LAUDS THE SCREEN

"EVEN before the advent of talking pictures I preferred screen work to appearing in legitimate plays," says H. B. Warner, now appearing in "Wedding Rings," the First National and Vitaphone picture now at the Keith-Albee.

"The screen has always offered an immense variety of roles, and talking pictures enable an actor to vary his characterizations even more than he could in the days of silent pictures. If one is moderately successful on the stage he goes on playing the same part seven or eight times a week, while nothing is repeated in pictures. This keeps you fresh and, as it were, plastic."

Lois Wilson is co-featured with Warner in "Wedding Rings." Other members of the cast are Olive Borden, Hallam Cooley, James Ford, Kathleen Williams and Aileen Manning.

Shakespeare Theatre Chief to Visit Boston

Sir Archibald Flower, chairman of the board of governors of the Shakespeare Memorial Theater, is coming to Boston in the interests of Stratford upon Avon Festival Company. Arriving in this city tomorrow he will be the guest at the Boston City Club on Monday, and during the week will address the students of Boston University, Cambridge Dramatic Society, Teachers' College and other educational bodies.

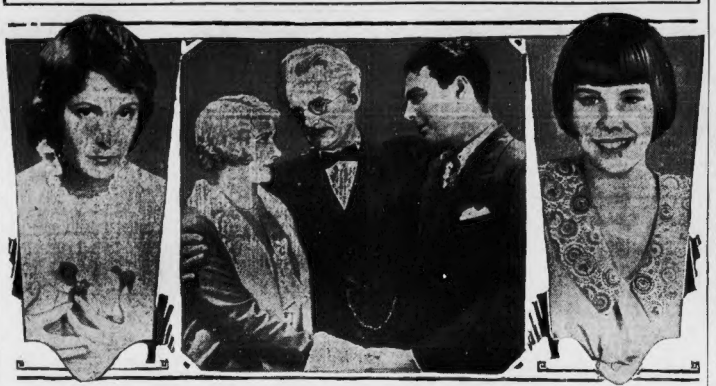
Pictures—Variety

WALDRON'S—"Kuddlin' Kuties," a Mutual burlesque show, featuring Max Fields in comedy and Sugar Shaag in feminine appeal; Hilarious Also two all-talking pictures; dancing contests on Tuesday and Thursday.

GLOBE—"The Kibitzer," with Mary Brian and Neil Hamilton, and "Tiger Rose," with Lupe Veles, for four days; starting Thursday, "The Vagabond Lover," with Rudy Vallee, and "The Aviator," with Edward Horton and Patsy Ruth Miller.

BOWDOIN—"Murder on the Roof," with Dorothy Revier and Raymond Hatton; "The Love Climax," with Jean Hersholt and Kathryn Crawford; "Hell's Heroes," a film of thrills, and "The Big Kick," with Harry Langdon. Also vaudeville.

Sunshine of Smiles Always Follows the Reign of Tragedy



NORMA TALMADGE
MISS NATALMADGE is the stellar lure in "New York Nights." (Loew's Orpheum.)

ALICE DAY, JOHN ST. POLIS AND WILLIAM COLLIER, JR.
DADDY IS HELPING ALONG ROMANCE. Mr. St. Polis is "The Melody Man" in that picture at the Park. He is seen bringing the two young sweethearts together to face life's joys.

ELIZABETH WRAGGE
THIS LITTLE MISS of 10 years is an able performer in "Her Unborn Child." (Scollay.)

CAST CHOSEN OUT OF LISTS OF 275,000

THE return to the screen of Mildred Harris and Johnny Walker is one of the many features of the Columbia picture, "The Melody Man," now at the Park. When directors were at the task of selecting the players for "The Melody Man," the usual Columbia method was employed. Over the huge lists of some 275,000 actors listed in the Central Casting bureau in Hollywood, many hours were spent in making the selections.

Technicolor is used in "The Melody Man" with excellent results, the sequence in color showing a social function at the court of the Austrian empire. Bright uniforms of the continental soldiers and the gay gowns of the ladies of the court are beautifully reproduced.

The story of "The Melody Man" is an interesting one. It tells the struggles of a musician of the old school to gain recognition as a composer of classic music in a world gone jazz-mad. His daughter, in love with the ambitious leader of a jazz band, finally finds a solution to his problem of at last getting a hearing for his work. Romance runs as a golden thread through the picture.

Heading the cast are William Collier, Jr., as the leader of the jazz band, Alice Day, the old composer's daughter, and John St. Polis, noted character of the stage and screen, as the old master musician. His is a role reminiscent of that played by David Warfield in "The Music Master."

WANTED CAST TO BE COMFY

EDITH SHAYNE, who has the role of the snobbish mother in Elmer Harris' "Young Sinners," playing at the Lyric, proudly proclaims the most pleasant memory of her theatrical experience was her engagement with the late John Drew, in "Major Pendennis" and "The Chief."

John Drew had a deep regard for his fellow players, and one of his greatest pleasures was to see that every member of his company, regardless of position in the organization, was comfortable in the theater. In fact, in several instances he even exerted himself to the extent of seeing that his company was comfortable in their hotels.

Miss Shayne says that another engagement which she looks back upon with much pride and pleasure was when she supported the late George Beban in "Rose of the World."

Edith Shayne, was seen here in William Hodge's production of "A Cure For Curables," and has also appeared in different stock organizations here.

MERRY SHOW AT HOWARD

ANOTHER lively attraction will be seen at the Old Howard Theater beginning Monday matinee. This will be the burlesque known as "Best Show in Town." It is said to be filled with catchy songs and fine dances, with a round of merriment. With this organization is one of the big stars in the person of Reggie White. Many novelties, too, will be introduced. Marie Miller, "Boots" Bush and Evelyn DuBois are in the cast, while the leading comedy role is in the hands of the veteran funmaker, Bob Shartzman, for many years a big favorite in burlesque circles. Other names familiar to patrons include Lou Costello, Ed Lalor, Sammy Rice and Jack Staib. The chorus of 16 will grace the line.

Reggie White

Ralph Roberts

In the vaudeville part of the bill there will be several acts and picture features. The famous Yecop Troupe of Argentine acrobats have a specialty. Ergotti and Herman are old-time favorites. Winifred and Milla have a comedy fest entitled "In China." The pictures offer Vilma Banky in "This Is Heaven," also John Gilbert in "His Glorious Night."

Film Fare for the New Week

NEW B. F. KEITH'S—"Men Without Women" with superb cast. John Ford directed. A Fox picture.

• • •

UPTOWN—"The Vagabond King" with Dennis King, O. P. Heggie, Jeanette MacDonald. Dr. Ludwig Berger directed. A Paramount picture.

• • •

LOEW'S STATE—Greta Garbo in "Anna Christie" with Marie Dressler, Charles Bickford, Clarence Brown directed. An M.-G.-M. picture.

• • •

MODERN, BEACON, EGYPTIAN—Eric von Stroheim in "The Great Gabbo." James Cruze directed. A Cruze, Inc., picture.

• • •

PARK—John St. Polis in "The Melody Man" with Alice Day, William Collier, Jr. R. William Neill directed. A Columbia picture.

• • •

REPERTORY—"The Mysterious Island," with Lionel Barrymore, Lloyd Hughes. A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, with color, dialogue and sound.

• • •

WASHINGTON ST. OLYMPIA AND FENWAY—Winnie Lightner in "She Couldn't Say No." Lloyd Bacon directed. A Warner Bros. picture.

• • •

METROPOLITAN—Gary Cooper in "Only the Brave" with Mary Brian, Frank Tuttle directed. A Paramount picture.

• • •

KEITH-ALBEE—Lois Wilson in "Wedding Rings" with Olive Borden, H. B. Warner. William Beaudine directed. A First National picture.

• • •

LOEW'S ORPHEUM—Norma Talmadge in 'New York Nights" with Gilbert Roland, Lewis Milestone directed. A United Artists' picture.

• • •

SCOLLAY SQ. OLYMPIA—"Her Unborn Child" with Adele Ronson, Doris Rankin, Frances Underwood. A Windsor picture.

Stage Who's Who

A FAMOUS definition of an actor came from the pen of Brace Conning, who wrote, "I am a bundle of contradictions, a mass of inconsistencies."

Ralph Roberts, who has won high favor with the players at the Copley, proved the truth of that assertion. Mr. Roberts has played more than a hundred different roles. He has been hero, villain, comedian, juvenile and for several years during his first days on the stage he played musical comedy. He was born in India, in a tiny outpost village, called Shikapur, where his family had for many years been connected with the East India Co. Like all young Englishmen, he was sent "back home" for his education, and began preparing for army life.

He had planned to enter Sandhurst, the West Point of England, but on the eve of his entrance, a slight accident to his eyes destroyed his chances of a military career.

When a traveling comedy company found itself without a juvenile, Mr. Roberts stepped into the part.

SPECIAL FOR THE GAYETY

"SOCIAL MAIDS," burlesque show which opens Monday with the usual matinees at the Gayety, is said to be loaded with laughing material. "The Gay Modiste" and "Cabaret" are two of the sketches. Minnie Fitzgerald, "The Personality Girl," is star of the show. Billy Mitflin and Ben Pierce are billed as "Nature's Perfect Fools." Jack Wald, Arthur Ramsay, Mark Lea, Ethel Spear and Dorothy Fuller are others who contribute.

Ethel Spear

A special vaudeville feature has been announced for each Monday and Thursday night at the Gayety. On Monday night, which will be known as "professional night," a special bill of five big all-star vaudeville acts will be added to the regular show.

GOT HIS START IN BOSTON

"I USED to practise my first dancing steps in doorways and on street corners," said Donald Brian, as he stopped to chat a moment in between scenes of "The Merry Widow," now playing at the Majestic.

"My gang over in South Boston encouraged me in my efforts and before very long I began to feel that I might qualify as a teacher. William Ryan was my first pupil and I taught him all the 'trick' steps I knew. I picked them up, you see, in the different theaters around town, and by going over and over the steps was able in short order to call them my own. Ryan and I saved up for a pair of clogs. I'll never forget getting together that first $5 and the purchase of the precious aids to my dancing career.

"Some one brought this in to me," he continued, pointing to an old-fashioned picture of two lads in grotesque costume. I had forgotten all about the event. Ryan and I were elected chief entertainers in a parish affair in South Boston. Our costumes were of red velvet and were fit like young princes. I can assure you. Of course we made a hit, the little suits alone would have gotten us an encore."

Horowitz Tomorrow

Vladimir Horowitz will give his second and last recital of the season in Symphony Hall tomorrow afternoon at 3:30. His program will include Bach's Organ Prelude and Fugue in D major, and Chorale in G minor; Scarlatti's Capriccio, Chopin's Sonata in B flat minor (Funeral March); three Mouvements Perpetuels, by Poulenc; two Contes, by Medtner; Funerailles, Sonetto del Petrarca, and two Paganini Etudes, by Liszt.

Looking Ahead

MARCH 17—
"The Chocolate Soldier" at the Majestic.

MARCH 24—
Walter Hampden in repertoire at the Wilbur.
Stratford-on-Avon Festival Company at the Hollis.

Amusements

BOSTON THEATRES & HITS Under Direction of Messrs. Lee & J. J. Shubert

WILBUR 2 WEEKS ONLY Com. MON. Eve

THE CHICAGO CIVIC SHAKESPEARE SOCIETY Presents

FRITZ LEIBER AND INCOMPARABLE PLAYERS

EPOCH-MAKING · EYE-FILLING SUCH ENTERTAINMENT AS MOST OF US HOPE FOR BUT SELDOM GET

Mon. Mch. 10 KING LEAR
Tues. Mch. 11 HAMLET
Wed. Mat. AS YOU LIKE IT
Wed. Eve. MERCHANT of VENICE
Thur. Mch. 13 MACBETH
Fri. Mch. 14 JULIUS CAESAR
Sat. Mat. HAMLET
Sat. Eve. TWELFTH NIGHT

Prices NIGHTS, 50c to $2.50 WED. MAT. 50c to $1.50 SAT. MAT. 50c to $2.50

2ND AND LAST WEEK

MON. EVE.—"HAMLET"; TUES. EVE.—"RICHARD II"; WED. MAT.—"TWELFTH NIGHT"; WED. EVE.—"HAMLET"; THURS. EVE.—"OTHELLO"; FRI. EVE.—"KING LEAR"; SAT. MAT.—"TAMING OF THE SHREW" and SAT. EVE.—"JULIUS CAESAR"

SEATS NOW SELLING FOR ENTIRE ENGAGEMENT

Commencing Monday, March 24

WALTER HAMPDEN

Will Present a Repertory Including

"RICHELIEU," "CAPONSACCHI," and "HAMLET"

PARK WASHINGTON at BOYLSTON

CONTINUOUS FROM 1 P.M. DAILY

The ALL TALKING, SINGING, DANCING HIT OF THE YEAR

COLUMBIA PICTURES presents

"The MELODY MAN"

with WILLIAM COLLIER, JR. - ALICE DAY JOHN ST. POLIS

—Youth in conflict with age
—Jazz flung against the classics
—The new world pitted against the old world
—A picture of Heart Appeal
—Soul Appeal—Mind Appeal
—Sex Appeal

Playing on the scale of your emotions! You will laugh and cry with The Melody Man in this soul-stirring story of love and sacrifice. Destined to be one of the world's greatest musicians, he sacrifices his all at the altar of "father-love."

A Real Gem of the Talking Screen with Elaborate Scenes in Beautiful Technicolor

LYRIC (FORMERLY B. F. KEITH'S) IN THE FLESH! NOT A TALKIE!

What would you do if you had plenty of money, but no love or affection from your parents

Who wouldn't love to spend the week-end at a mountain camp with ones own sweetheart

Could you resist a cute sophisticated young lady head over heels in love with you

YOUNG SINNERS DON'T MISS IT!

POPULAR PRICES EVES. 50¢ to $2.50 WED. & SAT. MATS. 50¢ to $1.50

SHUBERT MATS. WED. & SAT.

4TH WEEK OF THE GREATEST MUSICAL SUCCESS BOSTON EVER SAW

SCHWAB & MANDEL'S Glorious Operetta

The NEW MOON with ITS GORGEOUS MUSIC ITS THRILLING STORY ITS COLORFUL SETTINGS ITS SPECTACULAR CHORUS AND ITS ORIGINAL CAST & ENSEMBLE of 150 including

EVELYN HERBERT · ROBERT HALLIDAY

60 SINGING AND DANCING BEAUTIES

REPERTORY Management The Jewett Repertory Theatre Pres. Inc.

Starting Sunday at 3 Continuous
Prices: 25c and 50c
Daily from 1, Continuous
Prices: Before 6 P. M., 35c and 35c
After 6 P. M., 35c and 50c

THE MYSTERIOUS ISLAND ~spectacular! romantic!

From JULES VERNE'S FAMOUS NOVEL with LIONEL BARRYMORE LLOYD HUGHES

Color, Dialogue and Sound

RKO KEITH'S

NOW SHOWING and Startling Boston!

MEN without WOMEN

The Most Fascinating Story Ever Made for Big Thrills. You'll Stand at It Yes!! Girls Your Soul to Some-One! Fear! Every Big Scene And You'll Enjoy It All!

Continuous Daily 9:30 A. M. 30c 50c 65c (Sat. Mat.) 9 to 1; 3 to 6 After 6 Sat. Eve.

The BIG BOY of LAUGHTER 8th JOYOUS WEEK

The CROSBY GAIGE COMEDY GEM

LITTLE ACCIDENT with THOMAS MITCHELL

BREAKING ALL LAUGHING and ATTENDANCE RECORDS

PLYMOUTH EVERY NIGHT 50¢ to $2.50 POP. MATS. 50¢ to $1.50 WED. & SAT. MATS. 50¢ to $1.50

WILBUR LAST TIMES TODAY

Broadway's Favorite, Famous Revue

The LITTLE SHOW with CLIFTON WEBB FRED ALLEN LIBBY HOLMAN

MAJESTIC Nights & Sat. Mat. $2.50 to 50c Wed. Mat. 50c, 75c, $1, $1.50, $2

"THE MERRY WIDOW" with BEPPIE De VRIES and DONALD BRIAN

RKO KEITH-ALBEE

Now Playing—
"WAY DOWN SOUTH"
An All-Star R.K.O. Revue with
"SLIM" RAYNOR TIMBLIN LEHR and a Host of Entertaining Other R.K.O. Acts

On Screen "Wedding Rings" H. B. Warner—Lois Wilson Olive Borden

MORRISEE 2:30, 9:30 to 12:30

NOW FINE ARTS THEATRE "TEN DAYS THAT SHOOK THE WORLD" CONT. 10 to 11—AFT. 50¢ EVE. 75¢ NOW

THE OLD HOWARD MIDNIGHT SHOW BOWERY BURLESQUERS Sharkey-Scott Fight Pictures ALL WEEK SPECIAL DOORS 7 TO 11 EVERY FRIDAY at 11:30 P.M.

GAYETY MUTUAL BURLESQUE BIG REVUE with LILLIAN DIXON

GLOBE Matinee Daily 2:15 Evening 7:15 Sun. Mon. Tues. Wed. Thurs. 8:30 Fri. & Sat. 8:45 —ALL TALKING HITS— "MURDER ON THE ROOF" Also Mon. Tues. Wed. Thurs. "PAINTED FACES"

WALDRON'S CASINO MISCHIEF MAKERS BURLESQUE

FRANKLIN PARK YIDDISH THEATRE EXTRA—One Performance Only TOMORROW NIGHT (Sun.) at 8:15 VICTOR CHENKIN Folk Songs and Impersonations of European Characters. Only New England Engagement For Reservations Tel. TAL bot 2506

YEN HO 4 SHOWS DAILY 1:30 3:30 7:15 9:30

24½ TREMONT ST OPPOSITE THE "MET"

MID-DAY LUNCHEON 50c 11 till 2:30 P. M.
TONIGHT and SUNDAY 7 COURSE DINNER $1.25

WEDNESDAY Theatre Tickets Presented to Lucky Patrons

FRIDAY Carnival Night Favors and Noisemakers

No Cover Courteous Service

The OASIS

Formerly CLUB KARNAK, 46 Winchester St. at Park Sq.
Boston's Most Beautiful
AMERICAN-CHINESE RESTAURANT
DINE — DANCE — CABARET
NO COVER CHARGE

TONIGHT—NOVELTY NIGHT

EVERY WEDNESDAY — SWEETHEART NIGHT
VIN VINCENT AND THE OASIS ORCHESTRA
Reservations LIB. 8345 STEVE HUNG, Mgr.

Special Theatre-Goers Dinner Daily—
5 to 8—$1.25

The SILVER SLIPPER 30 ARLINGTON STREET

Special Dinner $1.50
(6:30 to 9:30 P. M.)
COMMENCING MONDAY
RUSSELL HOWARD
Boston's Joy Boy and His Silver Slipper Revue
AT 7:30 & 11:30 P.M.
TEL. LIB. 8740

Fruit Cocktail Olives—Nuts Soup du Jour Choice of Broiled Lobster Sirloin Steak Broiled Chicken Roast Duckling Potatoes—Peas Lettuce Russian Dressing Ice Cream Coffee

LUNTING

14 HANOVER ST.—37 SCOLLAY SQ.
DINE AND DANCE
Noonday Luncheon 40c
Full Course Dinner 85c up
A La Carte at All Hours

Neighborhood Movie Directory on Page 19

For other amusement ads see preceding page

GIRL UNAFRAID

by Gladys Johnson

GREATER BOSTON NEWS

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

BOSTON, SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1930

2D SECTION

END PETTY GRAFT OR QUIT, CURLEY EDICT

New One-Way Rules to Speed Traffic

Daring Story of Eternal Love Triangle

Ardeth Carroll, beauty, lives in the drab home of her Aunt Stella. Neil Burke, downstairs, claims Ardeth as his. She is uncertain. She yearns for a fuller life. Quarrels with her cousin, Bet, whose room she shares.

CHAPTER 3

HER father had named her Ardeth.

As Aunt Stel succinctly remarked, "He would."

It was indicative of Jim Carroll's love of the strange and the beautiful, even in sounds.

Ardeth was amazingly like her father—which was perhaps Aunt Stel's chief reason for disliking her. You don't care to have a reminder of your secret and hopeless love underfoot day and night, though you deny that love, even to yourself.

Jim Carroll had worn that same look of gay courage. That almost rapt air of gazing at some brave sight hidden from others. Charm had played like a flame within him—an unconscious magnetism.

The flame of him had drawn the pretty pale moth of Ardeth's mother. She had married this golden boy of hers—had born him a golden child. And in her secret heart she had never ceased to marvel that Jim Carroll had ever wanted to marry her at all.

She never had understood the vivid joy of life in him. She was content merely to idolize him. A frail, slightly pathetic figure Thelma Carroll had been, swung violently through life by the blazing comet of her love. She lived only in the vivid flame of her man and when that flame went out—Jim Carroll could not resist the lure of excitement of war, though he had a wife and child dependent upon him—Thelma had quietly faded away from the earth.

Ardeth had come to live with Aunt Stel at the death of her parents.

Aunt Stel had hidden her feelings well. No one had guessed the violent jealousy which swept her when handsome Jim Carroll had come courting her younger sister Thelma. After Thelma's marriage Stel had married Ed Harrison just to show Jim that she could.

Not even Ardeth guessed why her aunt was so severe with her. She supposed it was because of her.

To a certain extent she was right. Betty Harrison, sandy-haired and pasty, seemed more uninteresting than ever by comparison with her cousin.

At twelve, Ardeth could not be sent to the corner store without annexing at least one attentive male escort. But Neil Burke, by a sort of squatter's right through his residence in the flat below, quickly established his monopoly of the girl. It was then that Bet experienced the same jealous pangs her mother had known some years before.

Curled up in their mutual bed now, elaborately filing her nails, Bet registered large scorn of Ardeth before the mirror.

"The love of Pete quit primping!" she said sourly. "A person'd think you were going out with the Prince of Wales."

Ardeth laughed without malice. The discontent of the night before was gone. Such a simple thing as a Sunday outing could send the joy of life bubbling through her.

Ardeth loved Sundays. Perhaps the delicious sense of leisure they brought . . . to dress in one's own time . . . to put on one's best things—even that was an adventure.

She was going for a ride with Neil in his well-worn machine. But the sun was shining and she was wearing her sport dress which she had bought in a noon-hour sale the day before. At 20 that is excuse enough for being happy.

She turned before the glass in innocent vanity. Ardeth loved being pretty . . . loved the feel of her silk stockings. . . .

"New stockings again! Silk all the way up, I'll bet—though the basement had a sale on lisle tops last week! Why any decent girl has to have her stockings silk where they don't show, beats me!"

"It isn't just that, Bet," Ardeth explained absently, her attention going to pulling on her hat without disarranging her hair. "It's the feel. It's just to know that they're all silk."

"Well, be sure you don't have a tumble with your new ideas!" retorted Aunt Stel, darkly. "And those flimsy silk and lace things you wear underneath . . . going around half naked, the way no good girl would dream of going when I was young—"

Their heavy disapproval lay all about her like a wet cloud.

But balm to her young pride was the look Neil turned on her as she came down the front steps in response to the toot of the auto horn.

Slim and vivid and golden in the morning sunshine, she was. Creams and browns of the new sport suit playing up to the gold of her . . . Hazel eyes glowing under the brim of the new brown hat. .

The young fellow's black eyes devoured her. He breathed: "Gee, you're sweet . . ." as she seated herself beside him.

Ardeth's heart leaped under his gaze as it leaped when he put his arms about her, but there was a little uncomfortable edge on her thoughts at his fervor.

It was pleasant to have Neil say nice things . . . but when he grew

Continued on Page 15, Column 3

CHANGES WILL BE EFFECTIVE TOMORROW

Boylston St. Will Be Made One Way From Tremont to Washington

Thousands of automobile drivers will be affected by drastic changes in the traffic code, announced by the Boston traffic commission.

The rules will be effective tomorrow, giving the public an opportunity to become accustomed to them before the light system goes into operation.

New one-way regulations are as follows:

Avery st: From Washington st. to Tremont st.

Boylston st: From Tremont st. to Washington st.

La Grange st.: From Washington st. to Tremont st.

Merrimac st.: From Haymarket sq. to Friend st.

Friend st.: From Union st. to Hanover st., from Merrimac st. to Washington st., from Merrimac st. to Causeway st.

The new rules will affect three of the key points of the city's traffic system—Boylston and Tremont sts., Haymarket sq. and Hanover st. in the vicinity of Friend and Washington sts.

The changes, the commission decided were made necessary by the coming installation of the new traffic control light system.

They were voted upon after operatives who have been studying the downtown traffic situation became convinced that the light control could not be successful under present rules.

The commission in making public the new rules declared that traffic would be speeded up at least 30 per cent by the changes and the complete adoption of the light system now tentatively fixed for the middle of May.

CARDS SOUGHT FOR SOLONS

Some legislators were "rushed by officers during the Communist riot and resented the indignity with the result that Rep. William P. Hickey of South Boston proposed cards of identification for members of the General Court and the Governor's Council.

There are other times, it was pointed out, that people represent themselves as members of the Legislature.

This often proves of subsequent embarrassment to those whose names have been improperly used.

Hoover Renominates Three Postmasters

Three New England postmasters, all of them appointees originally of the late President Harding, have been renominated by President Hoover.

They are Charles A. Robinson, Portland, Me.; George Minot of Gardner, and Harlan S. Cummings of Lynn.

Dies in Church

Daniel J. Murray, 65, retired fireman, was stricken with a heart attack in St. Paul's Church, Lingard st., Dorchester, where 1,300 communicants were attending a novena, and expired soon after the Rev. Michael J. Norton, a curate, administered the last rites of the church.

In Kidnap Plot

Charlotte Eastman, eight-year-old pupil of the Hood school, Lynn, the kidnaping of whom was foiled by Miss Grace Mitchell, third grade teacher. (Staff photo.)

ART PURCHASE BRINGS THREAT

Profs. Edward W. Forbes of Gerrys Landing and Paul J. Sachs of Irving st., Cambridge,* who are connected with the Fogg Museum at Harvard College, received letters of a threatening nature shortly after announcement was made that the museum had purchased for $50,000 a painting by the Florentine master, Botticelli.

Neither professor could be reached last night, but persons close to them said "there is something going on."

The letters were turned over to Charles R. Apted, head of the Harvard University Protective Bureau.

Inducations are that no violence was mentioned in the missives. The author suggested that the museum could have spent the $50,000 to better advantage by alleviating suffering due to unemployment rather than acquire a work of art that would only hang on a wall and be viewed by a comparatively small number of persons.

HUB SHIPPING HIT BY FOG

The New York-bound steamship George Washington was delayed for hours at the entrance to the Cape Cod Canal by an impenetrable fog. The liner had 100 passengers aboard.

The George Washington was held up one hour past her usual departure time by the fog in the harbor. Practically all shipping, excepting ferry boats, was tied up, and these were forced to grope their way over their courses with fog horns sounding constantly.

Held as Burglar

Frank S. Miller, alleged "false key worker," was ordered held for the grand jury in bonds of $2000 when he appeared before Judge Charles J. Brown in the Newton District Court.

RUM PURCHASE CASE GOING TO HIGH COURT

Federal Authorities Here Get Order to Push Issue of Buyer's Culpability

Official Washington has ordered federal authorities in Boston to carry the fight to the U. S. Supreme Court to determine whether a person is liable for purchasing liquor.

Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Elihu D. Stone, made this admission, following the decision by Judge James M. Morton, Jr., in the federal court here, that purchasing liquor is not a criminal offense under the prohibition act.

The opinion of Judge Morton, the senior district court judge here, quashed the indictment charging purchasing brought against James E. Farrar of Cross st., Watertown, a Boston Elevated trolley car operator, the first of its kind in the district, establishing a precedent.

Judge Morton took the stand in his decision that the whole issue is the true intent of Congress, and that he does not feel that Congress in drafting the prohibition laws intended to punish purchasers.

UP TO CONGRESS

If the U. S. Supreme Court upholds Judge Morton in his decision it is felt the issue can be squarely placed before Congress to pass additional legislation if they intend to hold purchasers equally guilty with sellers.

Asst. U. S. Dist.-Atty. Stone stated that the papers are already in preparation to carry the appeal to the highest tribunal.

Attorney Stone admitted that in the event the U. S. Supreme Court upholds the decision of Judge Morton the federal authorities here will make no further attempts to arrest purchasers on a purchasing charge or circumvent this particular charge by bringing charges of aiding and abetting.

CHARGES PENDING

The purchasing indictment against Farrar is pending. The authorities will not bring him into court and discharge him on this indictment inasmuch as they are appealing the decision of Judge Morton. Farrar, furthermore, is indicted on charges of transporting and possessing liquor. It is thought the federal authorities here will proceed against him on these charges before a great while, irrespective of the purchasing charge.

Two Knocked Down by Trolley Cars

A man and a woman were knocked down by trolley cars in the Back Bay and South Boston and seriously injured. Mrs. Cora Libby, 70, of Beacon st., while crossing Massachusetts av., near Beacon st., was hit by a trolley car operated by Lester Flynn of Forest st., Watertown.

The man, whose identity has not been learned, was knocked down while crossing Broadway, near B st., South Boston. George Russell of Green st., Jamaica Plain, was the operator of the car that hit him.

Steel Fireboat to Replace Engine 31

A new steel fireboat with a pumping capacity of 10,000 gallons per minute will replace the old wooden boat, designated as engine 31, within the next year, and will be the first of a fleet of three such boats which will be added to the department by Mayor Curley.

The City Council committee on finance approved the mayor's order for an appropriation of $350,000 for the new boat.

MORE CARE IN COURTS URGED BY WEEKS

Hub Lawyer Raps Prosecutors Who Allow Ambitions to Enter Work

State attorneys who allow political ambitions to enter the prosecution of persons suspected of crimes, were flayed by Atty. William E. Weeks, former mayor of Everett, and now a resident of Reading, in an address on "Evenhanded Justice," at the North Woburn Congregational Church.

Weeks, prominent in Boston legal circles, asserted that statistics compiled by investigating commissions indicate 350,000 men in the United States live by crime; that crimes each year cause a loss to business of approximately $4,000,000,000; that $2,000,000,000 are annually expended in this country to protect life and property.

"Such a desperate condition demands and is receiving the consideration of our nation's most distinguished scholars," he said.

CURE IN PROSECUTION

"In New York such consideration has resulted in an effective organization by which useful and productive employment has been furnished to persons released from jails and penitentiaries.

"The crime wave has been responsible for hasty, ill-considered action in the courts of some jurisdictions. Prosecutors should be more careful, fair, and impartial in the investigation and trial of persons accused of crime. Innocent persons have been indicted and the indictment subsequently nol-prossed for lack of evidence in its support."

"Even-handed justice demands the protection of innocent persons who are accused of crime as well as the prosecution of those undeniably guilty," the lawyer said.

INNOCENT CONVICTED

Many innocent men in the last few years in various jurisdictions have been convicted and subsequently released; James Finn and Thomas Brown, at Attleboro, last February; Benjamin Collins of Lowell, indicted and convicted as a bag snatcher, in Middlesex County, sentenced, but released upon motion of the district attorney after the real culprit was discovered.

"George Grace, of Cambridge, indicted as a burglar, arrested, held in $10,000 bail, but released when the real offender was found.

"The pendulum has swung too far. Some prosecutors are determined to convict every accused person; to make a record in that respect and use that record as a political stepping stone.

political offender was found."

RABBI SEES END OF CHURCH WAR

At Temple Ohabei Shalom, Kent and Beacon sts., Brookline, Rabbi Samuel J. Abrams, speaking on "Organized Religion and World Peace," said:

"I believe that the abridgement of religious liberty in Soviet Russia is a passing phase.

"Religion to most Russians was identical with barbarism, vice and reaction in the days of the Czars. It is this conception which is now being fought.

"The Soviet leaders will learn, as others have learned, that wherever man has been found, he has been found believing."

Myrna Pike — Betty Gilbert

East meets West each weekday when Miss Pike of Bristol, R. I., and Miss Gilbert of Spokane, Wis., start work in the kitchen at Simmons College. They are students in the home economic course. (Staff photo.)

5 HURT AS BUS, TROLLEY CRASH

Five men, including Herbert F. Brown of Elm st., Marblehead, national leader of the Improved Order Red Men, were seriously injured early today when a bus crashed into a trolley car on Humphrey st., Swampscott, throwing more than 60 persons on the car into a panic.

The injured in addition to Brown, all residents of Marblehead, were:

William H. Stevens of Mount Vernon st., possible fracture of several ribs and injuries to head and face.

Charles Foss of Gregory st., injuries to head and side.

Roy Peach of Russell st., injuries to side, head and arms.

William Thompson, injuries to side.

All were taken to Mary Alley Hospital at Marblehead in two ambulances which were rushed from Swampscott and Marblehead after police were notified of the crash.

The injured men were part of a party of 15 Marblehead Red Men, who had been attending exercises of Tarantine Tribe at Salem. The bus was operated by Charles W. Wells of Western ave., Lynn.

The trolley car was operated by Motorman William Sanderson, who quieted the crowd after several women screamed and a rush for the doors started.

ATHLETICS FOR GIRLS URGED

A plea for competitive athletics for girls throughout the country was made by William S. Packer in an address before the Boston group of the women's division of the N. A. A. F. meeting in conjunction with the Massachusetts Society of the American Physical Education Association at Teachers' College, Fenway. His subject was "Athletics for Girls."

Packer said that athletics for girls should be as widespread and as popular as athletics for men.

Tennis was named as an ideal game for girls by Packer, and he mentioned several national champions who have played in tournaments when it was generally believed that they were well past their prime.

Track athletics was mentioned as an ideal sport for women because of the variety of events, giving opportunity for recreation and instilling in all the idea of wholehearted competitive effort.

The men's group was addressed by Coach Arthur Sampson of the Tufts College team, who takes up his new duties as assistant coach at Columbia University next fall.

Dinner to Honor Dentist

The dental profession of Massachusetts and New England announce a golden anniversary dinner to be given in honor of James Harris Daly, D.M.D., D.M.D. at the University Club, Boston, Wednesday, March 12, at 6 p. m.

ECONOMY IS STRESSED BY MAYOR

Joy Riders and Phone Users Hit in Parley With Heads of City Departments

Mayor Curley jammed the brakes on the whole structure of petty graft in the city service when he informed department heads that joy riding in city cars, using city phones and enjoying sumptuous repasts at the city's expense must end.

Plug up the leaks, produce 100 cents in value for every dollar or quit, was the gist of the remarks made by the Mayor to his executives.

Pointing to increases in the budget estimates and school department estimates, Mayor Curley told the executives that the strictest economy must prevail to escape a $3.38 increase in the tax rate.

FULL DAY'S WORK

Although the Mayor controls only 39 per cent of the city's expenditures he will request other departments not under his jurisdiction to observe similar rigid economies and will demand that the full day's work, from 9 to 5, be put in by city employees.

About 60 per cent of the cost of government is for personal service, the Mayor pointed out, and it is important that the city obtain that service.

A "blacklist" will be prepared for all contractors who fail to carry out the specifications of city contracts to the letter.

Once caught, they will never get another job while he is Mayor, Curley informed his department heads, and said that any inspector who is found favoring a contractor at the expense of the city will be discharged.

STEADY CHECKUP

City investigators, inspectors and visitors, who supervise public works involving the expenditures of millions of dollars of the city money will be checked and double-checked to avoid leakage of funds.

Politicians will have no influence at City Hall, if the department heads follow the orders of the mayor. "Recommendations of office holders must not influence you to do the best of your duties," the mayor ordered.

The department heads were ordered to call their workers together bi-monthly meetings to discover ways of conducting necessary economies.

The executives were commanded to see that the 20,000 city workers be as careful with municipal property as they would be with their own in preventing waste and damage.

NO NEW JOBS

A report of their stewardship will be demanded of the department heads in a month, for the mayor has decided to hold cabinet meetings monthly.

Unless they carry out orders, the limit of economies cannot be attained, the mayor declared, the city would be in a position to use it for necessary public improvements, providing jobs for the unemployed.

Creation of new positions on the city payroll will be taboo and only those absolutely necessary will be allowed by the mayor. The same rule will be held in regard to the filling of vacancies and promotions to fill vacancies will be suspended until June 1, when the budget increase becomes effective.

SAILOR MISSING AFTER ILLNESS

James Laurie, 30, fisherman on trawler Breeze, was taken from that vessel 230 miles east of Boston, Thursday, because of supposed pneumonia by Coast Guard destroyer Ammen which made a fast run to Graves Light. Dr. Parrish, coast guard physician at the base, found no fever or indications of pneumonia.

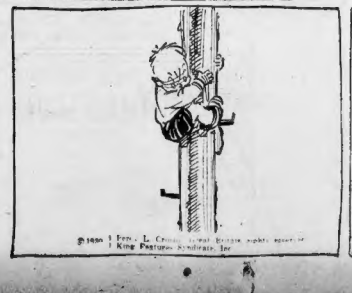
Laurie walked to the office of the Red State Fishing Co., owner of the Breeze, where he requested necessary papers for admission to the Mayer Hospital at Chelsea. He has not visited the hospital nor had he been heard from since.

Back Ray Woman Injured in Fall

Mrs Margaret Cowers, 38, of Pilavia st. Back Bay, is at the City Hospital with her name on the danger list as a result of injuries suffered when she fell from a window of her home, the second floor of an apartment house. She was fixing a clothesline when she lost he balance and fell out the window.

The woman [illegible] the left leg and a [illegible] fracture.

SKIPPY



A Climbing Rent

By Percy Crosby

© 1930 by Percy L. Crosby, distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

BRITAIN PLANS HUGE AIR ARMY FOR 1930

London, March 8 (AP)—British air force cost estimates for 1930, as shown in a white paper issued today, total £17,850,000 (about $85,-250,000), an increase of £800,000 (about $4,450,000) over 1929 expenditures.

Lord Thomson, Secretary of State for Air, said the increase would "allow for a broad continuity of air policy and approved increase of royal air force. The increase is of small dimensions, therefore demonstrating once more the earnest desire of His Majesty's government to avoid disastrous competition in air armaments."

He revealed that it was planned that the new airship, R100, should make a flight to Montreal in the spring and to India in the fall.

Pressed for time because of the French cabinet crisis delay, the naval conference labored today, foregoing the Saturday holiday.

There is anxiety in world delegations, especially among the Americans, over the diminishing amount of time left in this month. Counting out week-ends, there are only 14½ working days. With this in view, Premier MacDonald has intimated to all the delegations his hope that they forego Saturday holiday to rush the conference to quick conclusion.

Senator Reed conferred today with Ambassador Matsudaira of Japan, while Secretary Stimson and Ambassador Morrow conferred with Foreign Secretary Henderson.

Foreign Minister Briand of France had luncheon with Henderson and then accepted an invitation from Stimson to tea at Stanmore.

BORDER PATROL OF 2000 MEN IS PLANNED

Washington, March 8 (INS)—Despite the failure of Congress to act on two recommendations of the Wickersham law enforcement commission to better prohibition enforcement, the treasury is planning to submit a bill next week to create a unified border patrol army of 2000 men.

The new plan is designed to raise additional barriers to the smuggling of rum, aliens and merchandise on both the Canadian and Mexican borders, by the establishment of a semi-military organization modelled after the famous Canadian mounted police.

"I am informed by those preparing the bill for the treasury that it will be submitted within a few days," said Representative Parker (D.) of New York, chairman of the house committee on interstate commerce, who is expected to handle the legislation.

The border patrol would weld the present coast guard force, prohibition agents, customs patrol men, immigration agents and others into one unit.

Dry leaders were aroused today over the presidential mandate in the House by Representative Bachman (R.) of West Virginia that the Wickersham recommendations for a "one trial" plan to speed prohibition enforcement would fail.

They also were confronted with opposition to the commission's plan to transfer prohibition enforcement from the Treasury to the Justice Department.

COLONY SEAL ON SPECIAL STAMP

Washington, March 8—Postmaster-General Brown has formally approved the design of the special two-cent stamp which the government will issue in commemoration of the tercentenary of the Massachusetts Bay Colony.

The design, submitted some days ago by Frank Isse Hutchinson of Worcester, vice-chairman of the tercentenary commission, is based on the ancient seal of the colony. It shows the erect figure of an Indian, with this inscription in Latin underneath: "Seal of the Governor and the Society of Massachusetts Bay in New England."

The original design submitted had as its central figure an engraving of John Winthrop, first Governor of the colony, but the engraving bureau of engraving objected that Winthrop's features were blurred when reduced to stamp size. In the new design, it is understood, the figure of the Indian stands out prominently, although the words underneath will be difficult to decipher with the naked eye.

The postoffice department announced that work on the stamps would begin at once, and they will probably be ready for distribution within the next month.

Congresswoman Rogers has announced that the House committee on coinage will grant a hearing on Monday on her bill for the striking of a souvenir half-dollar commemorating the tercentenary.

CAPITAL LEADS IN RUM CASES

Washington, March 8 (INS)—The Capitol, which President Hoover and others want made a model city, led the nation over a four-year period in the number of prohibition cases pending in Federal courts, according to figures compiled by Rep. Bachman (R.) of West Virginia.

Bachman told the House that he obtained the figures from the Department of Justice. He said Congress and not the President would be to blame if prohibition is not enforced.

"The District of Columbia," Bachman said, "Seat of the Government and the Society of Massachusetts Bay in New England."

The original design submitted had as its central figure an engraving of John Winthrop, first Governor of the colony, but the engraving bureau of engraving objected that Winthrop's features were blurred when reduced to stamp size. In the new design, it is understood, the figure of the Indian stands out prominently, although the words underneath will be difficult to decipher with the naked eye.

The postoffice department announced that work on the stamps would begin at once, and they will probably be ready for distribution within the next month.

Congresswoman Rogers has announced that the House committee on coinage will grant a hearing on Monday on her bill for the striking of a souvenir half-dollar commemorating the tercentenary.

RIOT SQUADS TO HALT REDS

Police, equipped with machine guns, and gas bombs, will block any attempt of communists to parade without a permit in the South End tonight, before holding a mass meeting at 995 Washington st., Superintendent Crowley declared today.

Today will be observed as "International Women's Day," and has been called by the communist international. The reds will celebrate it throughout the world.

The officials have obtained a complete list of the red ringleaders in the city and should this group cause further serious disturbances in any part of the city it was intimated federal authorities will be asked to deport the aliens among them.

Another mass meeting will take place in Stanford st. tomorrow night and another parade will be attempted in the South End at the just before the meeting. Stephens insisted that it is the right of the Reds to hold their parades.

Fleeing Bandits Kill Police Officer

Detroit, March 8 (AP)—Patrolman Dayton A. Winegar was shot to death today in a gun battle on St. Aubin ave. with four bandits who were fleeing with $6000 obtained in a haberdashery holdup. The robbers escaped.

Winegar was in front of the store when the two men ran out and leaped into a waiting automobile. The officer commandeered a car and gave chase. He ordered the car stopped on St. Aubin ave. He leaped out and started shooting. The robbers returned his fire and he fell.

Second Fire Damages Sen. Pittman's Home

Washington, March 8 (INS)—Fire for the second time in two months visited the home of Senator Key Pittman (D.) of Nevada last night.

Police reported damage was negligible.

The blaze was kindled by a spark from an open fire built by workmen engaged in reconstruction of Pittman's home, which was all but destroyed by flames in January.

Girl Pastor Resigns; Effects Attached

Franklin, N. H., March 8—Illness of her mother is given as the reason for the resignation of Miss E. Jewell Imhoff, pastor of the Nazarene Church.

Miss Imhoff wrote from Ebensburg, Pa., asking that her goods be shipped by express. Deputy Sheriff George E. Clark placed an attachment on the goods and they are still at the Franklin express office. A local automobile man had a bill for about $12 against Miss Imhoff.

Youth, 19, Rescues Chum From River

Calais, Me., March 8—Ernest Greenlaw, 19, saved the life of his chum, Ernest Fullerton, by pulling him out of St. Croix River, when he fell through the ice opposite Haley's Mill, where the ice had jammed and the boys were playing.

Border patrolmen and Deputy Sheriff Harvey Smith have been striving the boys off the ice the past four days while the ice has been breaking up the river.

Marie and Ileana on Nile Riverboat

Luxor, Egypt, March 8 (AP)—The river boat Mayflower, with Marie of Rumania and Princess Ileana on board, leaves Assuan today for Wadi Halfa, one mile below the second cataract. It was learned Princess Ileana was still wearing her engagement ring.

Official announcement was made in Bucharest Thursday that her engagement to Count Alexander von Hechberg, young German noble, had been broken.

Eight Bay State Boys Honored at Hebron

Hebron, Me., March 8 — Eight out of 10 honor posts for the Hebron Academy graduation ceremonies next June have been won by Massachusetts boys.

Arthur E. Nissen of West Roxbury was made valedictorian, and C. Burton Arthur of Walpole, salutatorian. Other awards to Massachusetts boys were given as follows:

Blaine E. Eynon of Brookline, class orator; Edward B. Hutchinson of Lynn, class poet; Earl W. Pulsifer of Whitman, odist; John W. Leslie of Newtonville, prophet; Paul F. Tierney of Hudson, class will; Thomas L. Wiles of Watertown, in charge of gifts.

Water Case Here Monday

Hartford, Ct., March 8—The state of Connecticut has ended its presentation of evidence on which it asks the United States Supreme Court to enjoin Massachusetts from diverting waters of the Ware and Swift rivers. Hearings will reopen Monday morning in Boston, when the Bay State is expected to present more testimony.

Letters From Readers

State Control of Milk Favored

Editor Boston American:

Reading your paper I notice that the city bacteriologist is opposed to State control of milk inspection. Personally I think it should be controlled by the State. My two younger children have taken milk at the school for four years. During that time they have been continually absent from school during the winter months with illness. A large part of these illnesses have been from sore throats. There has never been a month fall to spring in which I have not had doctors' bills. A year ago a Boston firm started delivering milk here in Sharon and I started using pasteurized milk.

This last fall on entering school I told the children they would drop the milk for this year. To date I have had two doctor's calls for a sore throat in one of the children and that was during an epidemic. The other child has not missed a day on account of sickness. This may be a coincidence, but I'm inclined to doubt it.

A man may sell milk from a tuberculin-tested herd, but he also can buy spare milk here, there and everywhere from people whose cows are not only not tested, but kept under unsanitary conditions. It is the custom in country towns for dealers to buy up surplus milk, and for that reason I feel the State should protect the children and babies.

I often wonder why it is that milk produced right here is higher priced than that brought all the way from Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire, and pasteurized and then delivered in the outlying towns. My milkman tells me he can deliver milk for 20 cents per week per one-half pint bottle to the schools, as against 25 cents per week for raw milk here. And in the end it's cheaper and by far the safest milk for the children to drink.

Sharon. MOTHER.
A CONSTANT READER.

Tomorrow Never Comes, Why Worry?

Editor Boston American:

Why worry about anything that you think may happen tomorrow, when you know it to be an incontrovertible fact that the thing of which you are apprehensive cannot happen, because tomorrow is 24 hours ahead of you, always has been and always will be?

When a stranger is approaching us—apparently from behind—we sometimes wonder whether he has a rock in his hat which he has half concealed, or whether a machined for our most vulnerable protuberance; but, when he is ahead of us, going in the same general direction that we are and at a rate of speed which we can never keep up, why should we be concerned, in any sense as to what, if anything, he may have in his hand or his mind?

Sedulously refrain from worrying about tomorrow! You could not overtake it, even if you would violate every speed law in the "General Laws." It will still be just 24 hours ahead of you. It is the van of days.

Heed this admonition, and the metamorphosis thereby caused will constitute as an assemblage of philosophical splendors, a skiful psychology as the world has seen of life and a source of pride to mother.

ALVAH L. STINSON.

Tree Planting Seen as Double Benefit

Editor Boston American:

I hope your suggestion in editorial of February 24, that as an aid to the jobless Massachusetts plant trees, will carry.

It would give work and at the same time add to the beauty of our roads and thoroughfares. It would do no harm if trees were planted in many downtown streets that at one time had trees.

MAX HENRY NEWMAN.

Medal Urged for Boy Who Rescued Father

Editor Boston American:

While reading the Boston Evening American we were led where one of our boys in Newton saved his father's life in the Charles river on the coldest morning this year.

Interested in this young man we learned that he is a very popular fellow.

His father is a man weighing over 200 pounds, and he weighs about 150. He sure must of had some fight in the icy waters to save his father.

Now we ask Boston Evening American readers to help this young man of Newton to be awarded a Carnegie medal.

FAITHFUL READERS OF THE AMERICAN.

Newtonville.

Unemployment Good? Suggests Trying It

Editor Boston American:

Here's a man, a professor, who justifies unemployment. Prof. D. D. Leschier of the University of Washington, says: "Unemployment is beneficial to industry. It serves to redistribute population and creates new sources of workers for new industries."

The only way to cure that professor of his superior knowledge about unemployment is to give him the test of hunting for a job in all sorts of weather, for months, hungry, tired and ashamed to go home without some favorable report. The man of practical insight sees no good in unemployment, but if there is, please keep it to yourself, instead of noising it abroad. It does no good.

JOHN McGINNESS.

Movie Song Hits and Radio Jazz

Editor Boston American:

In regard to "Jazz Broadcasting," I noted R. T. Walshe's letter in the Americana, and I applaud him very much. However, no one has answered the question in my mind as yet.

Just what constitutes jazz? Do they refer to the latest song hits, which have made recent talkies so popular? They have been a success in the talkies, why not on the radio?

MAURICE ALTER.

American Story Brings Family Aid

Editor Boston American:

I wonder if you have any idea of the good done by your paper in calling attention to needy, worthy families.

I have in mind a very pathetic case of a father, mother and two babies in dire circumstances, the father unable to obtain work, which came to the attention of your paper through Patrolman Ralph Staton of Division 21, two weeks ago.

The Boston Rooming House Association has followed this case up and I would like to report back to you, that due to your timely help, father is now working, and the family lives in a clean, warm, sunny place in the district nurse's home.

The Boston Rooming House Association sends greeting and hopes for a continuation of your good work.

MRS. ANDREW GIBBS.

London School Bill $20,000,000 Higher

London, March 8 (AP)—An increase of approximately £20,000,000 is shown in the estimates of the Board of Education made public today. The cost per pupil has risen since before the war by nearly 200 per cent.

The total estimates are £45,495,653, or £3,809,754 more than last year, and nearly three times as much as in 1913-14, and, excepting 1920 and 1921, the figure is larger than ever before.

Yale Puts No Ban on Students' Flights

New Haven, Conn., March 8 (INS)—Yale University refuses to take responsibility for student air flights but the faculty will not prevent a student from flying if he has his parents' permission. Such is the final declaration made today by Dean C. W. Mendell in response to the plea of the student body for official recognition of their flying activities.

Old House Burned

Fall River, March 8—A pre-Revolutionary homestead, the old Wilbur house, on Lawton st., South Somerset, has been destroyed by fire.

Radio Dealer Expands

Standard Stores at 371 Washington st. brings further expansion to one of New England's largest radio chain organizations, now with outlets in Boston and suburbs, and 13 others throughout Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Today's Church News and Views

CREED UNITY IS FORECAST BY MEETINGS

Each week there comes to the desk numerous notices of union meetings between congregations of different creeds. These have increased so rapidly during the last six years that one must keep a sharp lookout to observe denominational lines. So often are they crossed that they begin to look like dots and dashes in place of lines.

In Arlington Town Hall tomorrow evening there will be a Lenten service in which every Protestant church will take part, and each of the 10 clergymen will assume some duty. Bishop Slattery will preach the sermon.

NEW SCIENCE CHURCH

In the new Christian Science Church of Cambridge, Waterhouse st., that city has another outstanding piece of noble architecture. There are certain resemblances to the Pantheon in Rome, with great columns in front and its flat dome. The body is of brick and the windows are colonial. Services have been held for a number of years in what is now the basement or vestry.

NOONDAY MEETINGS

There are noonday Lenten meetings at the Tremont Temple, at which all Protestant denominations take a share of responsibility and the audiences are peppered and salted with Methodists, Baptists, Episcopalians, Presbyterians, Unitarians, Universalists and all the rest.

FRIENDLY MATTAPAN

Out in Mattapan a series of union meetings are being conducted by Coles F. Tompkins in which Baptists and Presbyterians join. This week the meetings are in the First Baptist, and next week in St. Paul's Presbyterian.

PROHIBITION

Dr. A. Z. Conrad, whose strict adherence to his faith and creed makes it hard sometimes for him to join co-operative undertakings, is now hard at work with a great project in which churches of Greater Boston are asked to join. A thousand laymen have been invited to Park Street Church next Monday evening—ten from each of a hundred churches. They will resolve itself into a committee of the whole to make arrangements for a mass meeting five or six times as large, to be held in the near future for the purpose of emphasizing the fact that Dr. Conrad, that Boston and Massachusetts have a tremendous law abiding citizenship of "constitutionalists," as he terms those who believe in law enforcement.

BELOVED PASTOR LEAVES

The Rev. John A. McClelland, a vigorous leader among the Presbyterians and also in the Federation of Churches, is about to pack up his family goods and he him to a large Presbyterian church in New Bedford. His brothers grieve to see him go, and on Monday noon they will tender him a farewell luncheon at the student house at 185 Bay State rd. He declares that New Bedford is no near Boston that he will often return.

RUSH WORK ON ST. STEPHEN'S

There is no place for dry rot in St. Stephen's Catholic Church, North Hanover st., according to Fr. Francis V. Murphy. His church was recently damaged by fire and much of the fine old structure, built by the famous architect, Bulfinch, was injured. In repairing it the building is being strengthened at the points upon which the roof rested, badly decayed by dry rot. Workmen are now being rushed, and the hope that all may be in readiness for dedication services before Cardinal O'Connell sails for Europe April 19.

COMMON CAUSE

Mr. David Goldstein of the Common Cause forum, meeting at Franklin Hall, Berkeley st., tomorrow evening, promises his audience an interesting time with some revelations of the inside workings of socialism in Russia.

MORGAN MEMORIAL

The Rev. E. J. Helms, of Morgan Memorial, will preach tomorrow morning at the Church of All Nations on Shawmut ave., and will take for his Lenten theme: "Jesus' Decision as to Cross." Jones is to speak during the day will be the Rev. S. D. Malouf, the Rev. Maurice T. Joseph, and the Rev. A. Sigmore. In the evening the Rev. A. G. Young will preach on "Experience."

COMMUNITY CHURCH

An Indian and pupil of Annie Besant, and the son of a Brahmin —J. Krishnamurti—will be the speaker at Community Church tomorrow morning. He is known as an outstanding spiritual leader, though his advocates do not prefer it and allows his followers to find truth as they may. His writings are devotional and mystical.

FAREWELL AT DUDLEY ST.

The Rev. Cleveland J. Wilson, for six years assistant minister at the Dudley St. Baptist Church, will give his farewell sermon tomorrow morning. In the evening a special program will be in the hands of the Page Class Orchestra of 20 pieces and a chorus of 60 voices.

SECOND CHURCH

Memorial chimes will be dedicated tomorrow evening at the Second Church, Dorchester, when Frank E. Bennett will present them to the church in memory of his parents. The Rev. Vaughan Dabney will preach the sermon, "The Way of the Chimes." Miss Margaret Read Martin will give an organ recital. In the morning Dr. Dabney will preach on "A Church Born of the Spirit." At 6 o'clock Prof. Samuel A. Weaver of Tufts College will speak on "Is Evolution Opposed to Christianity?"

CHURCH AND SALVATION

The speaker on the program for tomorrow in Boston's Catholic Truth Period broadcast over radio station WNAC (the Shepard stores) will be the Rev. Francis L. Keenan, D.D., professor of theology at St. John's Seminary, Brighton. His subject will be "Confession."

The Question Box will again be conducted by the Rev. M. J. Ahern, S. J., and an interesting musical program will be rendered by a choir of mixed voices under John A. O'Shea, organist and director. The detailed musical program is printed above.

HOLMAN SISTERS

Two sisters of Mrs. Everett O. Fisk, one of Boston's best known women, will present tomorrow morning at the First Methodist church on Temple st., of their missionary work in India. These Holman sisters are well known in the far east missionary field, but no better than their sister, Mrs. Fisk of Boston, for her home missionary activities.

CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT

The Rev. Carlyle Summerbell, of the Roslindale Unitarian Church, will preach tomorrow morning on the life, lesson, and character of Mr. Chief Justice Taft.

FIRST CHURCH

A vesper service will continue at the First Church tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 there will be played and sung "The Requiem" by Johannes Brahms. The organist is in memory of the Rev. Edward Cummings, who was the minister of the South Congregational Church on Newbury st. and was killed several years ago in New Hampshire.

The regular choir will be augmented by a soprano, Mrs. Elizabeth Worcester Beaman; bass, David Blair McClosky; tympani, H. Sternberg. William E. Zeuch will be at the organ.

THE SWAMI BACK AGAIN

Now returns the leader of Boston's Vedanta Center, Swami Paramananda, who will tomorrow celebrate at the center 32 Fenway the birth of Sri Ramakrishna—"A modern Avatar." Sri was a village boy in Bengal, India, and Romain Rolland said of him, "He is the soul which animates modern India."

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL

Noonday services will begin at St. Paul's Cathedral on Tremont st. Today Dr. Alfred Worcester of Harvard University will preach, and through next week the Rev. H. Percy Silver, D.D. of the Church of the Incarnation of New York.

Student Loses His $50,000 Balm Suits

Chicago, March 8 (INS)—Details of a companionate marriage contract termed by Judge Michael McGee as "outrageous" were made public today after Leo Dolan, 22-year-old student and companionate marriage husband, lost his $50,000 heart balm suits brought against his father-in-law. The bride was Virginia Ruth Dolan, also a student.

Under the pact the wife was forbidden to call upon the husband for support "nor contract bills in his name until such time as he shall have completed his education and shall have been admitted to the bar."

Must Die in Killing of Ex-U. S. Engineer

Southampton, Eng., March 8 (AP)—William Henry Podmore today was found guilty of murdering Vivian Messiter and was sentenced to death.

Podmore, Southampton garage proprietor and at one time an engineer in the United States, was found slain last year. Podmore, known as the "man with the scar," was employed in Messiter's garage.

Watch and Ward to Fight New Book Bill

The book censorship bill as presented to the Legislature by the committee on legal affairs is to be fought by the New England Watch and Ward Society, instigator of the prosecution in the recent Dunster book store case.

Well-Known Clergymen

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR

CATHOLIC PRIEST

We print today the silhouettes of two well-known Boston clergymen. Those sent in for a larger copy will send to the Church Editor the right names or name, and a return envelope. Previously the silhouettes of Fr. M. J. Ahern, the Rev. Vaughan Dabney, Dr. Samuel A. Eliot and Rabbi Harry Levi have been printed.

CATHEDRAL MISSION BEGINS

The annual mission at the Cathedral will begin on Sunday, March 9, and will be preached by the Oblate Fathers.

The preachers will be Rev. Frs. John C. Duffy, O. M. I.; Arthur P. Connors, O. M. I.; Gerald L. Kenealy, O. M. I., and William A. Dillon, O. M. I.

The first week, March 9 to March 16, will be for the women of the parish, and the second week, March 16 to March 23, for the men of the parish.

The mission for non-Catholics will begin on Passion Sunday, April 6, and end on Palm Sunday, April 13, and will be preached by the Rev. William A. Dillon, O. M. I.

BAPTIST MINISTERS

The boy—holds a very large place in the program of every live church. Monday morning in Chipman Hall, Tremont Temple, the Rev. Ernest Bryant, who is an expert on boys' camps, will address the Baptist ministers.

TERCENTENARY

Congregational ministers at their regular meeting Monday morning in Pilgrim Hall will listen to the Rev. Warren Prince Landers, who will talk on "This Freedom."

CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT

The Rev. Carlyle Summerbell, of the Roslindale Unitarian Church, will preach tomorrow morning on the life, lesson, and character of Mr. Chief Justice Taft.

FIRST CHURCH

A vesper service will continue at the First Church tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 there will be played and sung "The Requiem" by Johannes Brahms. The organist is in memory of the Rev. Edward Cummings, who was the minister of the South Congregational Church on Newbury st. and was killed several years ago in New Hampshire.

The regular choir will be augmented by a soprano, Mrs. Elizabeth Worcester Beaman; bass, David Blair McCloskey; tympani, H. Sternberg. William E. Zeuch will be at the organ.

THE SWAMI BACK AGAIN

Now returns the leader of Boston's Vedanta Center, Swami Paramananda, who will tomorrow celebrate at the center 32 Fenway the birth of Sri Ramakrishna—"A modern Avatar." Sri was a village boy in Bengal, India, and Romain Rolland said of him, "He is the soul which animates modern India."

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL

Noonday services will begin at St. Paul's Cathedral on Tremont st. Today Dr. Alfred Worcester of Harvard University will preach, and through next week the Rev. H. Percy Silver, D.D. of the Church of the Incarnation of New York.

Student Loses His $50,000 Balm Suits

Chicago, March 8 (INS)—Details of a companionate marriage contract termed by Judge Michael McGee as "outrageous" were made public today after Leo Dolan, 22-year-old student and companionate marriage husband, lost his $50,000 heart balm suits brought against his father-in-law. The bride was Virginia Ruth Dolan, also a student.

Under the pact the wife was forbidden to call upon the husband for support "nor contract bills in his name until such time as he shall have completed his education and shall have been admitted to the bar."

Must Die in Killing of Ex-U. S. Engineer

Southampton, Eng., March 8 (AP)—William Henry Podmore today was found guilty of murdering Vivian Messiter and was sentenced to death.

Podmore, Southampton garage proprietor and at one time an engineer in the United States, was found slain last year. Podmore, known as the "man with the scar," was employed in Messiter's garage.

Watch and Ward to Fight New Book Bill

The book censorship bill as presented to the Legislature by the committee on legal affairs is to be fought by the New England Watch and Ward Society, instigator of the prosecution in the recent Dunster book store case.

GATHERING OF N. E. JEWISH EDUCATORS

From all parts of New England Orthodox Jews will come to Boston tomorrow to take part in the second annual educational conference. The gathering is under the auspices of the New England Branch of the United Synagogue of America and the Associated "Ys" of New England.

The conference will attract to it teachers of all the religious schools of the Conservative synagogues of New England, representatives of the brotherhoods and sisterhoods, members of the school boards and "Y" secretaries, and workers and delegates from the Associated "Ys."

Meetings are to be held in Temple Mishkan Tefila in Roxbury.

"MAN"

A lesson-sermon, common to all "Churches of Christ," tomorrow will be just plain "Man."

The Golden Text is: "Blessed is the man whom thou choosest, and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple" (Psalms 65:4).

N. E. PRESBYTERIAN DAY

A large attendance made the Presbyterian Laymen's Day at the First Presbyterian Church notable last Thursday. Prominent clergymen came from many parts of the United States.

DREAMS, ALL ABOUT THEM

Hereward Carrington, the speaker at Ford Hall tomorrow evening, stands as one of the leading psychol scientific physical research authorities in America. He will declare that there are some genuine mediums and that the girl "Margery, well known in Boston, is one of them."

RADEGONDE GUILD

Monday evening at Boston College high school, Dr. James L. Kelly, medical director of the New England Telephone Company, will address the guild on "The Hubbub of Hearing." Harry T. Mocann is president and hopes for a large attendance.

LENTEN NOON-DAY MASS

There will be mass at St. Stephen's Church on Hanover st. each week-day noon hour during Lent. The novena on Thursdays will be continued. The services are 12:15, 3:30, 5:20 and 7:45.

KING'S CHAPEL

The Rev. Carl Reiland, D. D., of St. George's Church, New York City, will be the noon day preacher at King's Chapel this coming week. He begins Tuesday, and Monday will be at Vermont Theater.

BAPTIST

THE SINGING CHURCH
DUDLEY ST. BAPTIST (Dudley Corner)
Dudley St. El. Station.
Rev. Arthur T. Brooks, Pastor. 10:30, SERMON: "GOD'S HUSBANDRY." Rev. C. J. Wilson, Concorde Male Quartet and Jr. Chorus; Jos. F. M. GREAT "MUSICAL EVENING" SERVICE. Special music by orchestra of 20, Mixed Quartet (Mgr. Samuel Wilson) and Girls' Trio; Pastor Soloist. SERMON: "THE SINGING LIFE," Pastor Brooks. Come early for a seat.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Commonwealth Ave. at Clarendon St.
10:00 A. M. Bible School. 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Public worship and Gospel preaching. Dr. Harold Major, pastor.

BROOKLINE BAPTIST

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Services 11:00 A. M.—7:00 P. M.
Rev. Samuel M. Lindsay

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
The Mother Church, Falmouth, Norway and St. Paul Sts., Boston. Sunday services at 10:45 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Subject of lesson sermon, "Man." Sunday School at 10:45 A. M. Testimonial meeting every Wednesday evening at 7:30.

CONGREGATIONAL

Park St. Church
Pastor A. Z. CONRAD
Broadcast from WNDH 10:58 A. M.
"Who Cares?"

MOUNT VERNON CHURCH
Beacon Street and Massachusetts Avenue
Ministers: Sidney Lovett, Andrew Bowe Chaisson
11 A. M., Morning Worship. 7:30 P. M., Young People's Society.

FORUM

COMMON CAUSE FORUM
TOMORROW 7:45 P. M.
DAVID GOLDSTEIN
Subject
"SOVIET WAR ON RELIGION"
FRANKLIN UNION HALL
Berkeley and Appleton Sts.
Public Invited Free Platform

ROSLINDALE UNITARIAN
ROSLINDALE UNITARIAN
Sermon 11:00 A. M.
"MR. TAFT, THE UNITARIAN CHURCHMAN"
Rev. Carlyels Summerbell

LENTEN VESPERS

BRAHMS REQUIEM
Under the direction of
WILLIAM E. ZEUCH
Tomorrow at 4:30 P. M. at
FIRST CHURCH, BOSTON
(Cor. Berkeley and Marlboro Sts.)
Choir of 60 Voices
Soloists: Mrs. Elizabeth Worcester Beaman, soprano; Mr. David Blair McCloskey, bass; Mr. H. Sternberg, tympani.
This is the First of a Series of LENTEN MUSICAL VESPERS
THE PUBLIC IS INVITED

NEW THOUGHT

CATHERINE THOMPSON ASTROLOGER
Known from coast to coast for her accurate analysis of character. Correct knowledge of the eternal laws which result in great trouble, will be of inestimable value to you for your advancement. Reasons Apartments, 11 Hull Bldg. Hrs. 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

DR. CALVIN B. BRAGANZA (Fa. D.)
Spiritual Adviser,
Mystic-Psychologist,
Psycho-Analyst,
Crystal Life Reading Seer,
From the Cradle to the Grave.
Interviews by appointment. Ken. 1250
STUDIOS—83 WESTLAND AVE.

PRESBYTERIAN

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Rev. Philip H. Clifford
Columbus Ave. and Berkeley St.
Services 10:30 A. M., 7:30 p. M. Sunday 12 noon

SPECIAL SERVICE

Community Church
SYMPHONY HALL
SUNDAY, 10:45 A. M.
J. Krishnamurti
Spiritual Teacher. Author of "At the Feet of the Master" and other works.

UNITARIAN

Arlington St. Church
Boylston and Arlington Sts.
Arlington Entrance
11:00 A. M. SERMON BY
Rev. Minot Simons, D.D.
"The Supreme Mystery"

VEDANTA CENTER

VEDANTA
Swami Paramanda has returned from California and will celebrate the anniversary of the birth of Sri Ramakrishna.
Services 11 A. M., 3:30 P. M., 8 P. M.
Tuesday—8 P. M.
32 Fenway. You Are Welcome

HARVARD-YALE ICE TEAMS BATTLE

AMERICAN SPORTS SECTION

FOR SPORTS—CALL LIBERTY 4000 SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1930 FOR SPORTS—CALL LIBERTY 4000

Russell, Gaston and Ruffing Red Sox Mound Standbys

VETERANS TO BEAR BRUNT OF WORK

By JOE CASHMAN

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 8—Manager Heinie Wagner of the Red Sox is struck on several of his new young pitchers, but the five veteran right-handers who carried the mound burden last year are the men on whom the pilot is counting to do the bulk of the twirling this season.

This Heinie as much as admitted today when he announced that Jack Russell, Milton Gaston and Charlie Ruffing would divide the pitching duties in the first exhibition game to be played with the Pensacola Naval Base nine, here tomorrow.

Most of the rookie flingers are in better shape than anyone of the veteran trio slated to work. If Heinie believed that some of the youngsters might become regulars, he would want to see them in actual competition as soon as possible and would use them on the morrow.

His selection proves that he is far more interested in getting the veterans in shape than he is in developing any bushers.

VETERANS HAVE EDGE

The choice of Charlie Berry, Eddie Connolly and Bab Asby to do the receiving in the Sabbath tilt shows, too, that neither Horace Powers nor Fred Bailey, the new catchers, are quite in the same class with their more experienced rivals.

So except for possibly three or four new second string pitchers it appears now as though the Red Sox battery work would be performed this season by the same players who did it a year ovck.

All the fielders will work during the game. That is necessary tomorrow, of course, because none of them have trained long enough to be in shape to play nine innings except Reeves and Barrett, who powered the first call.

But if they were all in trir to go the full distance, each would see only part time service.

For Wagner is as uncertain as to who will be the regular fielders this season as he is virtually certain as to who will do most of the pitching and catching.

PILOT HAD DOUBTS

When training started the pilot had his doubts about some of the new fielders being as good as reported. He decided that everybody veteran and rookie alike, would start from scratch, but he had an idea that the fight for several of the berths would end quickly by the veterans proving vastly superior to the newcomers.

He knows different today. Each of the new fielders has shown plenty of class and proven that he isn't going to be knocked out of the running for a long while, if ever.

Consequently, he will use all his fielders in every exhibition game until further notice.

He may be able to eliminate some of them from consideration before the season starts, but it doesn't seem so at this recording.

It will surprise us if he is able to pick his regular fielders until well after the race begins.

Rain fell here yesterday morning and left the field in such bad shape that when the boys did get out about noon all they could do was warm up, bunt a bit and run around the track.

To make up for the practice lost, Wagner intends to put the squad through the limit today, especially the fielders, most of whom have engaged in only one practice session and need a lot of work to put them in shape for a game tomorrow.

Tufts Matmen Meet Tech Team Tonight

The Tufts and Tech wrestlers, varsity and freshmen, will meet tonight at Medford, in the final meet of the season for both teams, which are to be entered in the New England Intercollegiates on March 14 and 15. The two seven-evenly-matched, with Tech having the edge through its early season victory over Harvard which easily defeated Tufts.

The lineups: Tufts varsity—Daniels, Stella, Cavoni, Sawyer, Beaver, Peck, Hanrahan and Littleton

Tufts freshmen—Armano, Borsari, Ar[illegible]lotti, Uanna, Story, Cochra[illegible]nn and Lasley.

Tech v[illegible]y—Axford, Perkins, Negus, Cooper, Vassalotti, Stone, Paul and Rabinow.

Tech freshmen—Pigeon, Pearson, Preseton, Snapp, Mostafa, Ford, Winkler and Cabaly.

Country Day Downs Browne & Nichols

Country Day School track men defeated Browne & Nichols, 42 2-3 to 20 1-3, to capture the Greater Boston private day school league title in a dual meet at the County Day track, Newton.

MR. BOSTON

by JACK CONWAY

Jack Conway

MR. BOSTON, sunburned and as cheerful as a schoolboy starting on a holiday, gave the old Miamuh cheer as he breezed into the sporting department today.

"I was glad to leave for the South but I'm more pleased at getting home," piped the veteran.

"Traveling makes one like the old home town better. There are thousands of New England folks in Florida who are trying to devise ways to get home. They went South with only their train fare one way and a few ideas about making easy money at the expense of the tourists. The ideas were all right, but the tourists have been turning over a quarter a dozen times before spending it.

"Florida is having one of the poorest seasons it has ever had. There are plenty of people at the popular resorts but they are not spending any money unnecessarily.

"These persons who went to Florida with the expectation of making money off the tourist trade have been keenly disappointed.

"Blame it onto the stock market crash or what you will, there isn't any loose money in Florida this season.

"THE gambling houses all operated at a loss. Most of them haven't made enough money to pay off their help.

"The boys who used to buy the expensive chips are having dinner at the gambling casinos, watching the shows and then going home without throwing their money away on the games of chance in the gambling rooms.

"Stock market winners of a year ago laughed gaily as they lost from $500 to $10,000 gambling in the ritzy spots in greater Miami. Now when they spend a dollar they want a dollar of value in return.

OPERATORS of large auto stands have been hard hit. Visitors are either hiring cheaper cars by the week or spending their idle moments taking sun baths on the beach. They refuse to stand for the sock of $4 an hour for the rental of a car.

"The owner of a fleet of motor boats indignantly told me that the tourists refused to pay $15 and $20 an hour for the rental of his speed crafts. I frankly told him I didn't blame them, and he accused me of refusing to help an honest man make a dollar.

"I KNOW an owner of a duplex house, who refused a rental of $2750, payable in advance, for a period of six weeks. He demanded $3000 and ended up by having his place vacant for the season.

"Gyp was on in Miami Beach. A year ago wealthy people stormed the place and didn't care what the price was for anything they wanted. This season the wealthy element was nursing stock market wounds. They went to Florida, but went shopping. Most of them ended up by hiring apartments in Miami City or at Coral Gables where they got a run for their money.

"MILLIONAIRES are tougher than ordinary folks when they have met with a financial reverse. They cut down in every way until they have made up for the money they have lost.

"Florida should be the playground of the world in the winter time. Even Californians stop talking about their own marvelous climate when they go to Florida.

"Visitors, though, should be given an even break. They should not be treated as if they went to Florida merely to be gyped. I believe Steve Hannagan, publicity director for Miami Beach, and others who have done much to boom Florida, realize this and are trying to eliminate the gougers and the profiteers."

Of course I'm hoping to return to Florida when the season is high on our streets next winter, but if I do I shall go bargain hunting with the boys who blew their dough in the stock market crash.

"I'm going to take off my hat and coat, light up a cigar and stick around town for quite a while. And to everybody I say, 'Hello, and I'm glad to be home again.'

OPEN TENNIS OPPOSED BY FRANCE

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, March 10—Old World snobbery, the kind that recognizes blue-blooded idlers as gentlemen and red-blooded ambition not at all, may close an aristocratic door against the holding of the proposed open tennis championship in 1930, the writer is reliably informed today.

The issue is to come up at the annual convention of the International Tennis Federation in Paris on March 1, but they tell me that a certain element in class-conscious Europe is aghast at the very thought of the thing and may succeed in stampeding the meeting against it.

The objection, it seems concerns itself with the age-old barrier of the classes. The "aristocracy" doesn't wish to be identified with mediocre persons who are willing to stoop so low as to work for their money, because such an arrangement smacks of equality and it takes an aristocrat to raise just how unequal this existance is. At least, I think "mediocre persons" was the ter mused. It might have been tapioca, at that.

FRANCE, the current custodian of the Davis Cup, and, therefore, almost supreme in the councils of tennis politics abroad, is said to be the bellwether of the reactionaries. The country, it appears, is a nation of tennis players who divide themselves sharply into two grups, namely, (A) gentlemen, (B) professionals, and apparently it feels that never the twain shall mix.

Germany also is understood to be opposed to any step that would so flout the conventions. It seems that it has its gentlemen, too, and means to protect them against contacts that aren't worthy of their best traditions.

THOSE in favor of the event have mustered an impressive galaxy, including the English-speaking countries—America, England, Australia and Canada—but it may turn out that even a galaxy won't do. They may need a whole population.

For one thing, France's prestige is expected to carry most of the smaller European nations with it. For another, the joker in the resolution needs a two-thirds vote for ratification. The half-pint nations only control a vote or two apiece, but France and Germany have as many as America and England and more than Australia and Canada, so the matter is hardly the foregone conclusion it was supposed to be here. Well informed tennis men, in fact, are prepared for anything.

THE United States is definitely committed to the proposal, since it went on record at St. Louis at the meeting naming the site of the tournament as the Germantown Cricket Club, Philadelphia, and the date as mid-September.

Having gone that far, it performe will go all the way with the plan and England, a trifle hesitant at first, is now assumed to be just as staunch in its defense. Japan, meantime, is said to be on the fence.

In consequence, it begins to look as though America may have become agitated out of all reason. It wouldn't be exactly "amazing" if the federation opened the window and threw the entire business out on the car tracks to die in its own blood.

Scot Nobleman Wins Squash Title

New York, March 8 (AP)—The national court tennis championship today was in the hands of a Scottish nobleman, Lord Aberdare. The Scot won the title yesterday by defeating Francis P. Frazier of Boston, former University of Pennsylvania track athlete, 6—3, 6—1, 7—5

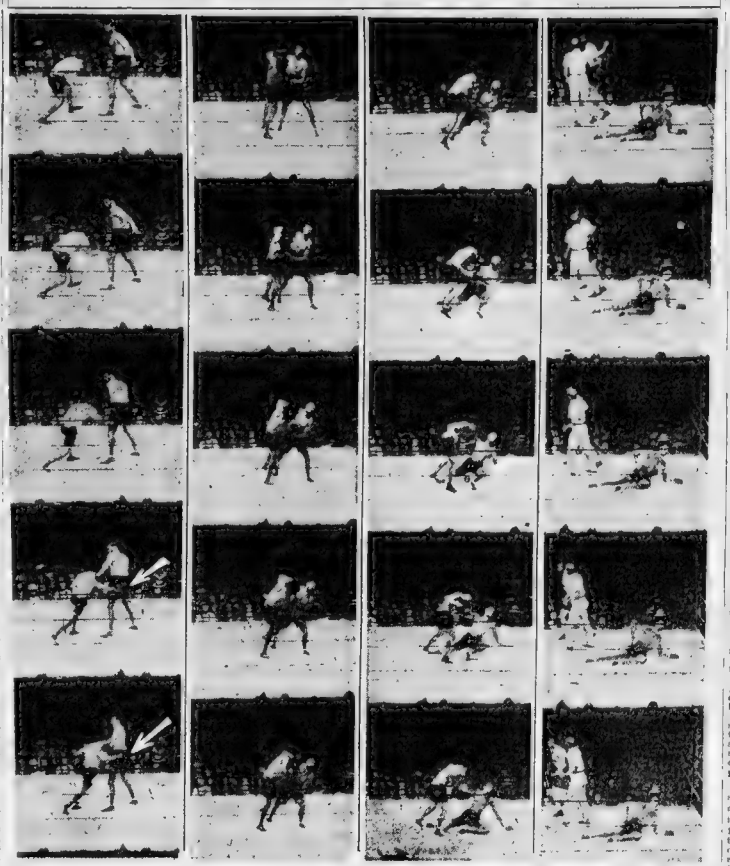
Lord Aberdare recently won the national squash racquets doubles title with Dr. H. C. Beamish and also was a strong contender in the racquets championship.

Sonny Uses Tackle to Win Over Lemle

Amarillo, Tex., March 7 (AP)—Ima Sonnenberg, world's heavyweight wrestling champion in several states, employed his famous flying tackle twice tonight to beat Carl Lemle Chicago, in straight falls. The first fall was in 28 minutes and the second in six.

For Other Sports See Page 13

MOVIE STILLS SHOW SHARKEY FOULED SCOTT



The above still pictures, made from the actual moving pictures of the third round of the Sharkey-Scott fight at Miami, secured by the International Newsreel in Florida, clearly show that Sharkey struck Scott low. The story of the punch which Scott said made it impossible for him to continue the fight is vividly told by the pictures. Starting at the left, and reading down, the first strip shows the start of the low punch. The first arrow shows the punch about to land. The second arrow shows Sharkey's low blow landing as Scott turns his body to avoid a serious foul. In the next strip, Sharkey is shown landing a left, followed by a right. Scott can be seen as he started to crumple. The following strips show Phil as he hits the canvas, and, in the final strip, Lou Magnolia is shown sending Sharkey to his corner while Scott reclines on the floor.

SHARKEY PUNCH LANDED ON HIP

Jack Sharkey struck Phil Scott with a right hand punch to the hip at a point below the belt in the third round of their bout at Miami, Fla.

This fact is revealed in still pictures which were made from the actual movies taken of the fight.

Scott went to the canvas following this punch and set up a claim of foul which was not allowed by Referee Lou Magnolia. The referee admitted Sharkey struck Scott on the hip, but he contended that in his opinion the blow did not injure the British champion to a point where he could not continue. He maintained that as referee it was within his discretion to decide if the hip punch had incapacitated Scott from further boxing.

Gene Tunney also stated he saw the hip punch, but added that it couldn't have hurt and that "Scott quit."

Scott resumed boxing after a rest of a minute and according to the experts at the ringside was then knocked out by a left hand sock to the solar plexus. Scott stated he was unable to continue after this last blow was scored. He claims he was still suffering from the effects of the hip punch when Sharkey landed what proved to be the finishing punch of the fight.

Jimmy Johnston, Scott's manager, contends that the hip punch was a foul and that only Scott could tell how badly he was hurt. He says Phil should have been awarded the decision on a foul at that point in the contest.

Louis K. MacReynolds, chairman of the Miami City Boxing Commission, calls attention to the fact that on the insistence of Johnston a rule was adopted that neither Scott or Sharkey could win the bout on a foul.

"Johnston stated he wanted Scott knocked out if he were to lose," said MacReynolds. "He argued against either Scott or Sharkey being declared a winner on a foul. Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's manager, agreed to this condition.

"Admitting that Sharkey paralyzed Scott's nerves with a punch to the hip, the referee was not in a position to declare the British champion a winner on a foul. Johnston, by getting our commission to ban a win on a foul, had made such a ruling impossible. Jimmy merely outsmarted himself."

Title Series Work Starts for Bruins

A final practice session at the Garden this afternoon will prime the Bruins for their game with Chicago Tuesday night, which will mark the start of the last week of scheduled hockey.

The Bruins having had things easy for two weeks now, are prepared to start working up to the peak of their game, so that they will go into the championship and world series play ready to play their best hockey of the year.

In recent practice sessions, the Bruins have appeared to be playing better hockey than at any time this season.

DIGLANE MEETS CHAMP ON MAT

Henri Diglane, brilliant French heavyweight star, will make his bid for heavyweight championship honors one week from Thursday night in the Arena, when he will clash with Dynamite Ole Sonnenberg, king of the wrestlers, in a two falls out of three fin, a match scheduled hockey.

Undefeated for two full seasons, the conqueror of such stars as Stanley Stasiuk, Wladick Zbyszko, Dan Koloff, Jack Sherry, Freddy Meyers, and many others, Diglane will be the most serious opponent the flying Dutchman has faced this year.

Diglane clinched his claims to a bout with Sonnenberg by his two scintillating victories over Jack Sherry at the Arena within the past three weeks, two of the greatest wrestling matches ever staged here.

The Frenchman has never wrestled Gus the Goat, but he has watched him in action several times and believes that with his speed and science, he will be able to stop the flying tackle.

Diglane has made himself one of the most popular of all wrestlers here by his clean, clever style of wrestling, and judging by the early advance sale, he and Sonnenberg will draw a tremendous throng to the Arena.

Sonnenberg has completely recovered from the injury which laid him low for a week, and is now making another whirlwind tour of the country meeting all comers.

He will be in Boston a week before his battle with Diglane, and will train at one of the local gymnasiums.

HARVARD GOES AFTER 2D WIN OVER YALE

LINEUP AT GARDEN

HARVARD		YALE
Giddens, Stubbs,	lw	Palmer, McLennan
Wood, Garrison,	c	Luce, Nelson
Putnam, Cross,	rw	Bostwick, Bent
Batchelder,	ld	Hickok
Cunningham,	rd	Id, Wilson
Ellis,	g	C. Curtiss

Referees, A. G. Smith and Donald Sands.

By BILL GRIMES

BEFORE a capacity crowd, which will include many reuniting classes from both institutions, Harvard and Yale will clash in the second game of their annual hockey series tonight at the Boston Garden.

A week ago Harvard came through with an unexpected victory in New Haven, which was the first defeat suffered by Yale this season. Yale is represented by one of the strongest and best balanced college sextets developed in years.

They have played such fine hockey all season that they were five to one favorites to beat the Crimson. But Harvard waited for the breaks and finally Capt. Elliot Putnam came through with a goal in the overtime period which gave the Crimson a victory.

A similar condition existed a year ago when Harvard stopped the Yale attack in the opening game and won, 2 to 1 only to have Yale take the series by annexing the next two games.

Bill Grimes

Fearing a repetition of last year's series, Harvard will play even more cautiously than they did in New Haven.

Every member of the Crimson squad from Coach Joe Stubbs down to the last spare appreciates the strength of the Elis. There is absolutely no danger of any overconfidence on the part of Harvard.

HARVARD'S RECORD BEST

Although Harvard lost the Yale series last year, they have a decided edge on Yale in hockey, having won 41 games against Yale's 16. Since the war, Yale has won three series, 1924, '25 and '29 but did not win a game from the Crimson from the third 1925 contest until the second game a year ago.

Both squads are primed for tonight's battle and if Yale equalizes the third and deciding game will be played at the Garden next Wednesday.

In all probability Coach Larry Noble will start the same combination which opened against Harvard last week, Coach Larry made an 11th hour switch when he sent Coleman Curtiss in to guard the Yale goal, replacing the veteran Frank Farrell.

Curtiss is a sophomore, hailing from Buffalo and started his hockey with the Nichols Hockey Club of the Bison City.

Although he was beaten three times by the Crimson, he turned in a fine performance, and with one Harvard game under his belt he should give even a better account of himself.

But, the same is also true of Harwood Ellis, the Crimson goal tender, who came through like a veteran in New Haven. Until two weeks ago, Ellis did not measure up to the Harvard standard of goalies but a few hints offered by Tiny Thompson of the Bruins started Ellis on the road to success.

BRUINS AID HARVARD

Ellis has had the advantage of Thompson's coaching and also has been in the nets against the Bruins in practice sessions, which has been of unmeasurable value to him.

Both Harvard and Yale are fortified with strong outer defenses. Charlie Cunningham and Sam Batchelder, who will protect Ellis, are far above the average college points. They play a rugged brand of defensive hockey and are the puck carriers Batchelder and Cunningham are football players, and are exceptionally strong blocking with their bodies.

Yale will also have a pair of well known gridsters on the outer defense, Bob Wilson and Dan Hickok, whose defensive work resembles that of Batchelder and Cunningham.

Bing Palmer Frank Luce and Dinnie Bostwick will be the Yale starting line. Palmer has been reputed to be the best college left wing in three seasons, despite the fact that he has only scored one goal against Harvard in six games. He is lightning fast and one of the keenest shots in the game.

Passing the Puck

Will Yale come back and win the Harvard series after losing the opening game, as it did a year ago? Penalties due to unnecessary hooking and chopping by the defense men had considerable bearing on Harvard's defeat last week.

The passing of some of the Harvard men appears to indicate that they were a bit nervous to get some experience on the ice, were to win the second or third game. Games cannot be won in penalty boxes.

Was for man, Coach Joe Stubbs' charges may not measure up to Yale as regards ability but Harvard has a very smart club, one which has a faculty for taking advantage of almost every opening.

Although Bing Palmer has scored many more goals than any collegian during the past three seasons he has not tallied once in six Harvard games. Bobby Gideons does a terrible job on the great Yale winger and it is just possible that Palmer now carries a complex into Harvard games.

A third Yale game would take Harvard hockey out of the "red," but Bill Bingham says that the H. A. A will write off this deficit if Captain Putnam's boys defeat Yale tonight.

Predicts Talkies Will Ruin Movies

Mrs. Emily Hale, who was the coach of the Simmons College annual play last year, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the college dramatic society [illegible] Theater from Both Ends [illegible] the Footlights.

Boston Hockey Club Plays Wildcats at Arena Tonight

FAST HUB SIX CONFIDENT IT WILL WIN

KENTVILLE WILDCATS, conquerors of University Club in two straight games, will tackle Boston Hockey Club, champion team of New England, in the Arena tonight.

The game was arranged last night during the progress of the Nova Scotians' spectacular 4 to 3 victory over the Trinity place clubmen.

The Wildcats had expected to pull out for St. John this morning but eagerly accepted the Hockey Club challenge.

HARD BATTLE

Inasmuch as the Hockey Club team also has a victory over University Club to its credit, the game promises to be a hot affair.

A crowd of 3000 saw the Kentville club beat the Unies, 4 to 3, in one of the wildest games ever played in the Arena.

A fist fight between Chan Hil Hard of the University Club and Ernie Mosher of the Wildcats; a penalty against Fred Leopold, Kentville goal-tender, one of 22 assessed during the game, and some brilliant hockey kept the crowd on its feet throughout.

HUB TEAM AFTER WIN

Boston Hockey Club players feel they can avenge the indignities suffered by their colnawmaren at the hands of the Nova Scotians.

Manager Bill Flynn will have full strength available for the game.

Kentville came through the University series without injury and Coach Walter Sonnil will start the same lineup tonight.

HARVARD SPORT SEASONS END

Harvard's winter sport season comes to a close as the Crimson meets Yale in three sports today.

The Crimson meets the Elis on the ice at the Garden, and on the mat at Hemenway gym; while down in New Haven Harvard varsity and freshmen basketball teams oppose Yale

Of course, the big thing on today's sport bill is the varsity hockey game; 16,000 people will watch Harvard and Yale play their second game of the series. With every seat taken for the match, 2000 standing room tickets will go on sale at 6 tonight, so that the Garden will be filled to capacity.

Harvard's varsity and freshman wrestling teams go to the mat with Yale at Hemenway gym today. This season's crop of Crimson matmen is the best in years, and will be the favorites to win today. Harvard's varsity team has met defeat only once this season, and that was in its opening match with M. I. T.

SET FOR TITLE BOUTS

Coach Gallagher's men are preparing for the New England and National championship bouts, which will be held later this month.

Probably the largest gallery ever witnessing a Harvard-Yale match will pack the gym at Cambridge today.

The yearling team has yet to taste defeat, while the New Haven youngsters have been on the short end in matches with Exeter School and Andover.

About the same time that Harvard's ice seekers faces off with Coach Larry Noble's high-powered six, the Crimson and Blue basketball team will get into action on Yale's court at New Haven.

RECORDS FAIR

Neither team has a spotless record this season. Yale dropped about a half-dozen tilts in the course of the season's schedule, while Harvard's five took plastering from Columbia, Holy Cross and Penn.

Harvard has come back strongly in the last part of the season, however, while Yale was on the short end with Penn in its last game at New Haven. The Elis have one ace in the hole in Albie Booth, who may make trouble for Wachter's invading five tonight.

Before the varsity basketeers take the floor, Harvard and Yale freshmen play their Judge battle. The Crimson cubs have a strong outfit this season, and, by comparative scores, should be slight favorites to wind up with a victory tonight.

Fordham Prepares for Grid Season

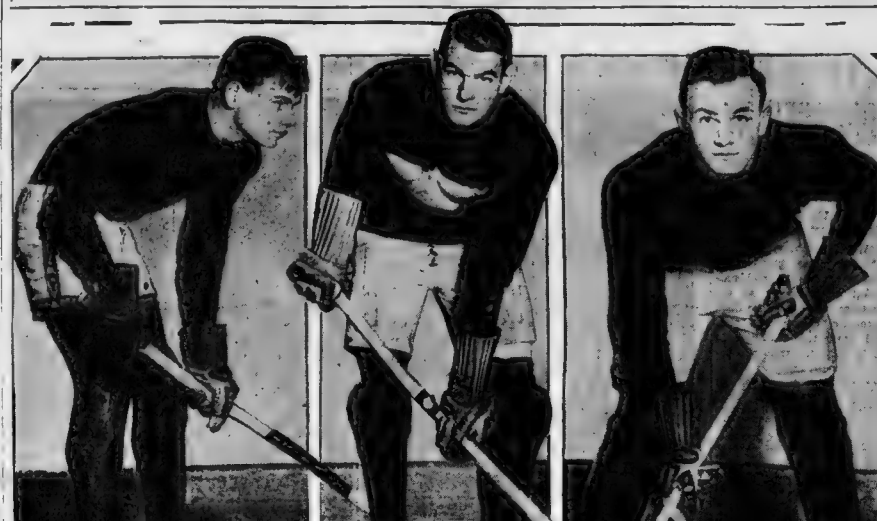
New York—Judging by the number of men on hand when Spring training was inaugurated Fordham University will boast another powerful eleven this Fall. Twenty-eight veterans of last season's undefeated team, together with a number of candidates from last year's Freshman eleven have been given uniforms.

Cathedral High Wins in Court Game

Cathedral high of Boston defeated Somerville Trade school, 24 to 15, at Cathedral gym. The Morris brothers, Cathedral forwards, starred, scoring 15 of the winner's points between them.

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

BLUE AND CRIMSON CLASH ON HUB GARDEN ICE TONIGHT



Frank Luce, Yale — Charley Cunningham, Harvard — Dunbar Bostwick, Yale

These men are expected to star tonight when Harvard meets Yale in their second hockey battle of the year, at the Boston Garden. Luce, Yale center, is from Dorchester. Bostwick, other Yale player shown above, is a splendid wing. Cunningham plays a great game for Harvard on the defense. Yale was favored to win the first game, played last Saturday, but the Crimson triumphed. Harvard is the betting choice to win tonight. So Yale has the chance to upset the dope.

DIAMOND RING BOUTS ON

A riot of slugging is in prospect tonight when the St Joseph's P. A. A. stages its second Diamond Ring elimination tourney for novices at Mechanics Building, with eight clowns on the program including 112, 118, 126, 135, 147, 160, 175 pounds and heavyweight.

Because of the exceptionally large entry list, Bill Cuddy announces that the tournament will get under way at 7:30 sharp.

The big boys have turned out in force for the tourney and some spirited action is expected in the 160, 175 and heavyweight divisions.

GOOD GOLF

BY CHESTER HORTON
Golf's Greatest Teacher.

Thinking good golf swings before trying to make them implies that it hardly would be possible for anyone successfully to reverse that order, though that is the very thing a million struggling golfers do. They try to play this game not alone without ever imagining themselves making perfect golf swings, but making them even worse, they actually see themselves making terrible bashes of their efforts, mentally anticipating disaster and realizing, of course, the only outcome that could possibly result. Thinking good swings is not any short cut to good swings and good golf. It is, however, a definite step in the direction of good golf. It starts you in the right way and puts you to traveling with the current instead of against it, and it must be obvious that no one could get anywhere when plainly he is going the wrong way. Determine to look like a golfer, anyhow, and you may be surprised to find that suddenly you will begin to look like one.

(To make good pitches you must think good pitches. Chester Horton's championship coaching is available in a free, exceptionally-illustrated monograph on the mashie niblick; address Sports Editor, this newspaper, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope, and it will be sent to you by Mr. Horton.)

Copyright, John F. Dille Co.
National Newspaper Service, John F. Dille President, 500 N. Madison St., Chicago.

Rivals After K. O. Win in Monday Go

A knockout, nothing less, is all that will satisfy Harry Allen and Joe Monte rival young Brockton heavyweights, who battle in a 10-round bout Monday night at the Boston Arena. And since each young man is such a good puncher, it is better than an even bet that one of them will be stretched his length on the canvas when the clash terminates.

Allen has reached his peak in the past month, and now, training daily at Joe Benton's gym in Quincy, pronounces himself in the best shape of his career. In the past three weeks, Allen has won decisions over two foemen. In ushering Big Boy Rawson to a rare seat, Allen took only 56 seconds in the first round, bouncing a barrage of right hand punches off Big Boy that chilled him faster than anyone has been knocked out in a Boston ring in many years.

This is the outstanding accomplishment of Allen. But it speaks volumes when it is considered that Rawson knocked off some outstanding men in as little time as a single round.

MONTE READY

Monte is going through his paces at Toland's gym and his work is making a hit with the railbirds who give the boxers the one over every afternoon. Monte is going nine fast rounds with three sparring mates each afternoon and then is winding up with three rounds of shadow boxing. Monte is saying little regarding the bout but what he does say is this:

"Allen! I'll make Harry wish he was driving a milk wagon for a living before I get through with him. If anyone has any money to bet on Allen, especially Allen himself, I'd gladly cover it."

Monday night's encounter will be the third between them. The edge is very much with Monte thus far, both verdicts being credited to him, one on a decision and another by a knockout, although the latter was unsatisfactory to both Monte and Allen.

Brockton is divided over the fight, but a number of the natives favor Allen.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By the Associated Press
Detroit—Eddie Shea, Chicago, outpointed Steve Smith, Bridgeport, Ct. (10).
Lakeport, Fla.—Farmer Joe Cooper, Terre Haute, Ind., knocked out Sammy Bertanza, Warrens, Ga. (10).
Omaha, Neb.—Jimmy Fairgrave, Des Moines, outpointed Ray Pillman, Omaha (10).
Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Mexican Joe Rivers, Cedar Rapids, outpointed Speg Myers, Chicago (10).

B. U. FIVE PLAYS CRUSADERS

Boston University's varsity basketball five will meet the powerful Holy Cross quintet at the St. Botolph st. gym tonight in the final game of the season for the local team. Last year's B. U. freshman club will meet the present yearling outfit in a preliminary game.

Holy Cross will enter tonight's game a heavy favorite because of its fine showing this winter. The Crusaders have chalked up an impressive string of victories this season and have downed the Terriers once in Worcester.

The first contest between these two teams was held on the Holy Cross floor early in January and at that time the Purple team took the measure of B. U., 35-25, after a hard battle. The Terriers have drilled hard for the past week in preparation for this final game and will be represented by their fastest team of the season.

REGULARS START

Coach Win Karlson will start his regular lineup of Marino and Berry, forwards; Nims, center; Tripp and Stearn, guards. These boys have played together for the past month and have shown steady improvement and are now fit to put up a great battle.

Bob Berry and Bernie Nims are the leading scorers on the B. U. hoop team and carry the hopes of the Terriers tonight. These two men have scored more points between them this winter than all the other men on the squad together and have pulled several games out of the fire. They must be at their best tonight, however, because the Crusaders have shown a good defense all season and will keep a sharp lookout for the local five's two sharpshooters.

The B. U. defense of Archie Stearn and Norm Tripp will be severely tested tonight, but both of these boys are steady and reliable and are confident that they can keep the opposing forwards from having an easy time.

MARINO HAS COURAGE

Santo Marino, the midget football quarterback, is another hoopster whom Karlson expects to shine tonight. The diminutive Marino always seems to shine when the odds are greatest and conditions seem about right for this scrappy youth to come through with his best game of the season.

Stuart Clancy and Luke Driscoll are the big guns on the Holy Cross team and will have to be guarded every minute or else they will break loose and put the game on ice in short time. Another Crusader who is dangerous is Fitzgerald sub center.

With the PONIES

OPINION OF LEADING HANDICAPPERS

At Miami

BEST—Rapid Transit

Pts.
23	1—Dante
21	Trailer
	Tyler
20	2—Miss Desmond
12	Apshalt
6	Lady Clarence
19	3—Laddsford
7	Micky B.
11	Shepherdess
22	4—Rapid Transit
16	Gem Royal
15	Joe Marcus 3rd
25	5—Battledships
17	Partisan
5	Pollux
25	6—St. Prince
8	Crystal Domino
16	Utica Play
15	7—Sir Star
18	Short Dart
	Parole Jd

FIRST RACE.

Pts.	Horse.	Prob. Odds
5-1	1—Denis, A. Robertson
10-1	2—Gump, F. McGinnis	10-1
15-1	3—Intrust Alma, L. McDermott	15-1
8-1	4—Spiffy, H. Workman	8-1
4-1	5—Columbia, C. Greenwood	4-1
4-1	6—Friar, J. Zahy	4-1
10-1	7—Early, F. Smith	10-1
15-1	8—Awkins, H. Thurber	10-1

SECOND RACE.

5-1	1—Lady Clarence, W. Carroll
6-5	2—Miss Desmond, S. Renick
3-1	3—Hartshounds, J. McDermott
6-1	4—Spanish, G. Riley
10-1	5—Francis Seymour, H. Workman
10-1	6—Wayforer, L. Schuster
15-1	7—Don Ray, A. Robertson

THIRD RACE.

5-1	1—Gadaloup, A. Robertson
3-1	2—Alexander, S. Richard
6-1	3—Ranger Signal, C. Critchfield
6-1	4—L. Well, H. Thurber
4-1	5—Dragon, E. Workman
6-1	6—Sandman, J. Walker
10-1	7—War Flame, G. Rose

FOURTH RACE.

3-1	1—Rapid Transit, H. Workman
6-5	2—Joe Marcus 3d, A. Robertson
6-1	3—Gem Royal
4-1	4—Montmore
6-1	5—Nearby, S. Hebert

FIFTH RACE.

3-1	1—Partisan, J. Zahy
3-1	2—Battleship, L. Schuster
3-1	3—Flapjacker Dream, H. Workman
8-1	4—Titus, A. Robertson
8-1	5—Pattie, L. McDermott
6-1	6—Sand Fiddler, E. Barnes
10-1	7—Peter Forest
	—Mr. Dick

SIXTH RACE.

8-5	1—Crystal Domino, H. Thurber
3-1	2—Mr. Frisco, J. Zahy
6-1	3—Utica Play, G. Rose
8-1	4—Leonard S.
6-1	5—Tango Bay, B. Workman

SEVENTH RACE.

8-5	1—Fifth Star, L. Schuster
6-1	2—Mr. G. Bee, J. Zahy
12-1	3—Old Black Joe, J. Fitts
6-1	4—Short Dart, Bright
3-1	5—Blind Man's Bluff, Riley
6-1	6—Dancon, F. Fraley
10-1	7—Ashdale, A. Francis
	—Saratoga, J. Martotti
	—Tyrone, L. McDermott

TURF'S BEST—Rapid Transit, 6th Night; Tod Grace, 6th Jefferson Park, Chester, 3d Havana; Dark Sea, 6th Agua Caliente.

TIP'S SUPER-SPECIAL—Fifth Star, 7th Miami.

COLLYER'S SELECTIONS—Most probable winners, Mr. Beasley system horse, Rapid Transit; best parlay, Fifth Star, John T. D., Simon Kenton, to place.

At New Orleans

FIRST RACE.

Pts.	Horse.	Jockey.	Prob. Odds
6-1	1—My Beauty		15
	Mother's Choice		15
	Good Shepherd		6
10-1	2—LaFatima		17
	Dominica		10
	Maroon		7
7-1	3—Pert		7
	Reclaristone		15
15-1	Simon Kenton		15
3-1	4—High Score		3
15-1	Extreme		15
6-1	Flirt		6
15-1	5—Mate Hill		15
15-1	Galahead		15
15-1	Supporter, G. Lynch		15
15-1	6—Tall Grass		15
15-1	Villager		15
15-1	Hayes' Choice		15
15-1	Holiday		15
	Sun Ransan		10
	John T. D.

SECOND RACE.

6-1	1—C. Nappon, G. Smackenbush
15-1	2—La Fatima, J. L. Knight
6-1	3—Dynamina, J. L. Fyre
6-1	Quibbler, Dubois
6-1	Percy O. J. Brown
6-1	4—Aussie, M. P. Meyers
15-1	5—Simon Kenton, G. Hash
6-1	6—Sigel, J. Cavens
6-1	Mister Falcon, J. O'Malley
6-1	Mimmory, L. K. Ames
15-1	Ralph
10-1	7—Miss Branch, V. Swigert

THIRD RACE.

6-1	1—Stepsendent, G. Hess
6-1	Simon Kenton, L. Jones
6-1	Thomas Seth, R. Depetrel
6-1	Faron, M. Knight
6-1	2—Sweetstone, G. Glovernk
6-1	Hymenium, F. Glassford
6-1	Brumshian, G. Arnold
6-1	George Weber, R. Piserty

FOURTH RACE.

7-10	1—High Score, C. Meyer
6-1	2—Tell House, J. Mann
6-1	Mortgage, G. Hood
6-1	Flirt, R. Finnerty
6-1	3—Mate Hill, J. O'Malley
6-1	Mutual Friend, L. Glassellmont

FIFTH RACE.

6-1	1—Way Instigator, J. Leland
6-1	Mole Hill, L. Arnold
6-1	Galahead, J. Martin
6-1	Dinty, Jones
6-1	2—Sir Prosper, J. Fyre
6-1	Arcturus, R. Stewart

SIXTH RACE.

6-1	1—Tall Grass, L. Carver
6-1	Villager, G. Smackenbush
6-1	Walter B., H. Hassell
6-1	Miss Mattie J. W. Fyre
6-1	Standard Bearer, J. O'Malley
6-1	Pushin, M. Knight
6-1	Turnpoler, K. Stevens
6-1	Hayes Choice, G. Cimeralk

SEVENTH RACE.

6-1	1—Sweetasy, J. Mann
6-1	John T. D., S. Dubois
6-1	Dr. Fred, G. Hood
6-1	Sweepest, M. Knight
6-1	Spanish Asbey, J. Sandoval
6-1	Marcella Agnes, J. W. Fyre
6-1	Evelyn Lu, K. Lindsay
6-1	Catland, F. Garvey
6-1	Grab Bag, W. Elliott

Griffith in Victory Over Friedman

Conway Wins Again

Jack Conway chalks up another in his win column. The Boston Evening American boxing expert picked Tuffy Griffith to defeat Al Friedman after a hard fight. The fight was bitter all the way and when Tuffy was awarded the verdict there was much dissension among the fans. Many thought Friedman earned the decision.

Conway's average follows:

Won.	Lost.	P.C.
19	2	.901

By GEORGE W. GRIMM

Tuffy Griffith of Sioux City, one of the prominent heavyweights of the country, showed Boston fans that he has the right stuff by taking the 10-round verdict from Al Friedman of Roslindale at the Garden.

Friedman was great when boxing although Griffith with his slam-bang attack with hard lefts and rights to the face and body, scored repeatedly to grab the award. The contest was without a doubt one of the best ever seen in this city between heavyweights.

When Referee Johnny Brasnli took the arm of Griffith and raised it as a token of victory, Al Friedman turned to his manager, Al Lippe, and said, "He is without a doubt the toughest man I have ever battled. His name is perfect when they call him Tuffy."

Friedman started off the bout scoring with lefts and rights but after the battle was a few minutes old Griffith got his bearings and fought hard and furiously.

GRIFFITHS EFFECTIVE

Griffith did his most effective work with a stiff left to the head and then would follow up with a right cross to the body or head. In close he repeatedly scored on Friedman with uppercuts and hard smashes to the body.

Friedman, in his bout with Griffith was awarded the acclaim of the large gathering. He has a wealth of friends and admirers in this city, although a bigger part of his time is spent in Philadelphia.

Friedman is a club fighter. Never seeks the edge, and he enjoys the satisfaction of giving the fans his all when it comes to battling in the ring.

Matchmaker Alex McLean had the satisfaction of seeing 10,000 fans on hand to see the contests, which were all good.

PERRY WINS

George Perry of Revere won the opening four-rounder from Billy Nevins of Cambridge. In the next bout, Jackie McCarron of Somerville was awarded the verdict over Newport Johnny Brown, who substituted for Freddy O'Connor of South Boston.

The third of the four-rounders was between Jackie Norton of South Boston and Johnny Callo of East Boston. Norton was given the decision.

Buster Malenti of New Orleans won the decision over Bob Browne of Lowell in one of the greatest two-fisted battles ever witnessed at the Garden. Brown took a last minute assignment, substituting for Tom Quigley of Cambridge.

Joe Venuti of the North End won his six-round bout from Johnny Abreu of Gloucester.

The final of the six-rounders found Buddy Howard of New York winning over Frankie Woods of Taunton in easy fashion. Woods substituted for Sailor Flint of Newport.

The evening's entertainment was closed with a scheduled eight-rounder between Ralph Kid Wagner of Philadelphia and Willie Oster of New London. There was plenty of blood spilt. Wagner won the battle from start to finish and battered Oster.

Regimental Track Meet Is on Today

English high school track athletes are favored to conquer in the annual regimental track meet of the Boston high schools, held this afternoon at the East Armory.

In preliminary competition, in field events, English annexed a total of 42 points. Latin school has 19½ and Girls' high 9. Each of the other schools are strung out with totals of less than 15.

So it is evident that the early lead plus the fact that English has a number of fast runners to send to the post today gives Leo Daley's team a big advantage in the meet.

Albina Stars as Swim Team Loses

Providence, March 8—Despite the individual brilliance of Albina Osipowich, Olympia and national sprint champion, the swimming team of Pembroke College in Brown University was defeated by the New York University mermaids, 40¾ to 21¼, in the Plantations Club pool here.

Miss Osipowich won the 100-yard event in easy fashion, placed second in the dives and made up most of a big deficit in the relay, but the visitors took four of the other five first places and tied for the fifth.

TIGERS CLASH WITH BRAVES TOMORROW

TAMPA, Fla., March 8 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers engaged in final workouts today prior to meeting the Boston Braves tomorrow in their first exhibition game, a contest in which several of the rookies will be in the line up.

The tentative lineup called for Whitlow Wyatt, bought from Oklahoma City last season, to start on the mound with George Kenna, late of Toronto and Bill Steinecke, with Seattle in 1929, dividing time behind the bat.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 8 (AP)—With Coaches Bladen and Wares remaining here to direct activities of the stay-at-homes, Manager Gabby Street sent out 17 of his St. Louis Cardinal proteges for a two-game series with the Philadelphia Athletics at Miami today and tomorrow.

Herman Bell, product of Rochester, was to occupy the mound for the Red Birds with Mancuso catching.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 8 (AP)—"Conventions" on the ball lot were barred under a ukase handed down today by Manager Killefer, to his St. Louis Brownies. "Bill, the Red" added card games after midnight to his outlawed actions and set an 8:30 a. m. rising time.

Killefer called the boys together today to give them his ideas on training rules, having waited until almost his entire flock had shown up. Only five men are missing.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 8 (AP)—There will be no practice games for the Cincinnati Reds for another week, Manager Dan Howley fears some of his athletes may overdo themselves in an attempt to make a good showing and he intends to keep them at the regular workout routine until next Friday.

NEW ORLEANS, March 8 (AP)—Today was the last on which the Cleveland battery men received the exclusive attention of Manager Roger Peckinpaugh. Monday the full squad of infielders and outfielders will arrive and batting and fielding will crowd the pitchers into the bull pen.

Wes Ferrell, leading light of the mound staff, who lost his holdout siege, reported and proved that not only is his powerful whip in shape but that he has been perfecting a change of pace.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 8 (AP)—Two more members of the New York Giants have fallen into line. Larry (Red) Benton, veteran right-handed pitcher, and Bob Farrell, catcher. The only notable member of the team who has failed to sign a contract is Freddie Lindstrom, who has remained in Florida, while his teammates are working out here.

Chris Officials announced sunday ago that Lindstrom had come to an understanding with the club but his third baseman still is a persistent absentee.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 8 (AP)—Babe Ruth must have got the days of the week mixed up. On Thursday the Boston swatsmith came out a triple and otherwise performed in a wholly creditable manner, but luck was against him just when he needed it most.

Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, down at the Athletic Club for the baseball scrapheap.

Vance's salary was cut $5000 to $20,000 this year, but the big righthander is working like a trouper to get into condition. "If I can feel the feeling as good as I am now," he says, "I will show up a three birds who have been saying I'm through."

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 8 (AP)—The ambitious Yankees had a strenuous time of it in their lineup today and looked more like the fence-busters of last season as Williams and Ruth arrived over night and were eager to get baseball tone.

Southpaw Hoyt Wilhelm reported in tip-top condition and each is capable of repeating a regular year this year. Tripp Digman, batting outfielder who played the last few games with the Phillies last season and batted .318, also was in camp. Capt. Fresco Thompson, Chick Klein and Tommy Thevenow were the absentees.

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 8 (AP)—Capt. Eddie Collins was in charge of a squad of 22 Athletics who left today for Miami to take the St. Louis Nationals in the first of a four-game exhibition series.

A cent used at home. Have you a garage for rent? Tell about it and five cents in the Want Ad Route. That's the way to fill it.

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

Babe Ruth May Sign Today

BAMBINO IS STILL AFTER $85,000

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., (INS) March 8—Babe Ruth, the celebrated holdout, will probably come to terms soon with the management of the New York Yankees.

Ruth has talked the whole thing over with the missus, who really is the Babe's new manager and a good one at that. He told her last night all about his conference with Col. Jake Ruppert, owner of the Yankees.

The consensus is that Ruth will accept the offer of Ruppert of a two-year contract at $80,000 per year in preference to the second offer of the boss to pay him $5 grand for one year. Nobody knows it better than Ruth himself that he is nearly the decline of his great baseball career.

RUPPERT BALKS

Ruppert insists he will not go a nickel higher than $85,000 for one year or $80,000 per annum for two years. The Babe and the Boss have ceased to debate on a three-year basis.

Ruth has drawn half a million dollars from the Yanks since he joined the club 10 years ago. In 1920 his pay check was $20,000. In 1921 he got $20,000. From 1922 to 1926 inclusive he was paid $52,000 per season. In 1927, 1928 and 1929 his annual pay check was $70,000.

It is estimated that Ruth is now worth about a quarter of a million dollars. He should have been a millionaire, what with all the money he received from testimonials and the like in addition to his regular pay as a ball player. He has been a heavy spender in the last year or two, however, and many thousands of dollars have slipped through his hands.

Ruth is no longer a [illegible] has developed [illegible] fish and is well advised by his numerous [illegible] fish out of water if he did not [illegible] Ruth and no one here believes he will remain a holdout.

The general belief of his friends is that he will sign a two-year contract at $70,000 a year in preference to a one-year contract at $85,000.

'GREAT' AND NEAR 'GREAT'

Arthur "The Great" Shires, attired in a lavender suit and wearing a cane, recently visited his brother Len, who is working out with the Giants at San Antonio. Each thinks the other "great." (Associated Press photo.)

FORMER B.C.H. FLASH IN B.C. 3D BASE JOB

WALTER KELLEY, former all around sport luminary at Boston College high school, is at present the leading pretender for the third base berth on the Boston College varsity nine where the graduation of Hank O'Day left a rather sizeable gap.

Kelley came first and is being served first at third. Kelley was the most likely looking of the hot corner crop, because of his experience at second base with the freshman nine a season back.

But Walter needs experience. He's a fair fielder and a fair hitter, and there are boys with better qualifications for the third base job on the B. C. squad. It may mean a shift but it will have to be made unless the former B. C. high boy has developed twice as fast as the average human being.

FINE INFIELD

Kelley has been working out with a first string infield of Andy Spognardi, short; Paddy Creedon, second, and Larry Gibson, first. He has shaped up as capable of the task on the corrugated turf of the Commonwealth Armory. But Kelley is expected to be left behind when the other big gets hitting on all cylinders.

Coach Hugh Duffy has taken a liking to Walter and, as a result, he still has Johnny Temple, who should be one of the best third basemen in college baseball, still listed as an outfielder. Duffy wants to give Kelley a big chance, for he feels that the sophomore will come through.

And even if he doesn't Temple will be ready to step into the inner defense at a moment's notice. Temple played third for three years with Cambridge Latin and knows the ropes.

Boston College's outfielders report Monday. That is to say, if there are any left to cover about in the pastures. Boston College used five regular outfielders a year ago, which shifting was necessitated by injuries to Johnny Temple and Frank Reagan. Larry Gibson, J. William Shea and Pete Herman, captain of this year's nine, patrolled the outfield when that department was riddled by injuries.

HERMAN TO HURL

Here's why Duffy probably won't find any outer garden material of note on Monday p. m. First, Gibson and Temple are desirous of infield jobs. Second, Capt. Pete Herman is primarily a pitcher and will have to devote all his services to the mound staff. Third, Joe Shea and Frank Reagan, both shortstops in high school, will be drafted for an infield tryout in case anything should happen to Andy Spognardi or Paddy Creedon.

By Tuesday, however, there will be both an outfield and an infield of high calibre. Coach Duffy intends to make up his mind about certain boys for certain positions and will then assign them to one department or another.

This situation is more complicated than serious. It can be seen that there is material enough, and experienced material, to take care of all the positions. The complication arises in the question of who's going to play.

PILOT WORRIES OFFICIALS AT AIRPORT

By GEORGE HAMBLIN

One of the chief troubles with the aircraft industry is the lack of confidence the pilots flying in it have for the weather reports issued by the Weather Bureau.

The latest example of this thought is Russell Boardman, who kept us up most of the night trying to find out where he was after he left Bethany Airport, Bethany, Conn.

The most worried of the boys was Frank Mary, chief mechanic for Boardman.

The air mail had been forced to land at Putnam, Conn., having taken off from Hartford some two hours before. So, according to the boys at the airport, where did Boardman stand?

The telephone wires were burned up, and no word from Boardman. He hadn't been heard of since leaving Bethany five hours before.

So, it was almost time to start organizing a search for day break. Fred Ames volunteered four ships, and we were sure of at least 30 ships to fall in and start searching at day break.

The boys were ready to say final requiems over Boardman when his home was called for the third time. His wife said that Russell had landed somewhere south of Boston, and that he would be home later.

FINE SCHOOLING

Skyways, Inc., is lining up as the best example of an aircraft school in this part of the country. Skyways have a welding course beginning next week, a mechanics' course, meeting three times a week, a ground school, giving all the fine points in airplanes for one who cares to learn about airplanes and motors.

A designing school, meeting once a week, brings out the best ideas in the minds of those who think they can design airplanes.

We will designate all these courses Monday, in this column, and at that time will tell you what this company, Skyways, covers in its aircraft course.

MULLEN OBJECTS

There seems to be a serious objection to the attempt of Representative Nelson Pratt to using the filled-in area at the airport. Said objection is made by John J. Mullen former mayor of Everett, and now interested in Saugus civic affairs.

Mullen claims that the dredging of the Lynn-Saugus-Revere marsh area would materially hinder the growth of his territory, which if used, will add millions to the cities and towns surrounding.

Another note that can't be treated lightly is the full justice is from Bill Denny, is manager of the Pennamesset Ranch field, called Falmouth airport last summer. Denny was manager for Ludington Philadelphia flying service last year and we will treat his letter to more extent Monday.

STATE WORK LAW REFUSED

Despite Rep. Roland D. Sawyer's plea for substitution, the Massachusetts House refused to override the adverse committee report on Sawyer's resolve to prohibit racial or religious prejudices in appointment of employes by heads of State departments.

The situation is amply covered that the present laws, said Rep Spear of Everett, for the committee on legal affairs. Sawyer said that the resolve should be substituted because a certain State department has for 15 or 16 years ruled out one group of people because they worship God in a manner not approved by the head of that department."

When he mentioned the name of State Auditor Alonzo B. Cook, Sawyer was warned by Speaker Leverett Saltonstall that under the rules he must not refer to an elected State officer by name.

After a standing vote had refused substitution, Sawyer was unable to obtain a rollcall.

YD REUNION AT CONVENTION

Plans are now being formulated to bring about a big general reunion of the Yankee Division at ing the night.

the national convention of the American Legion in October.

If the plans materialize it will be the second YD reunion held since the war.

Prominent members of the division are reported to be in favor of the movement, including Gens. Edwards, Logan, Sherburne and Cole. Already the YD Veterans Association, of which Gen. Sherburne is president, is planning a big YD night. This forms a basis for working out plans for the general reunion.

Philomathcia Club to Give Musicale

The Philomathcia Club will present a musicale by members of the Boston College Glee Club assisted by the Boston College Orchestra at the college assembly hall March 14. James Brennan, '33, and Paul Mahoney, '31, will render solo ar-

In Old Boston—No. 201

LONG LANE MEETING HOUSE, founded about 1729 by a small colony of Irish and Scotch immigrants, headed by the Rev. John Moorhead, an earnest and enthusiastic young Irishman. The house was located at the corner of Channing and Federal sts. The pulpit was distinguished in later years by the presence of Dr. Channing, Dr. Gannett and Dr. Jeremy Belknap. More pictures of Old Boston will be printed by the Boston Evening American.

START PROBE OF FIRE IN MARKET

Fire officials today are making a thorough inspection of the premises at 45-51 Fulton st., where fire of suspicious origin threatened two six-story buildings and did damage estimated at $10,000.

Three concerns located in the buildings are separated by fire doors, which were found to have been left open on the fourth floor, permitting smoke to sweep through the both blocks.

Deputy Chief John J. Kelley announced that a full report will be made to the State fire marshal's office for further investigation.

Although the flames did not penetrate through the doors, the fire was one of the smokiest which the Boston department has had to fight in some time, and this resulted in both buildings being filled with the heavy pools which arose from the burning area.

Firemen were compelled to wear gas masks, and falling glass from windows broken to prevent hot-air explosions were a constant menace to those below.

The blaze started on the sixth floor of the building at 49-51 Fulton st., occupied by the Clark and Carry Grocery Company. The Independent Importing Company and the Mussolini O. Berger Importing Company are also located in the building.

The floor was used for the storage of food products, which as the blaze reached them gave off heavy pools of smoke that cast a pall over the entire market district.

Ladderman John J. Doherty, of Ladder 24, was cut on the back by falling glass and taken to Haymarket Relief Hospital, where the injury was dressed. Several others suffered from the heavy smoke, but did not require medical attention.

A member of the Boston Protective Association rescued a lone cat, which was groggily trying to find its way down the stairs.

Communist Case Comes Up March 14

Jackson Wales, member of the Communist working party, who was arrested on the Common Wednesday, pleaded not guilty to charges of assault and battery when arraigned in municipal court. His case was put over until March 14.

Seven other cases, one for violating the park rules by speaking on the Common without a permit, the others for sauntering and loitering in front of the State House, went over until next Friday.

Jumbo Five Closes Season Tonight

The Tufts basketball team will close its season tonight at Durham, when the Jumbos will meet New Hampshire. Tufts, which has won nine of its 12 starts, will be playing a fast New Hampshire team, which has yet to be beaten on its home floor this season.

Cochran, Haber, Horton, Warren and Fine will start for Tufts, while New Hampshire will start Gaunt, Patch, Lord, Hafstrom and Nelson.

Clothesline Thieves Put on Probation

Probation for one year was given Mrs. Sarah McLeod and her three daughters of Bellevue st., West Roxbury, when they pleaded guilty in the West Roxbury District Court to charges of larceny from clothes lines.

Action against the family followed complaints from West Roxbury residents that clothes were

SULLIVAN DIES IN DORCHESTER

Thomas Sullivan, former Boston police officer and in later years engaged in real estate business, died at his home in Codman Hill ave., Dorchester, after a short illness. Sullivan had returned from Miami where he had attended the Sharkey-Scott bout.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mollie King Sullivan; two sons, Richard J., and Gilbert P.; two daughters, Mary P. and Helen M. Sullivan, and two brothers, Michael and Gilbert Sullivan.

Sullivan was a member of Boston Lodge, B. P. O. E., the Irish Charitable Association, and the Boston Police Relief Association. Funeral services will be held in St. Gregory's Church, Ashmont, Monday at 9 a. m. Burial will be in New Calvary cemetery.

Announce Chapel Speakers at Tufts

The list of Tufts College chapel speakers for the coming week have been announced and include ex-Mayor Richard R. Coolidge of Medford, '02, who will speak on Monday; Fredwith Mackenzie, '08, of Waverly, a Boston lawyer and president of the Tufts Alumni Association, and Dean Edith L. Bush of Jackson College.

There will also be a music week under the direction of Leo L. Lewis and a religious week, led by Dean Lee S. McCollester, who will be assisted by several other speakers.

Lynn Chamber Moves to Aid Unemployed

In a notice sent to members, Irving J. Haskell, vice-president of the Lynn Chamber of Commerce, announced that an employment bureau would be established at the Lynn Y. M. C. A. Haskell urged immediate action on construction work planned and even suggested that odd jobs would help. Coincident with the chamber's announcement, the Men's Club of St. Pius Church announced they would hold a benefit entertainment for the unemployed of the parish.

Express Confidence in Children's Bureau

Renewed confidence in the Children's Bureau and demand that maternity and infancy welfare shall continue to be administered by the bureau rather than by the Public Health Service is contained in a letter addressed to President Hoover by Mrs. Mary Tenney Healy, president of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters. The letter was authorized at a meeting of the board of directors.

Flying Editor at Calcutta

Calcutta, India, March 8 (AP) Van Lear Black, Baltimore publisher who is flying from England to the Orient, arrived here today from New Delhi.

$10,000,000 CRANBERRY COMBINE

Formation of a huge co-operative enterprise with it brings together leading growers of cranberries owning 6400 acres of the best bogs and canners with four big factories, has been announced.

The announcement was made by men prominent in the Cape Cod end of the business who have pooled their resources, so they said for the purpose of stabilizing the industry.

The merger joins the cranberry interests of the Cape to similar interests in New Jersey, inasmuch as the Enoch F. Bills Co. of New Jersey has joined hands with the Ocean Spray Preserving Co. of South Hanson and the Makepeace Preserving Co. of Wareham.

The properties involved are said to be valued at $10,000,000, with annual sales amounting to $4,000,000. On the bogs that merged in the deal it was said that more than 50 per cent of the cranberries of the country are grown.

SHIP TO 27 COUNTRIES

The new co-operative will be known as the Cranberry Canners, Inc.

The officers of the Cranberry Canners will be Marcus L. Urann, president; Isaac Harrison, vice-president; J. C. Makepeace, secretary and treasurer; Elizabeth F. Lee, assistant secretary and treasurer. Directors will be Marcus L. Urann, Carl B. Urann, Victor A. Friend, Irving C. Hammond, John Heaton, J. C. Makepeace, William F. Makepeace, Isaac Harrison, Samuel D. Washburn, backed by Z. H. Jenkins, Frank Chambers, Edward Crabb, Theodore Budd, Enoch F. Bills and others.

Seek R. R. Underpass in West Roxbury

Urging the construction of a tunnel to connect Washington st. and Hyde Park ave. under the rail road tracks beyond the Forest Hills station, scores of residents appeared before the City Council committee on finance in favor of the necessary loan order of $150,000 to perform the work.

They protested that the old bridge was unsafe for school children and aged pedestrians, who would be forced to walk almost a mile unless they used the lofty bridge.

"Malicious Burning" Case Given to Jury

Northampton, March 8—The case against the Rev. Leopold A. Dabrowsky, pastor of Holy Cross Polish National Catholic Church at Ware, indicted on charges of burning to defraud an insurance company and robbery, is now pending has gone to the jury in Hampshire Superior Court here.

Testifying in his own defense the pastor denied setting the fire.

11 Face Arrest for Tarring Farmhand

Lapeer, Mich, March 8 (INS) Eleven men faced arrest today on warrants charging they tarred and feathered Earl Munt, 22, a hired man on the farm of Mrs. Mary Irgang, Almont, Oakland county.

The gang was led by Frank J. Irgang, her estranged husband, a Detroit printer, Mrs. Irgang said.

Malden Captures Pin League Title

Malden won the championship of the Amateur Boston Pin League by taking three of the four points from Oxford club of Lynn in the title rolloff at the Boston City Club alleys. Malden took the first and third strings and the total.

Woodbury proved a most capable anchor for Malden, rolling 358 for the individual high three-string total of the match.

M. CAVANA
536 TREMONT ST.
6 Doors From Broadway
Best Italian Food
Awarded gold medal by food commissioner of Florence, Italy
SPECIAL BREW COFFEE

Where to Dine
NO. CAMBRIDGE, 2004 MASS. AVE.
JACKS CAFETERIA
Special Noonday Lunch 40c to 50c
Choice Delicatessen Foods
Tel. Uni. 8272

PORTLAND MANCHESTER
$2.00 $1.25
EXPRESS—DAILY—SUNDAY
8:25 A. M. 1:30 P. M. 6:25 P. M.
ROUND TRIPS
8, 10:30 A. M. 2, 6, 11:30 P. M.
Sundays First Trip 10:30
REDUCED RATES
EAGLE MOTOR TOURS, Inc.
119 Stuart St., Next Plymouth Theatre Liberty 6305

Amherst-Williams Teams Meet Today

Amherst, March 8—Amherst Colleges will send three teams to Williamstown today where each will bring its season to a close. Coach Kennedy's varsity and freshman swimmers, and Coach Bain's wrestlers will be pitted against the Purple.

Some of the heavyweights are Danny Redmond of Malden, John Crowe, another Malden boy, Arthur Proctor, Brockton, Joe Shelling, Quincy, and Lester Mahoney, Jamaica Plain.

Among the 175-pound entries are Nat Gleason and Luke Lacey, both of Malden, Hildreth Erickson, Gardner; Sam Bolton, East Boston and Mike Rawson, South Boston, while Wesley LeBert, Medford, Charles Frederick, South Boston; Tony Yukhastis, Brockton; Albert Orde, Brookline; Bill Dalton, Somerville, and Michael Carmistraro will do combat in the 160-pound and Zucchetti are holding second class.

Four Teams Tie in N. Y. Bike Race

New York, March 8 (AP)—The riders of the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden going into the final day of the grind are all primed for the strenuous finish during the final hour of continuous sprinting, which starts at 10 o'clock tonight.

Dorn and Macyneski, representing Germany, who are riding their first race in Madison Square Garden, raced the entire field into submission during last night's jamming, wresting themselves up with the leaders. They were five laps behind last night, when Primo Carnera shot the gun for the 9 o'clock sprints.

This is the first time since the new garden opened that two teams are knotted for first honors on a Saturday morning. Hellani-Debaets, Dorn-Macyneski, Grimm-Lands, and Beckman-Hill are the four combinations tied as leaders. Horan and Harder and Sheehan and Zucchetti are holding second class.

Campolo to Box Risko on March 22

Cleveland, March 8 (INS)—A return 10-round bout between Johnny Risko, Cleveland's popular bakeboy boxer, and Victorio Campolo Argentine giant, was assured today following Risko's promise to sign for the set-to in a long-distance telephone conversation with Tom McArdle, Madison Square Garden matchmaker.

Campolo has already agreed to the return engagement which will take place on the House of Calvary Cancer Hospital card, at the Garden, March 24.

Whippets Take Game

Whippet A. C. trounced South Boston Collegians, 16 to 4; Arrow A. C. nosed out Bigelow A. C., 18 to 17, and St. Vincent Juniors defeated Willow A. C., 19 to 5, in South Boston Center League games played at South Boston high gym.

TAD'S FAVORITE OUTDOOR SPORTS

SCOOTARA GONTAGA BULLA VAVOTCHA
WOT IS HE AGAIN HEMRA?
WHY HES A FULL BRUDDAH OF RIN TIN GIN BUT HE'S ONLY A PUPPA DOG YET- HE AIN'T GROWED UP HOWS AT, HE'S WHAT?
HE LOOKS MO LIKE DE BRUDDER OF A BOOK BEER SIGN TO ME
AT BOW HEMRA DONT CARE WHAT HE SAY-
WE-L-L-! IF AT DAWG IS A FULL BRUDDER OF RIN TIN GIN DEN MAN-O'-WARS SON IS CHUNG CHONG'S LAUNDRY WAGON'S HOSS
JIMMY FLYNN WILL MOW SING SHE SLEEPS IN THE VALLEY BY REQUEST
OUTDOOR SPORTS
GETTING THE LOW DOWN ON THE LAGE STAR'S DOG THAT HE GOT KICKED OFF THE BOAT
TAD 3-6

THE THIMBLE THEATER

By Segar

LET'S MOVE ON UP THE BEACH JANE.-I WANTCHER TO MEET THE GANG—AN' YER NIECE IS GONER BE GLAD TO SEE YA
I HAVENT SEEN FANNY FOR TWO YEARS.-HER DAD DIED OF FEVER AND LEFT HER WITH ME—I COULDN'T KEEP HER ON THIS ISLAND SO I SENT HER TO AMERICA TO GET EDUCATED
SHE'S A FINE GAL. BLOW ME DOWN!
THE SEA HAG HAS BEEN TRYING TO LOCATE MY ISLAND FOR YEARS. BUT I DIDN'T THINK THE OLD SHE-PIRATE WOULD GO TO AMERICA AND GET FANNY
THAT OL' WITCH! WOULD DO ANYTHING
ROSES ARE RED —HEY DON'T RUN AWAY WHEN I'M WOOING YOU!
OH! THERE'S UNCLE JAKE!
UNCLE I'M SO GLAD WE'VE FOUND YOU
SUGAR IS SWEET AND SO ARE YOU
CONSIDERING THAT YOU'VE BEEN IN THE HANDS OF THE SEA HAG, YOU'RE LOOKING O.K.

KRAZY KAT

By Herriman

CLEANING A PATH IN THE SNOW - WELL-WELL-WELL BUSY ?
YES SIR
THATS THE STUFF BUSY PEOPLE DONT DO NO MISCHIEF
AH-H, I KNEW I'D UNKNOW IT SOONER OR LATER
IN ALL MY DREAMS, YOUR FAIR FACE BEAMS

Kabibble Kabaret—By Hershfield

DEAR MR. KABIBBLE, WHAT DO YOU THINK OF EXTRAVAGANT WIVES?

WHY THE PLURAL? ONE IS ENOUGH!

BRINGING UP FATHER

A Costly Error

By George McManus

SORRY, SIR. I WAS ONLY GOING AC-CORDING TO THE ARCHITECT'S PLANS.
MAKE THE ARCHITECT I OWN THIS HOUSE. YOU TEAR DOWN THAT GARAGE OR I'LL DO THE ORDERIN' AROUND HERE.
WELL I'VE GOT SOMETHING TO SAY AROUND HERE. I MADE'EM TEAR DOWN THAT GARAGE ON OUR PROPERTY IN THE COUNTRY. THAT MONEY IS GOIN TO BE BUILT ONE WAY OR IT'S GOIN TO BE MY WAY
OH, DON'T BE SO CROSS DADDY!
YES! I'M MR. JIGGS WHAT ABOUT IT?
YOU WERE DOWN IN THE COUNTRY TO-DAY AND ORDERED THE MEN TO TAKE DOWN MY GARAGE.
BY GOLLY, I WUZ ON THE WRONG PROPERTY. I THOUGHT THAT WUZ MY GARAGE.
THAT THOUGHT WILL COST YOU FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS, THE COST OF REBUILDING IT.

POLLY AND HER PALS

The Key to the Situation

By Cliff Sterrett

A NICE FIX Y'GOT ME INTO, SAM PERKINS! WOT-CHA SNAP THE LOCK ON ME FOR?
CROSS MY HEART, ELMER, I DIDN'T KNOW THE KEY WAS LOST AN' I HADDA THINK FAST!
YER WIFE COME UPATTIC ON PURPOSE TRUMMAGE IN TRUNKS, AN', SHE'D OF FOUND YE, SURE!
HECK! I'D SOONER CARRIE SLEW ME, THAN PASS OUT IN A TRUNK!
LISTEN, YOU LIFT AN' I'LL PULL, AN' MEBBE WE KIN BUST THE DANG LID OFF 'ER!
O.K. LET'S GO!
WOT-
TH-?

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

A Shady Offer

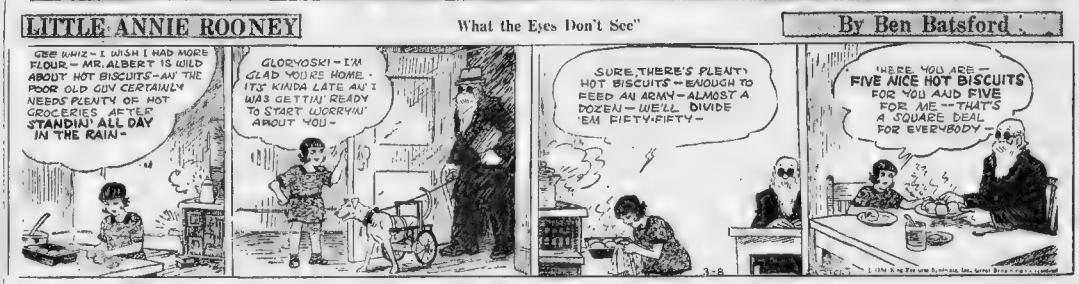
By Lym Young

HERE'S THE DOPE, SAILO—MOODY WAS ABOUT TO SELL MY OUTFIT THE PATENTS FOR THE SPEED PLANE AND THE SECRET MOTOR, BUT AT THE LAST MINUTE HE THROWS US DOWN!
THE OLD BOY'S ALWAYS PULLING OFF SOME STUNT LIKE THAT!
WELL, OUR CROWD WON'T STAND FOR A RAW DEAL LIKE WE GAVE US—SAY, HOW'D YOU LIKE TO MAKE SOME EASY MONEY?
SURE! ER—CHANGE THE SUBJECT QUICK—HERE HE COMES!
AS I WAS SAYING, YOUVE GOT AN UP-TO-THE-MINUTE FLYING FIELD HERE—
PHIL, I'D LIKE TO SEE YOU IN THE OFFICE, AT ONCE—AND ALONE!
SIDE-SLIP!! GREAT, YOU'RE GOING TO MAKE IT, MISS BLAINE!
IF I CAN STRAIGHTEN OUT IN TIME, WE WILL!!
WELL FOLKS, RAINBOW RIDGE IS GOING TO FURNISH A BACK-GROUND FOR "BIG DOINGS" FROM NOW ON!! WATCH CLOSELY!

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

What the Eyes Don't See"

By Ben Batsford



GEE WHIZ - I WISH I HAD MORE FLOUR - MR. ALBERT IS WILD ABOUT HOT BISCUITS - AN' THE POOR OLD GUY CERTAINLY NEEDS PLENTY OF HOT GROCERIES AFTER STANDIN' ALL DAY IN THE RAIN -
GLORYOSKI - I'M GLAD YOU'RE HOME - IT'S KINDA LATE AN' I WAS GETTIN' READY TO START WORRYIN' ABOUT YOU -
SURE, THERE'S PLENTY HOT BISCUITS - ENOUGH TO FEED AN ARMY - ALMOST A DOZEN - WE'LL DIVIDE 'EM FIFTY-FIFTY -
HERE YOU ARE - FIVE NICE HOT BISCUITS FOR YOU AND FIVE FOR ME - THAT'S A SQUARE DEAL FOR EVERYBODY -

BARNEY GOOGLE

Not to Be Told

By De Beek

GOOD OLD SPARKY. I CAN SEE HIM NOW BOY - HOW I LOVE THAT ANIMAL! BAD LUCK - I CAN'T WAIT TILL I GET MY ARMS AROUND HIM - MEBBE IF I TAKE A WALK THIS TIME WILL PASS QUICKER.
THAT CLERK IS SOUR ON ME FOR SOME REASON. WONDER IF HE'S HEARD SUMPN ABOUT ME?
HELLO, BARNEY. WHEN'S YOUR HORSE COMIN' HOME?
SHHH.
?
?
I'M FIGGERIN ON SNEAKIN' HIM INTO MY ROOM FOR A FEW NIGHTS AND I WANT IT KEPT QUIET

CLARABELLE'S COUSIN

Red Has a Bad Case

By Jack Callahan

IS THERE ANYTHING WRONG WITH THE FOOD, RED? I NOTICE YOU'RE NOT EATING.
NO
THEN WHY THE BUTTER-MILK EXPRESSION?
LISTEN, JANE, MY GIRL MADE ME JEALOUS LAST WEEK AND IN TRYING TO EVEN THE SCORE WITH HER I SPOILED EVERYTHING. NOW WE'RE ON THE OUTS
I FEEL MISERABLE, I WANT TO MAKE UP WITH HER AND YET IT WOULDN'T DO FOR ME TO GIVE HER THE SATISFACTION OF HAVING ME SPEAK FIRST.
BUT I WOULD IF I WERE YOU
THE TROUBLE IS THAT WHEN YOU CONFIDE IN WOMEN THEY GIVE YOU ADVICE YOU DON'T WANT AND YOU CAN'T BARE YOUR AFFAIRS OF THE HEART TO MEN BECAUSE THEY LAUGH AT YOU, DARN IT.

Daily Health Hint for Readers

NEVER take any medicine until you know what its exact ingredients are. The habit of some people, taking all sorts of medicine on the advice of a friend or neighbor, is to be deplored. Many of those advertised, while not poisonous, may do the stomach much harm.

Magazine and Fiction Page

This Day in Our History

PANCHO VILLA, Mexican rebel leader, assailed the United States border March 8, 1916. A week later President Wilson sent United States troops, under Brig.-Gen. Pershing, into Mexico. A troop of the U. S. 10th cavalry was fired on by machine guns during campaign.

GET IN BEAUTY TRIM, NOW, FOR THE SUMMER

Noted Expert Selects Easy Exercise Routine

By JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON
World Famous Beautician

HAVING referred to a limbering-up routine in a previous article, I think perhaps I had better set one down here for you.

It is essential that the muscles be supple if the body is to be handled in a graceful manner. And since the season of out-of-door play actually is only a short time off, the following exercise routine, begun at once and continued daily until the first round of more natural exercising is possible, will trim down and harden the muscles so that your first appearance is made a thing of beauty.

Josephine Huddleston

It is a shame to approach the loveliest of all seasons with the thought that the first few weeks must be spent getting in trim. Those women who keep at some form of exercise during the winter months know how gratifying it is to be able to look forward to the outdoor season secure in the knowledge that the first tennis, golf and swimming will find them the most attractive women present!

Nothing gives a woman the sense of superiority, with its accompanying charm and poise, that comes with knowing that no period of special training is necessary before she can appear at her best. And now to the actual exercising that is necessary for training. I have looked through all of my exercises and compiled the following ones, which are selected not only for your beauty good, but because they will be easy for you to do.

Before you arise, stretch out full length under the covers and then raise your arms over your head, inhaling deeply. Then swing the arms forward until the tips of your fingers touch your toes, exhaling as your arms sweep forward. Bring the arms back again, lowering the upper part of the body until you are flat on your back again with the arms once more high over your head. Inhale while bringing the arms back. Repeat 10 times.

Kick back the covers and, still lying flat, draw the heels together with the toes pointing straight up. The arms should be pressed closely to the sides. Take a deep breath as you raise your left leg in the air and gradually swing it back over your head until the toes are pointing downward. Exhale while lowering the left leg to its original position. Do the same with the right leg, alternating in this manner until each leg has been raised 10 times.

Still lying flat on the back, do the pedal exercise which is an adaptation of the movement gone through when pedaling a bicycle. Inhale slowly while drawing the right knee as close to the chest as you can. Now push the right foot up and outward, describing the upward sweep of an arc. Then, still pushing the foot outward, bring it down towards the floor, describing the downward sweep of an arc. Bring the foot back until the knee once again is pressed closely to the chest. Repeat with the left foot, and, alternating this way, continue the routine until you have mastered the mechanics. Then pedal swiftly and surely for three or four minutes.

And now you MUST get up! By this time rising will be a pleasure, I assure you, and one or two twisting and turning exercises must be taken to benefit the upper part of the body. Those just done are for slenderizing the thighs, strengthening and reducing relaxed abdominal muscles and developing gracefully curved legs.

If you will follow this routine each and every morning for one month, I promise that you will be able to meet the most beautiful woman in your crowd with the inner assurance that your body is in beautiful working order and that your graceful movements will put her pretty form to shame . . . unless, of course, she, too, has been getting in trim for the season.

The Rivals—

Dark Humor or the Gentle Fair.

DRAWN BY Nell Brinkley

THE world never tires of the battle over the dark and the fair. When I—and it must be so with all the army of artists making pretty girls for the subway and the Rolls-Royal travelers to look upon—when I, I say, make a fair bevy I am sure to get a plaintive letter from a girl with midnight hair telling me just why blondes are not all pair of the world seems to think them.

One day drifts in a letter from a young gentleman from Arizona, and he cries, with enthusiasms and a flourish of his pen, "Give me the dark, vivacious girl."

The next day, "Believe It or Not Mr. Ripley," in slides another one from a young gentleman from Maine, and he vows, with equal flourish and ardour, "Give me the blue and gold blondes—placid—gentle—sunny, but serious . . . Never gets hot when you pull her hair, this verbal war. That's why Cupid rubs his hands together and is happy. What does he care about or for fair—so long as there is a Jim and John to like them both, and the best

Headaches in Eye-Strain

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
U. S. Senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

ONE of the most common ailments is headache. It is capable of incapacitating us so that for the time being we find no joy in living. Many a day of pain and ineffectual work is the consequence.

Any one of many conditions may produce headaches. They might be classified into two distinct classes, as:

1. Headaches due to some organic disease, and
2. Headache which are symptoms of some functional disturbances.

Dr. Copeland

The tissue cells and nerves of the brain are affected by the blood stream just as every part of the body is affected by it. Poisons set up in the system are carried by the blood stream to the brain.

The chief cause of headache is eye strain. Young children, the middle aged and those well on in years, all feel the bad effects of headaches at one time or another and suffer from this cause.

With eye strain often comes a "nervous headache." School children may be sufferers from this sort because of poor lighting systems in the school rooms. You should have the eyes of a child examined and have glasses fitted if necessary. Long continued eye strain brings serious trouble sometimes.

If you have long continued headaches you should see your doctor and have a thorough physical examination. It may be only the eyes, but this is itself a most important factor. The eyes should be looked after and kept in the best condition. There is no more sensitive organ than the delicate eye.

Many have tried as a cure for your headache, a quiet dark room and a few hours sleep it often helps, or is better than a refreshing sleep.

Right here I want to caution you about taking headache powders or any drugs of any sort for these headaches. Take no few of them as you possibly can, and never without medical advice for they are frequently habit forming, and it is best when to resort to them. Cold compresses on the head will also aid much in driving away the pain.

Answers to Health Queries

D. L. Q.—I am nineteen years old, five feet three inches tall, what should I weigh?

A. You should weigh about 130 pounds.

R. M. Q. What do you advise for pimples?

A. For particulars send self-addressed envelope and repeat your question.

Copyright, 1916, The Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

PUTTING the modern girl back into grandmother's frills and stays and laces and expecting her to look alluring and mysterious is as naive as dressing a 14-year-old boy in his big sister's clothes and expecting him to look coquettish.

This sudden sartorial metamorphosis which has been sprung upon women is about as effective and convincing as slipping dolly's dress over the head of the family cat and tying her feet up in paper bags.

Helen Rowland

Somehow a modern, suntanned, wind-blown, hard-muscled pal-gal looks all "out of character" in 1890 petticoats, ruffles and frivolous picture hats. A female impersonator in a college dramatic club looks a lot more coy and feminine.

When a girl has spent 18 years acquiring a tennis stroke and an overhand crawl, can you confine her agile arms in elbow laces and have them look as though they belonged there? And can she make them BEHAVE?

When a girl has been brought up to regard her legs as merely natural supports—something to hike on or swim with—and is as unconscious of "showing" them as a greyhound or a new-born babe, can you shove them under yards of satin and bolts of chiffon and expect them to STAY there?

Won't an unembellished leg or freehand limb, with no accompanying complexes and no delusions about itself, just naturally come out for air and assume its old "place in the sun?"

When a girl has spent all her life trying to be a "regular gal," going fifty-fifty on the bills, carrying her own luggage, finding her own tickets, doing her own thinking, and standing squarely on her own two Oxfords, how can she suddenly soften and mold herself into a coy and blushing Amelia, fluttering behind her fan or coquetting 'round her curls?

Well—perhaps she CAN. Woman's adaptability—and changeability—have kept men wondering and worrying and marvelling all down through the ages.

But it will take her a few years to learn to hit her skirts when crossing a muddy street, instead of pulling them down in a wind; to blush and back away instead of dashing in and starting something to be crying and mysterious and elusive, instead of frank and forthright and daring.

And by the time she has relearned all the old feminine tricks and become charming and "womanly," the business men will probably come along and put her in chain-armor or khaki breeches—and she'll have to learn to be an Amazon all over again.

From Amazon to siren, from siren to clinging vine, woman's life is one long vaudeville show, with a constant change of bill!

Copyright, 1916, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Lovejoy -:- An Intensely Interesting Serial by Beatrice Burton

CHAPTER 49

"I?—I TOOK Tom away from you?" Norrie sent her a wild stricken look. "Why, Lovejoy how can you say such a thing"—I come here and I tried to help you. I did my work"

Lovejoy went into the house and but the door.

She was shaking with silent fury

* * *

"To think of the nerve of her! Coming over here and trying to put Tom's armchair from [illegible] said to Aunt Em: late that afternoon when she came back to the Bullard Street flat. "I suppose she wanted it to put in that flat up in the stairs for him."

Aunt Em, feeding young Tom his supper of orange juice and milk, nodded.

"He's up there now," she said. "I saw him go up the stairs a while ago. Those girls get his supper for him, I guess, every night."

From the floor above Lovejoy could hear quick, light footsteps and once or twice the sound of laughter floated down through the open windows.

"How can a man forget his wife and his child so soon?" she asked Aunt Em when the two of them were facing each other across the dining room table a few minutes later.

"How can a woman forget her husband so soon?" Aunt Em came back at her, her shrewd blue eyes on some of Steve Ozirhay's roses in the middle of the table.

"I declare, when I was young women didn't think of changing their husbands every whipstitch any more than they'd have thought of changing the color of their hair!—But nowadays they do both and think nothin' of it."

"Well, I admit that I'm sorry I had my hair dyed," her niece began meekly.

"But I certainly am doing the right thing in getting rid of Tom Nicholson!" she added with a flash of spirit.

Aunt Em chewed a mouthful of cooled beef hash thoughtfully.

"Here you are, getting ready to run off to Nevada, or Reno, or somewhere, the minute Tom's divorce is through, and when the time comes you'll be just as free to marry Tom Nicholson as you are to marry Steve Ozirhay."

"As soon as he hears I'm getting a divorce he'll try to grab the baby," Lovejoy exclaimed. "But the baby's mine, remember! And as soon as I come back as Steve's wife I'm going to take the baby. So if Tom . . . Tom and Trixie think they don't let him do it!"

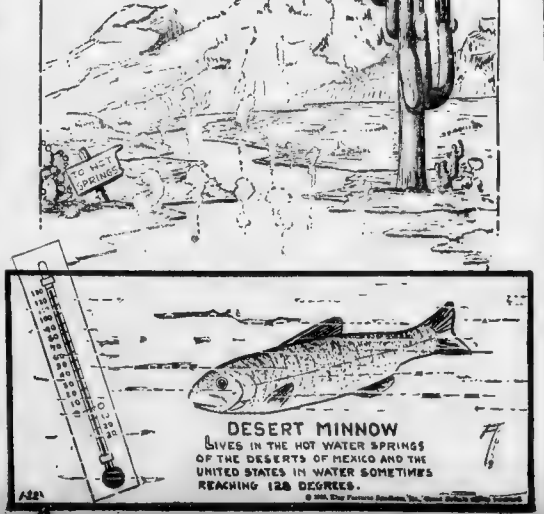
It was then that Aunt Em sprang her surprise on Lovejoy.

"He'll be right here in this flat at the time, most likely," she said calmly. "I'm not going to live here with just that tiny baby all the time you're gone!—I tried living here by myself for a few days, and every night when I went to sleep I expect I to wake up and find myself murdered in my bed!"

Copyright, 1916, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

To Be Continued Monday

Curious Creatures -:- By Richard A. Addison



Girl Unafraid -:- New Serial

Continued from age 1, 2nd Sec

so serious she was a little afraid of him.

Neil's whole family was queer. His father, Comus Burke was a bitter, unsuccessful man who vented his disappointment in life by railing against everything. His quarrelsome disposition had won him a reputation as a trouble maker. Work was becoming increasingly hard for him to obtain—that added to grievance and railing; thus the circle rounded on itself.

Neil's mother was dead. His grandmother kept the house. A dyspeptic old woman, half living in a fanciful world of her own.

The boy's fiery nature had been warped by the constant association of these two. At 23 he was on the defense against the world. Romantically good looking in fashion, fostered feminine hearts in the neighborhood, but in all the world there was only Ardeth Carroll for him.

Perhaps he already had some inkling that he might lose her, for he was passionately jealous. He swept the girl along on the surge of his own emotions, trying to drown by force the love he was not patient enough to foster. Ardeth had learned to dread the black moods of Neil.

She strove gallantly now to put the situation on a lighter plane.

"Oh, it's a good-by to be out in the sunshine!" She smoothed the [illegible] of her short skirt. "Go out through the park? Neil. Let's get the other cars."

It was the first bright day after a week of fog. The park highways were crowded—motors and [illegible] line, snappy roadster and little cars.

Little of the snob in the heart of Ardeth, however. The big silent cars spinning past moved her to admiration, not envy. Enough to be alive and happy in the sunshine today. To know one was pretty and young. To feel this secret thrill of expectancy . . . holding one's breath as it was in a way waiting for [illegible] to happen.

The cars were [illegible] The equestrian path crossed the high way here . . . and the traffic officer was [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

EVENING New York Stocks AMERICAN News of Street MARKETS

BANK SHARES ARE BRISKLY PURCHASED

By FRANK H. MELOON
Financial Editor

There was considerable interest in State St. circles in the reported merger negotiations between the First Chase National Bank, of which Albert H. Wiggin, former Boston banker, is chairman, and the Equitable Trust Co. The proposed merger would make the consolidated bank in all respects the world's largest. Such a move was regarded as logical in State St. since estimated brisk buying of bank shares.

Albert H. Wiggin

• • •

President E. R. Reeser of the American Petroleum Institute is cheered by current progress in the direction of curtailing production, but would intensify efforts towards additional conservation. President Reeser was recently called in to confer by a Wall St. rumor that he would be succeeded as head of the oil institute by former President Calvin Coolidge.

• • •

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia was surprised when Senator Frederick H. Walsh of Massachusetts revealed to him plans for the 21-story Federal building in Boston. Senator Glass might have been in a position to follow more closely Boston's spirit of progress if he had kept an engagement a few weeks ago to speak before the Boston Chamber of Commerce; unfortunately, he could not do it.

• • •

In State Street we hear sharp criticism of the Government's plans to demolish Arnold Mansion to be accepted in place of granite because the bids were cheaper. It is pointed out that the bids for a wooden structure might be still cheaper. When the Quincy granite was used in Boston to demolish historic King's Chapel, writers declared the supply had been exhausted. Now it is scientifically certified the granite from the old Federal Building—at least a lot of it—has been dumped into the water near the North Station.

• • •

Earlier this week we noted that the trend in companies reporting sales for February was to display gains over the like month a year ago. Following is a list of the reporting companies bearing out this statement:

	FEBRUARY 1930	1929	P. C. Inc
A. Roebuck	$27,000,000	$23,000,000	17.39
F. Woolworth	20,029,799	19,370,281	3.38
ney Co.	15,753,000	15,000,000	5.02
J. C. Penney	11,186,695	9,774,318	19.4
S. S. Kresge	8,943,000	8,000,000	11.79
W. T. Grant	3,911,272	3,518,008	11.24
Kobacker Co.	1,396,684	1,200,000	16.39
FAWG-BI	1,580,963	1,436,058	15.1
J. Newberry	2,000,000	1,878,000	6.5
Lerner St. Co	1,518,177	994,862	24.13
Schulte Unit	1,315,784	1,090,000	20.7
South Gro St.	1,322,000	1,068,000	26.3
Wrigley, Jr.	1,200,000	1,000,000	20.0
Wash'n Bk	1,257,023	1,227,865	2.3
S. Fender Co	1,227,282	1,200,000	2.27
G. R. Kinney	1,047,778	1,024,973	2.24
Wal. Co.	1,000,000	962,359	3.9
G. C. Murphy	888,927	909,920	8.6
Peaslee Gaynor	867,276	715,936	21.2
Am. Dept St.	809,987	791,265	2.2
Kinney Bros	809,000	683,949	18.3
Stanford's In	474,000	403,195	17.7
Wat. Store Co.	391,640	349,000	12.2
Interboro Rt St	296,000	314,416	43.6
Horton's Ice	279,000	277,729	0.5
Nedicks	149,133	137,466	8.6
Whelan St.	61,000	60,705	0.4
M. Fishman	31,271	29,873	60.3

• • •

The "inside" story of financing by Boston banking interests, which helped the potato farmers achieve prosperity is most interesting. Not that for 1929 the potato crop was the only important one to climb to higher prices.

• • •

C. B. Vincent, after 35 years with the Torrington Co., is relinquishing his active duties as secretary and treasurer but remains as chairman of the board of directors. A. W. Burg has been advanced from assistant treasurer to treasurer and C. J. Rose has been made secretary. F. A. Pearce has been made assistant treasurer to succeed Mr. Burg.

• • •

Morton F. Stern of J. S. Bache & Co., sailing for Europe, states that he believed the market situation to be in a fundamentally sound condition. "A great deal of stress," he said, "has been laid on the poor quarterly reports for the first three months of the year and the market effect attendant upon them. Certainly, the poor reports will not be gotten. Students of economics have a firm belief that the summer and fall business in this country will be most satisfactory, dependent only upon the ability of grain to hold or improve its present prices and providing no disturbing tariff rates finally pass the President's signature.

• • •

"With the Federal Reserve loans at a low point and a great many securities selling on an attractive return basis and, last, but not least, an enormous bear party locked in the market, it seems likely that a gradual advance in market prices of premier securities can be expected.

• • •

"The slowest premier industries to respond and emerge from the period of freight occasioned by the break in the market last year are the automobile and the coppers. But as these are public necessities, their future seems assured. Certainly the picture presented today is far different in character from that of a few months ago and the return of confidence seems to be reflected in all respects."

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

Sales today (I. N. S.) 1,600,000 shares. Yesterday, 3,634,700 Week ago, 1,806,700 Year ago, 2,945,400 1930 to date, 150,628,000 1929 to date, 218,163,400 1928 to date, 123,801,200

A

1930 High	1930 Low	Stock and Dividend	High	Low	Close	Net Chg.
7¼	4¼	Abitibi Power	2⅝	2⅜	2⅜	– ⅛
7¼	6¾	Abitibi Pw pf (6)	7	6¾	7	+ ⅛
34¾	27¼	Adams Exp (1.60)	33⅝	33¼	33⅝	+ ⅜
2¾	1¼	Adv Rumely	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
		Ahumada Ld	2	2	2
138⅞	118	Air Reduct (4½d)	138⅝	137	137	– ⅝
32⅝	21	Airway E Ap (3%)	33⅜	33	33	+ ⅛
1¾	¾	Alak Rubber	¾	¾	¾
9⅛	7	Alaska Juneau	7	7¼	7¼	– ⅛
31½	23	Allegheny Corp	31⅞	30¾	31⅛	+ ⅝
103⅜	95½	Alleg pf w w	103⅜	102¾	103
262	236¼	Allied Chem (6d)	262	260¼	260	– 1
65¾	60½	Allis Chalmers (4)	65¾	63¾	63¾	+ ¾
21⅞	18	Alpha Por Cem (3)	21⅝	20	21⅛	+ ⅛
1¾		Amerada (2)	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
		Am Agric Ch	2	2	2
2¾	2¼	Amer Leather	3	3	3
36	32	Am Ice	32	30¼	32	+ ¾
		Am Rare Metl(oc)	8⅞	8⅞	8⅞	– 1⅛
9⅜	7	Am Rad Stor	9⅜	9¼	9¼	– ⅛
93	90	Am Smelt Mg	90	90	90	– ⅛
54⅜	46⅜	Am Snuff (3)	50⅜	50	50⅜	+ ⅜
84⅜	68⅜	Am Brake B (2.40)	81⅜	81⅜	81⅜	– ⅜
14⅜	12	Am Sir Solvent	14⅜	14	14⅜	+ ⅛
145½	117¼	Am Can (6b)	143	142	142¾	+ ¾
82½	77	Am Car & Fy (6)	78	78	78	– ¾
93¾	90	Am Car & pf (6)	92	92	92
10	6	Am Chicle (2½b)	44¼	44	44¼	– ¼
45	35	Am Com Al (2d)	43¼	43	43¼	+ ¼
40⅜	35	Am Europ sec	47½	47½	47½	+ ½
109⅛	98¾	Am & Forn P	99¾	97¾	97¾	– 1
107⅜	97	Am & For P pf	110	99¾	99¾	– 1
61	19½	Am Hawaii SS (3)	29	28¾	29	+ ½
102	84¾	Am Home P (4.30)	98	94	94¾	– 3
23¾	20	Am Inter (2d)	20¾	20¼	20¼	– ¼
21	16	Am La France	21	20¾	20¾
100	62¼	Am Locomot (3)	97¾	96¼	96¼	– 1¼
118½	111¾	Am Loco pf (7)	117¾	117¼	117¼
103¾	97	Am Metals (12)	103¾	103	103¼	– ¼
78	77	Am Pow & Lt (1d)	108	108¾	107	– ¾
88	80	Am P&L 1pf(4.50)	88	88	88	+ ¾
102½	97½	Am P&L 2 pf (6)	103¾	103¾	103½	+ ¼
74	60	Am Rad &St (1½)	66	64	65¾	+ ¾
32	27	Am Republics	27	26½	27	+ ¼
101	80	Am Roll Mill (4)	94¾	94¼	94¼	– ¼
61¼	50	Am Safety R (5)	61¼	59¾	59¾	– ¼
43¾	34	Am Smelting (4)	43¾	43¼	43¼	– ¼
63¾	42⅜	Am Snuff (3d&b)	63¾	63¼	63¼	+ ¼
49¾	43	Am Steel Fdy (3)	49¾	48	49¾	+ ¾
26⅜	18¾	Am Sugar (2)	26⅜	25¾	25¾	– ¼
44⅜	37	Am Sumatra (3)	44⅜	44	44	– ¼
27¾	26	Am Tel & C (5)	26⅞	26¾	26¾	– ⅛
187¾	174	Am Tel & Tel (9)	187¾	186¾	186¾	– ¾
244½	197	Am Tobacco (10b)	240	240	240	+ ½
246½	197	Am Tobac B (10b)	243	242	242	– ¾
112¾	88¼	Am Water W (1d)	108	108¾	108¾
103		Am WW 1pf (6)	104	104	104
41¾	34	Am Woolen	35½	34	35½	+ ¾
30¾	26	Am Woolen pf	31¾	30¼	30¾
17¾	8½	Am Zinc	17¼	17¼	17¼	– ¼
44¾	34¾	Amoskeag	44¾	44¾	44¾	+ ¾
54¾	40	Anaconn Wire (4)	49	48⅝	48⅝	– ¼
52⅞	30¼	Andes Copper (4)	33¼	32⅞	32⅞	+ ⅛
27¾	22¼	Archer Dan M (2)	24½	24¼	24¼	– ¼
178¾	175	Arm D Ctf pf (7)	178	178	178
46		Armour Ill A	45¾	45¾	45¾
9		Armour Ill B	9	9	9
67	60	Armour Ill pf (7)	60¾	60¾	60¾	– ¼
64¾	58¼	Armstrong Cork	64¾	64¼	64¼	– ¼
43¾	36¼	Assoc Apparel (4)	44¾	43¾	44	+ ¼
48	40	Assn Dry Gd (2.40)	45	45	45	+ ¼
90¾	85	Assn D G 1st pf	90¾	87¼	90¾	+ 3
84½	85	Asso D G 2 pf (4)	86¼	83½	84	– ¼
30¾	25	Atchison (4)	30¾	30¼	30¼	– ¼
104¾	102½	Atchison pf (5)	103¾	103¾	103¾
172	166	Atlantic Co (8½b)	172¾	172½	172½
80¾	66¼	Atlantic Gulf	80	78¾	78¾	– ¾
65¾	59	Atlantic Gf pf (6)	64½	64	64
61¾	49¾	Atl Refin (1¼d)	61¾	61¼	61¼	– ¼
94	81½	Atlas Pow (6b)	91	90	90	– ½
104¾	101	Atlas Pow pf (6)	102	102	102
46¾	37	Atlas Stor Am (4d)	44¾	44¼	44¼	– ¼
6¾	4¾	Aviat Corp (Del)	7¼	7	7	– ¼

B

38	30½	Baldwin Loco (1¾)	36½	33¾	36	+ 1¾
119⅝	118	Balt & Ohio (7)	119¾	117¾	119	+ 1¾
34¾	28	Barker Bros (2)	34¾	34	34¾	+ ¾
20¾	16¾	Barker Bros (3)	18⅜	18¼	18⅜	+ ⅛
20¾	16¾	Barnsdall A (3)	20¾	20¼	20¾	+ ¾
14	13	Beacon Oil	14	14	14
78	67¼	Beatrice Cr (4)	78	78	78	– ¼
49½	37¾	Bendix Aviat (4)	48¾	48¼	48¼	+ ¼
91	70	Best & Co (3)	88½	87¾	88¾	+ ¾
81	68	Bethlehem Steel	80¾	80¼	80¾	+ ¾
198	121¼	Bethlehem St pf (7)	128
56½	47¾	Bohn Alum (2½b)	52¾	52	52
57¾	48¾	Borden Co (3½)	57¾	57¼	57¼	– ¼
73¾	60¼	Borden Co (3)	73¾	72¼	73¼	+ 1¼
46¾	42¼	Borg Warner (6)	46¾	45¾	45¾
45¾	34¾	Briggs Mfg	44¾	44¼	44¼	– ¼
27		Briggs & Stra (3)	27	27	27
21¾	21¼	Brockway Mo	15	15	15
6¾	6	Bklyn Man Tr (4)	74¾	74¼	74¼	– ¼
90¾	84	B-M Tran pf (6)	89	89	89	– ¼
88¾	83¾	Bklyn Union Gas	88¾	88¼	88¼	– ¼
137¾	131	Bkyn Un Gas (5)	122¼	121	121¼	– ¾
40¾	34	Brown Shoe (3)	40¾	40¾	40¾
24¾	13¾	Brunswk Bal	24¾	24¼	24¼	– ¼
29¾	22¾	Bucyrus Erie (3)	29¾	28¾	29¾	+ ¾
29¾	22¾	Bucyrus Erie pf	29¾	29¾	29¾
55¾	29¾	Bullard Co (1.60)	54¾	53¾	54¾	+ ¾
14¾	10¾	Burroughs Add (1)	14¾	14¼	14¼	– ¼
17¾	14¾	Bush Term (2.80)	17¾	17¼	17¼	– ¼
47¾	36¾	Butterick	47¾	47¼	47¼	+ ¼
96¾	80¾	Byers A M	96¾	93¾	94¾	+ 1¾

C

77	68¾	California P (4)	73¾	73¾	73¾	+ ¾
1¾		Callahan Zinc	1¾	1¾	1¾	+ ⅛
89	74¾	Cal & Aris (6)	80½	80¼	80½	– ¼
29¾	24¾	Cal & Hecla (2)	29¾	29¼	29¼	– ¼
64¾	54¾	Canada Dry (5)	71	70	70	– ¾
220¾	187¾	Canadian Pac (10)	209½	209¼	214¾	+ 5
22¾	17¾	Cannon Mills (2)	20¾	20¾	20¾
29¾	24¾	Capital Ad	25¾	25¾	25¾
29¾	24¾	Case T C (2.80)	29¾	29¼	29¼	– ¼
69¾	54	Caterpillr T (3½b)	69¼	69	69¼	+ ¼
67	57	Cavanaugh pf(8½)	73¾	73¾	73¾
47¾	38	Celotex Co (4.25)	47¾	47¼	47¼	– ¼
57¾	52½	Celotex Co (3)	56	54½	55¾	+ ¾
29¾	22¾	Cent Aguirre (1¼)	29¾	29¼	29¼	– ¼
34¾	30¾	Cent Alloy (3)	32¾	32¾	32¾
5	3¾	Century Rib'n	4¾	4¾	4¾
43¾	34¾	Certain-teed	43¾	43¼	43¼	– ¼
43¾	34¾	Certain-teed Pr	43¾	43¼	43¼	– ¼
73¾	63¾	Chesap'k Corp (3)	73¾	72¾	73¼	+ ¾
237½	203	Chesa & Ohio (10)	234	229	229	– 4
24¾		Chic & Alton	3	3	3
6¾		C M St P & P	6¾	6¾	6¾
46¾	40¾	C M St P & P pf	41¾	40¾	40¾
8¾		Chic & N W (6)	8¾	8¾	8¾
25¾	21¾	Chic Pneumatic	25¾	25¾	25¾
125¾	114	C Rock I & P (7)	118	118	118
14¾	11¾	Chic R I & Pac	14¾	14¼	14¼	– ¼
23¾	6¾	Chicago Cy (5)	27	27	27	+ ¾
67¾	57¾	Childs Co (3.40)	63	62¾	62¾	– ¾
29¾	24¾	Chrysler (3)	29¾	29¼	29¼	– ¼
61¾	51¾	City Stores (1)	59¾	59¾	59¾
152¾	125	Coca Cola (6)	152¾	152¾	152¾	+ ¾
67	30½	Col F & I (2)	58	56	57¾	+ 3¾
106¾	96¾	Col G & E pf (6)	96	96	96
106¾	70¾	Colum Ca (5½b)	99	96	96	– 3
90¾	70¾	Columbia Gas (2)	92¾	92¾	92¾	+ ¾
107¾	102¾	Col Gas pf (6)	107	107	107
31¾	24½	Colum Graph (.80)	30¼	29¾	30	+ ¼
37¾	21¾	Com Credit (3)	36¾	36¾	36¾	+ ¾
37¾	21¾	Com Credit A (4)	36¾	36¾	36¾	+ ¾
53¾	33¾	Com Inv Tr (1.60d)	54¾	54¼	54¼	– ¼
34¾	27¼	Com Solvents (1d)	34¾	33¾	34¾	+ ¾
13¾	6¾	Conn & So (60c)	7¾	7¾	7¾
48	33¾	Conso Nat (3)	44	44	44	– ¼
16¾	12¾	Congo Nairn	16¾	16¼	16¼	– ¼
58¾	45	Cong Cigar (1½b)	56¾	55¾	55¾	– ¾
23¾	21¾	Cons Film (2½)	21¾	21¾	21¾
24¾	20¾	Consol Coal pf (8)	24	24	24
25¾	16¾	Consol Gas (4)	12⅞	11⅝	11⅝	– ¼
22¾	12	Consolidated Oil	12¾	12¾	12¾
49	47	Container B	49	49	49
45¾	42¾	Cont Baking A	43¾	42¾	42¾	– ¾
61¾	56	Cont Baking B	56	56	56	– ¼
61¾	56	Cont Baking pf (8)	58¾	58¼	58¼	– ¼
88¾	68¾	Contin Can (3½)	88¾	87¾	88¾	+ ¾
34¾	28	Cont Dis Fibre (3)	31	30¾	31
84¾	66¾	Cont Motors	82¾	81¾	81¾	– ¾

C

1930 High	1930 Low	Stock and Dividend	High	Low	Close	Net Chg.
23¾	19¾	Continent Oil	21¾	21¾	21¾
69¾	57¾	Corn Prods (3½b)	65¾	64¾	65¾	– ¼
30¾	27¾	Cream of Wh (2)	30	29¾	29¾
34	24¼	Coty Inc (2d)	30¾	30	30	– ¼
20¾	9	Cres Carpet	17¾	17¼	17¼	– ¼
53¾	43	Crown C & S	50¾	50¼	50¾	+ ¼
14¾	9¾	Cuba Cane Su	11	11	11
6	4	Cuba Cane pf	5¾	5¾	5¾
16	6	Cuba Co	14	13¾	13¾	– ¼
46¾	36	Cudahy Pack (4)	45¾	45¾	45¾	+ ¾
13¾	6¾	Curtis Wright	12¾	12¼	12¼	– ¼
18¾	13¾	Curtis Wright A	18¾	18	18¼	+ ¼
84¾	66	Cutler Hamr (4)	80¾	77¾	78¾	+ 1¾

D

40	28¾	Davison Chem	39¾	39¼	39¼	+ ¼
153	136	Del Lac & W (7)	142	141¾	141¾	– 2¾
170	136	Diamond Match (3)	164	164	164
8¾	6¾	Dome Mines (1)	8¾	8¾	8¾	+ ⅛
77	77	Drug Inc (4)	77	77	77
254	226	DuPont d N (4½b)	129	128¾	128¾
119¾	115	Dupont db (6)	119¾	119	119¾

E

222¾	175¾	Eastman K (15b)	228¼	220¾	226¼	+ 7¼
105	81	Elec AutoLite (6)	101¾	101¾	101¾	– ¼
		Electric Boat	6¾	6¾	6¾
66¾	56¼	Elec P & Lt (2)	66¼	65¾	66¼	+ ¼
110¾	106¾	Elec P&L pf (7)	110¾	110¾	110¾
104¾	100	Elec P&L 2pf (7)	104¾	104¾	104¾
52¾	42¾	Endicott John (3)	52¾	52	52	– ¼
58¾	52¾	Engineers P (3)	57¾	57	57
87¾	67¾	Equity Corp (1)	87¾	87¼	87¼
98¾	87¾	Erie (4)	98¾	98¼	98¼	– ¼
43¾	36	Eureka Vac (4)	41	40¾	41	+ ¼

F

29	20	Fashion Pk (2½)	23	23	23
12¾	7¾	Fed Motor (.80)	11¾	11	11¼	+ ¼
37¾	32½	Fed Mot pf (4.40)	37	36¾	37	+ ¼
82	63½	Fidelity Phen (5)	80¾	79¾	80¾	+ ¾
23¾	20	Firestone (1.60)	22¾	22¼	22¼	– ¼
104¾	79¾	Firestone pf (6)	104¾	104¾	104¾
57¾	53¾	First Nat S (2½)	57¾	57¼	55	+ ¼
8¾	6¾	Flak Rubber	8¾	8¾	8¾
20	13	Flax Rub 1 pf	16¼	16¼	16¼
44¾	37	Follansbee R (1)	43¼	43¼	43¼	+ ¼
86½	68½	Food-W Sup (2)	81¾	80¾	80¾	– ¾
49¾	41¾	Fox Film (A)	46¼	44	44	– 2
61¾	50¾	Freeport Tex (4)	61¾	61¼	61¼	+ ¼
96	90	Fuller pr pf (6)	95	95	95

G

84¾	82	Gabriel Snub A	84	84	84	– ¾
107¾	94¾	Gen Am Tank (4d)	107¾	106¾	106¾	– 1¾
609¾	491¾	Gen Amphalt (4)	609¾	575	589¾	+ 17¾
109¾	105	Gen Bak pf (8)	109¾	109	109¾	+ ¾
2¾	2¼	Gen Cable A	2¾	2¾	2¾
61	51	General Cigar (4)	60	60	60
61¾	60	Gen Elec (1.60)	62¾	62¼	62¼
78¾	78¼	Gen El Spec (.60)	78¾	78¼	78¼
144	144	Gen Gas A (1.44)	69	69	69
87¾	86¾	Gen Foods (2)	87	86¾	86¾	– ¼
43¾	37¾	Gen Motors (3.75b)	42¾	42¼	42¾
126	117¾	Gen Mot T pf (7)	124¾	124¾	124¾	– ¼
87¾	67¾	Gen Pub Ser (2)	87¾	87¼	87¼	– ¼
97	86¼	Gen Ry Sig (3)	95	94¾	95	+ ¼
28¾	22¾	Gen Refract (2)	28¾	28¼	28¼	– ¼
87¾	67¾	Gillette S R (5d)	87¾	87¼	87¼	– ¼
31¾	21¾	Gimbel Bros	31¾	31¼	31¾	+ ¼
31¾	21¾	Gimbel Pr pf (5)	31¾	31¼	31¾	+ ¼
51¾	43¾	Glidden Co (2)	51¾	51¾	51¾	+ ¾
47¾	37¾	Gold Dust (2½)	47¾	47¼	47¼	– ¼
106¾	100	Gold Dust pf (6)	106¾	106¾	106¾
52	41¾	Goodrich (4)	48¾	48	48¾	+ ¾
100	85	Goodrich pf (7)	100¾	100¼	100¼	– ¼
88¾	62	Goodyear Tire (3)	87¾	87	87¾	+ ¾
100	90	Goodyear 1 pf (7)	100	100	100	+ ¼
74¾	62¾	Goodyear Tire pf	74¾	74¼	74¼	+ ¼
41	37	Graham Paige	41	40¾	40¾	– ¼
41¾	37	Granby Consol (2)	41¾	41¼	41¼	– ¼
43	32¾	Grand Union	39	37¾	37¾	– 1¼
41	37	Grant (D G)	41	40¾	40¾
43	32¾	Grant W T (1)	43¾	34¾	34¾	– 1¼
43		Gt Nor O et (5g)	23¾	23¾	23¾
95	85	Gt North pf (5)	92¾	92¾	92¾	+ ¾
28	23	Gt West Su (2.80)	33¾	33¾	33¾	+ ¼
124¾	124¾	Greenfield Tap	124¾	124¾	124¾
80	51¾	Gulf States St (4)	73	72	72	+ 1

H

174¾	134¾	Hahn Dept St	174¾	163¾	173¾	+ 8¾
39¾	29¾	Hamilt Watch (2)	39¾	39¾	39¾	+ ¾
70		Hershey Choc (6)	96	96	96	+ 6¼
83¼	70¾	Hershey C pf (5b)	96	96	96	+ 6¼
19	9	Hoe & Co (1)	19	19	19
60¾	52¾	Household Pro (4)	60¾	59¾	60
55¾	51	Houston Oil (2)	55¾	55¼	55¼	– ¼
81¾	55¾	Howe Sn (4½b)	81¾	79¾	77¾	– 1¾
58¾	56¾	Hudson Motor (6)	56¾	56¾	58¾	+ ¾
24¾	20¾	Hupp Motors (2d)	21¾	21¾	21¾	– ¾

I

23¾	20¼	Independent O (3)	23¾	23¼	23¼	+ ¼
11¾	8	Indian Motors	11¾	10¾	11	+ ¼
27¾	23¾	Indian Refin (2)	27¾	27¼	27¼	– ¼
184¾	154¾	Ingersoll R (5b)	185	176	185	+ 12
71¾	59¾	Inspiration C (3)	71¾	71¾	71¾
31¾	27¾	Insurancshs (.48)	31¾	27¾	27¾
24¾	20¾	Intreboro R T	23¾	23¼	23¼	– ¼
29¾	24¾	Int Agric (2)	29¾	29¼	29¼	– ¼
58	53	Int Agr pr pf (7)	54¾	54¾	54¾
185¾	182¾	Int But Mch (10)	185¾	185	185
144¾	140½	Int Harvest pf (7)	143¾	143¾	143¾
43¾	31¾	Int Hydro El (2a)	44	43¾	44	+ ¼
51¾	41¾	Int Nickel (1)	42	41¼	41¼	– ¼
19¾	16¾	Int Pa & Pw B	17¾	16¾	17¾	– ¾
5	3	Int Pa & Pw C	5	5	5
79	69	Internat Salt (6)	84	80¾	84	+ 5
26¾	22¾	Inter Tel & T (2)	68¼	68	68	– ¼
63¾	52¾	Iron D Pat (2)	63¾	63¾	63¾
29	19	Investors E C (2)	25	25	25

J

59	45	Jewel Tea (4)	59	58¾	58¾	– ¼
148½	117	Johns Manville (3)	147¾	139	139	– 3
122	118¾	Johns-Manv pf (7)	122	121¾	122	+ 1¾

K

82	77¼	Kansas City S (5)	77¾	77¼	77¼	– ¼
110	85	Kelch Alba (2½)	110¾	110¾	110¾	+ ¾
8¾	2¼	Kelly Sp Tire	4¾	4¾	4¾
42	20½	Kelly T S pf	28¾	26¾	26¾	– 2¼
7¾	7¼	Kelvinator	7¾	7¾	7¾
62¾	55¼	Kennecott (5)	59¾	59	59¼
35¾	25¾	Keister Radio	35¾	35¾	35¾	+ ¾
49¾	33¾	Kraft Phenix (1½)	48¾	48	48¾	+ ¾
85¾	83¾	Kresge D S	85¾	85¾	85¾	+ ¾
30¾	30¾	Kresge S S (1.40)	32¾	32	32	– ¾
37	31	Kroger Groc (1d)	41¾	41¾	41¾
31	23¾	Kreuger & T (1.34)	29	29	29

L

22¾	21¾	Lago Oil	25	23	25	+ 2¼
108¾	97	Lambert Co (8)	108¼	106¾	107¼	+ ¼
40¾	34	Lehigh P C (3½)	41¾	35	35	– 6
77¾	70¼	Lehigh Val (4½b)	75	75	75
13	12	Lehigh V Coal	12¾	12¼	12¾
104¾	92	Ligg &

NEWS OF Trends of the Day BOSTON Leaders' Views MARKETS

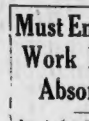
Must Employed Work Less to Absorb Idle?

Are Labor-Saving Inventions to Prove Blessing? Teagle's Example

—By B. C. FORBES—

NEW YORK, March 8—Walter Teagle, head of the biggest oil company of them all, Standard of New Jersey, promptly accepts the recommendations of the Federal



B. C. Forbes

Conservation Board that refineries operate only six days a week.

President Hoover, Chairman Farley of the Texas Corporation, a very important enterprise, voices public approval of this plan of cutting down overproduction of gasoline.

• • •

The industries which operate on Sundays are the ones which have been guilty of working employees seven days a week.

A new and vitally important reason for abolishing the seven-day work week has developed.

Modern ingenuity has so increased productivity per worker that there is an embarrassing surplus of workers in this country and throughout the world.

Why, therefore, employ large numbers of men seven days a week?

• • •

Let us ask: What is the aim and end of all the vast expenditures on research, on invention, on science, on chemistry, on labor-saving machinery?

Is it not to lighten human toil, to give mankind a maximum of life's necessities, comforts and luxuries at a minimum of effort?

• • •

Expressed differently: Our brilliant labor-saving achievements should reduce man's labors, man's hours of labor.

• • •

How, then, can the seven-day work-week or the 12-hour work-day be defended at this stage of American's progress?

• • •

What solution will be found for the almost worldwide over-supply of workers and the almost worldwide over-supply of the things workers produce?

The world's farmers are producing more wheat than the world's consumers are able to buy. The world is producing more than it is able to absorb of sugar, cotton, coal, oil, copper and other basic commodities. Various countries, most conspicuously our own country, could produce considerably more if consumers able to pay the price could be found. Given reasonable time, American alone could supply Europe with all of its automobiles, steel, oil, copper, cotton, coal, tractors, typewriters, canned beef, pork, mutton, locomotives, freight cars, films, cameras, adding machines, cash registers, generators, lighting fixtures and a thousand-and-one other things.

• • •

The problem immediately at hand is not, however, how to multiply our output manyfold, but how to find employment for the several millions of workers already released by our inventive skill, scientific skill, our chemical skill, and above all, by our unequaled managerial skill.

The United States had a surplus of workers for quite some time before the Wall Street panic. That fact was repeatedly commented upon in this column. It was termed a new condition in times of prosperity.

Our employment—our unemployment—problem must not, therefore, be viewed only as a temporary aftermath of a serious financial collapse. It goes deeper than that.

Its remedy must, therefore, be something deeper and more permanent than merely a speeding-up of construction expenditures by private interests.

• • •

Is the remedy to be found in doing away entirely with the seven-day work-week and the 12-hour day and by moving toward, not a six-day or even a five-and-a-half-day work-week, but the five-day week already introduced in the building industry and in certain other directions?

Copyright, 1930, by B. C. Forbes.

Aviation Stock's Book Value Is Up

North American - Aviation, Inc., reports for 1929 net profits including earnings of wholly-owned companies, but before providing for depreciation of marketable securities, of $1,305,815, equal to 93 cents per share on 2,000,000 no-par shares outstanding.

Open market securities owned at close of the year cost $14,688,898 and market value at year-end was $6,813,040. Book value of North American Aviation stock on March 1, 1930, was $10.88 against $9.40 as of December 31, 1929.

DOLLAR TRADE VOLUME UP FOR WEEK

The dollar volume of business during the week ended March 1 was lower than in either life previous week or the same week of 1929, according to the weekly statement of the Department of Commerce.

Reports from the steel industry covering the latest week, indicate lowered activity as compared with both the previous week and the same week of last year. Bituminous-coal production also showed declines from both periods. The output of crude petroleum was greater than in either the previous week or the corresponding period of the previous year.

The general level of wholesale prices was lower during the week than in either the previous week or the same period of 1929. Cotton prices showed no change from the previous week but were lower than a year ago.

Copper prices were unchanged from the previous week while prices for iron and steel also remained stationary. Lumber and iron and steel prices were generally lower than a year ago.

Loans and discounts of Federal Reserve Member Banks at the end of the week were lower than at the end of the previous week, but showed a gain over a year ago. Prices for stocks were lower than in either the preceding week or the same week of last year.

Interest rates showed only little change from the previous week but were considerably lower than a year ago. Bond prices were higher than a year ago. Business failures were fewer in number than in either the previous week or the corresponding period of 1929.

OIL-ELECTRIC CARS ORDERED

Montreal, March 8—Carrying on its 1930 program, the Canadian National Railways system has placed orders for two new oil-electric cars and four oil-electric car frames and trucks, it is announced by D. J. Hungerford, vice-president.

These follow heavy orders placed earlier in the year for locomotives and freight cars. Hungerford also announced placement of orders for sleeping and dining cars.

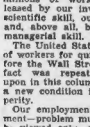
The two oil-electric cars and the four frames and trucks will be built in the National Steel Car Corporation of Hamilton, the four bodies to be completed in the Canadian National shops. Delivery will be made in July.

The Canada Car and Foundry Co., Montreal, has orders for the National System five dining cars, 12 lounge cars and 12 sleeping cars, the latter consisting of six compositions, one chambrette, one drawing room and three compartments.

Warner Showing in Quarter Is Good

Net of Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., of $5,629,106 after all charges for the three months ended December 30, 1929, constituting the first quarter of the new fiscal year, was in line with expectations. Actual balance for the 2,645,884 shares of common, after preferred dividends, estimated at over $2, proved to be $2.07 a share.

Expanding



F. B. DAVIS, JR.

Chairman of U. S. Rubber, reporting foreign operations expanding steadily, with foreign business last year representing 17.21 per cent of the total.

New York Curb Market

	A				H				S
		High	Low	Close		High	Low	Close		High	Low	Close
Aero war	2¼	2¼	2¼	Hudson Bay M&S	12¾	12¼	12¾	Starrett Corp	26¼	26½	26½
Aero Underwrit	23½	22¾	23½	Humble O & Ref	92	91¼	91½	do pf	38¾	38¾	38¾
Alexander Indust	8¼	8¼	8¼	Hupp Mot Car	8¼	8¼	8¼	Stein Cosmetics	17¾	16¾	16¾
All Am Gen Corp	20	19¼	20	Hydro El Serv	46¼	45½	45½	Stetson J B	70	70	70
Allegheny Gas	8¾	8¼	8¼	Hygrade Food	11	11	11	Stromberg Carbon	27	27	27
Allied Aviation	1¼	1¼	1¼		I			Studs Mot Car Am	2¾	2¾	2¾
Allied Mills	12	11¾	12	Imp Oil Can new	24¾	23½	24¼	Sun Invest	20	19	20
All Int Inv cvpf	38	38	38	Ind Ter Illum	41¼	40¾	41¼	Sun Invest pf	44¾	43¾	44¾
Aluminum Co Am	211	211	211	Industrial Finance	22½	22	22	Sunray Oil	6	6	6
Alum Co Am pf	107⅛	107⅛	107⅛	Insull Util	67¾	67¾	67¾	Superheater	43⅝	43⅛	43⅝
Am Arch	45	45	45	Insull Util 2 pf	95¾	89¾	95¾	Swift & Co new	32¾	32⅛	32⅛
Am Book	95	95	95	Ins Co N Am	78¾	78¾	78¾	Swift Int	32½	32	32
Am Capital B	⅛	⅛	⅛	Intercon Petrol	⅞	⅞	⅞		T
Am Chain	46¾	44¼	46¾	Internat Pet	20	20	20	Tampa El	69½	69½	69½
Am Cities P&L B	26¾	26¾	26¾	Inter Pap	7	7	7	Technicolor Inc	86½	84¾	84½
Am Com Pow A	26¼	26	26¼	Inter Super Pow	39⅝	38⅝	38⅝	Teck Hugh Gold	6¼	6¼	6¼
Am Com Pow B	38⅝	38¼	38⅝	Inter Util B	14	13¾	13¾	Thermoid Co	23¼	22¾	23⅛
Am Cont Oilfields	¼	¼	¼	Inter Util war	3¼	3¼	3¼	Third Nat Inv	41¼	41¼	41¼
Am Cyan B	28¼	27¾	27¾	Interstate Equit	13¼	13¼	13¼	Tishman Realty	44¼	44	44
Am Dept Stores	5	4¾	5	Interstd Eq cvpf	45¾	44⅜	45¾	Tob Prod Export	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Am Equities	16¼	16¼	16¼	Investors Equity	6	6	6	Tonopah Min	1¼	1¼	1¼
Am & Fgn Pw war	65¼	67	65¼	Irving Air Chute	17¼	17¼	17¼	Transamer Corp	45¾	45	45½
Am Gas & El	136¼	135	135	Ital Superpw A	14¾	14	14⅜	Transcont Air Tr	9¾	9⅝	9¾
Am G & E pf	107¾	107¼	107¼		J			Transcont Oil new	16¼	16¼	16¼
Am Invest B	13¼	11⅞	12	Johnson Motor	41	41	41	Trans Lux Pic A	8¾	8¾	8¾
Am Rlty & Pow	24¾	24½	24½		K			Tri Cont Corp	16	15¾	15¾
Am Superpw	30	29¼	29¼	Klein Hy ptpf	20½	19¾	20	Tri Cont Corp pf	88	88	88
Am Superpw 1 pf	99⅜	99	99⅜	Kolster Brandes	½	½	½	Tri Cont Corp war	6¾	6¾	6¾
Am Tel & Cable	28¾	28¾	28¾		L			Tri Utilities	50¼	49¾	50¼
Arizona Power	30½	30½	30½	Lake Superior	14½	14½	14½	Tublize Art Silk B	138½	136¼	136½
Arkansas Nat Gas	15	14¾	15	Lefcourt Realty	23¼	21¾	22¼	Tung-Sol Lamp	28	27¾	28
Atlas Corp A	14¾	13¾	13¾	Lefcourt Realty pf	35⅞	35⅜	35⅞	do pf	36⅞	36⅜	36⅜
Ark P&L pf	108	108	108	Leonard Tire	6	6	6		U
Asso Dye & Print	3	3	3	Lexington Oil & Gas	3	3	3	Un Nat Gas Can	29⅞	29⅞	29⅞
Asso El Ind Ltd	6	6	6	Liberty Dairy	91⅜	89	91⅞	Union Tobacco	¾	¾	¾
Asso G & El A	45½	45	45	Loew's war	16⅞	15¾	15¾	United Cars Fast	13½	13	13
All Fruit & Sug	¾	¾	¾	Loew's deb rts	45	41¾	43	United Corp war	20¾	20¾	20¾
Loans and discounts	28⅞	28⅜	28⅜	Lone Star Gas	38¼	83¼	38⅜	United Founders Corp	45¾	45¾	45¾
Autom Mus A	12¾	11⅜	12⅜		M			United Gas	25¼	24¾	25
Autom Vot Mach	6¼	6	6	Marine Midland	42⅜	42	42⅛	Un Lt & Pw A	40¾	39¼	40¼
Aviation Corp	12¾	12	13¼	Marshall Field	48¼	48¼	48¼	Un Lt & Pw cv pf	107⅞	107⅜	107⅜
Aviation Sec	8¼	8¼	8½	Martin-Parry Corp	8¾	8¾	8¾	Un Lt & Pw B	99⅞	89	99⅞
	B			Maryland Rail Corp	4¾	4⅜	4⅜	B U S & I S 3rdpf	78¼	77	78
Bahia Corp	4¼	3⅞	3⅞	Marlon Stn Shoe	15¾	15¾	15¾	U S Dairy Prod B	20	19¾	20
Baldwin Locomotive	13	12¾	13	Mariand of Mexico	⅜	⅜	⅜	U S Elec Pow	19¾	19	19¼
do cvt pf	43¼	42½	43	Mavis Bottling Co	2¼	2	2⅛	U S Foil B	25⅜	25¼	25⅜
Bowman Biltmore	30	30	30	Mayflower Assoc	85	85	85	U S Lines pf	17¼	16¾	17¼
Bridgeport Mach	6¼	6¼	6¼	Mead Johnson	61	61	61	Un Verde Ext	12⅜	12⅜	12⅜
Buroo war	3¼	3¼	3¼	Memphis Nat Gas	17¾	17	17¼	Uni Pictures	16	16	16
Burma Ltd	3	2⅞	3	Mesabi Iron	2	2	2	Utility Equities	16¼	16¼	16¼
	C			Met S to 50c St pf	23¼	23¼	23¼	Util Pw & Lt	24½	24	24¼
Cable & Wire B	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	Metro Ch Stores	19½	19½	19½	Utility & Indus	20¼	19¾	20¼
Cam Co vtc	7-16	7-16	7-16	Mid West Util	33⅛	33⅛	33⅛	do pref	35½	33¾	34¾
do pf	2¾	2¼	2¾	do A war	⅛	⅛	⅛		V
Can Marconi Wireless	¾	¾	¾	do B war	6¼	6¼	6¼	Vacuum Oil	91½	91	91
Can Pac Ry new	52¼	52	52¼	Midland Steel 2 pf	20¼	20¼	20¼	Van Camp Pack	10¼	10¼	10¼
Carib Syn	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	Midland United	27	26¾	27	do pref	12¾	12¾	12¾
Central At States	6¼	6¼	6¼	Miller & Sons	31	31	31	Vick Financial	8¾	8⅝	8¾
Cent Pub Serv A	39⅝	39½	39⅝	Mining Co Canada	2¾	2¾	2¾		W
Cent Pub Ser Del	32	31	32	Miss R Bdge Mills	24¼	24¼	24¼	Walgreen Co	52¾	52	52
Cen States Elec	32⅞	32	32⅞	Mock Judson Ved	25	24	25	Wayne Pump	14¼	13¾	14¼
do pf	97⅜	97⅜	97⅜	Municipal Service	9	9	9	Wenden Cop Min	⅛	⅛	⅛
Centrifugal Pipe	6	6	6		N			Wilson Jones	52	52	52
Chain Belt Stock	16	16	16	National Am Co	8⅞	8½	8⅞		Z
Cities Service	38⅝	38¼	38⅝	National Aviation	16¾	16¾	16¾	Zonite Prod	19	19	19
do B pf	8¼	8¼	8¼	Nat Bank Republic	18¼	18¼	18¼
City Stock & Tool	27	24¾	27	Nat Food Prod B	3¼	3¼	3¼
Clark Lighter A	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	Nat Fuel & Gas	31¾	30¾	30¾
Colgate Palmolive	61	61	61	Nat Investors	26¾	26	26¼
Colombian Inv	5	5	5	National Leather	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
Columbia Picture	30	29¾	30	National Rubber	17	16¾	17
Col A Parts cv pf	25	25	25	Nat Pub Serv B	50	50	50
Cons Copper Mines	15⅛	14⅜	14⅞	Nat Union Radio	7	7	7
Comwealth Edison	15⅜	14⅜	15⅜	Nat U Radio pf	16¾	16¾	16¾
Comwest & So war	5¾	5¾	5¾	Nevada Cal Elec	75	69¾	74¾
Cons Aircraft	22¼	22	22	New Bradford	2¼	2¼	2¼
Cons Dairy Prod	32	28¾	31	N E St Pow pf	95½	95½	95½
Cons G & E Bltz	5	4¾	5	New Jersey Zinc	86	84½	86
Cons Gas E Balt 111	113	113	113	Newmont Mining	121⅞	131
Cons Gas Util A	28	28	28	New Tel 5½ pf	116	116	116
Cons Instrument	4¾	4¼	4¼	New York Invest	25¾	25⅝	25⅝
Cons Mercantile	15¾	15¾	15¾	NY Rio & B Aires	10¼	10¼	10¼
Cons Min & Sm	290	290	290	NY Shipbuild pf	41½	41½	41½
Cooper Bessemer	31¾	31¾	31¾	Niagara Hud Pow	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝
Cord Corp	15	14¾	14¾	Niag H P A war	4¾	4¾	4¾
Cord Corp new	15	14¾	14¾	Niag H P A war	4¾	4¾	4¾
Corroon & Rey	15	14¾	14¾	Niles Bem Pond	39¾	39¼	39½
Coty Int Sales rts	41	41	41	Norandа Mines	41¾	41¼	41½
Creole Pet	6	6	6	North Am Aviation	35⅝	35⅛	35⅛
Crocker & Wheeler	31	28¾	30½	North Am Cement	5¾	5¾	5¾
Curtiss Wright w	2¾	2¾	2¾	North States P A	174¼	174	174
Cusi Mex Min	1¼	1¼	1¼	Northern Pw pf	95½	95½	95½
	D			Northwest Eng	29	29	29
Darby Pet	7¼	7¼	7¼		O
Deere & Co new	124	122	124	Ohio Cop	⅛	⅛	⅛
Deere & Co pf	101½	100⅝	101⅜	Outboard Mot B	6¾	6¾	6¾
De Forest Radio	4¼	4¼	4¼	Otis Elev new	79½	78⅜	78⅞
Detroit Edison	21¾	21¾	21¾		P
Detroit Aircraft	5¼	5¼	5½	Pac Coast Bis pf	61½	60⅜	61⅛
Dixon Crucible	165	164¾	165	Pac G & E 1 pf	26¾	26¾	26¾
Douglas Aircraft	17¼	16¾	17¼	Pacific Pub Ser	35⅝	35⅜	35⅝
Dressed Mfg A	39¾	39¾	39¾	Pacific Lighting	4	3¾	4
Dubilier Condenser	9½	9	9¼	Pacific Pw & Lt	13⅛	13⅛	13⅛
Durant Mot	5¼	5	5	Pandem Oil	2¼	2	2¼
Duval Tex Sul	18⅞	18⅞	18⅞	Paramount	6¼	6¼	6¼
	E			Pennroad Corp	14¾	14¾	14¾
East States Pw B	28¾	26⅝	26⅜	Peoples Lt Pw A	35¾	35¾	35¾
East Util Asso	40	40	40	Pepperell Mfg	100	100	100
Eastern Util A	12¾	12¾	12¾	Perryman El	15	10⅞	11
Elsler Elec	21¾	21¼	21¼	Petroleum Corp	20⅞	20⅞	20⅞
Elsler Elec vtc	¾	¾	11-16	Phillip Morris	11-16	9-16	11-16
El Bond & Sh	107¾	107¼	107½	Pilot Radio	13	13	13
El Bond & Sh pf	107¼	107¼	107½	Pitney Bowes	13¼	13	13
El Pow Asso	33¾	33¼	33½	Polymet Mfg	13¾	13¾	13¾
El Pow Asso pf	29¼	28¾	29¼	Repub Steel	68	67	68
El P & L opt war	45¼	44¾	45¼	Premier Gold	1¼	1¼	1¼
Electric Share	29¾	29¼	29⅝	Prince & Whitely	10	9¾	10
Electric Shareholding	29¼	28¾	29	Prince & Whit pf	38¾	38¾	38¾
Empire Pow	56	56	56	Prop McCallum Hs	18	18	18
Eng Pub Ser optw	30	30	30	Prudential Invest	17¾	17¼	17¾
Eureka Pipe	50	50	50	Pub Util Hold	21¾	21	21
Europe El A	19¾	19¼	19¾		R
Europe El optwar	8¼	8¼	8¾	Radio Prod	26½	26	26
	F			Ry & Lt Sec	75	73	75
Fabrics Finishing	5	4¾	5	Rainbow L Prd A	10⅞	10⅛	10⅞
Fagaol Mot	14	13¾	13¾	Rainbow L Prd B	4¼	4¼	4¼
Fan Farm Candy	46¼	46¼	46¾	Reiter Foster	2¾	2¾	2¾
Fedders Mfg A	10¾	10¼	10¼	Reliable Stores	17¾	17¼	17¾
Federated Metals	23¾	23	23	Reliance Manage	20	19¾	19¾
Ford Ltd Can A	29¼	29¼	29¼	Repub Steel	73	73	75
Ford Mot Ltd	29¼	29¼	29¼	Repub Ill pf	96¼	96¼	96¼
Foremost Fabrics	19	19	19	Rockld L&P tr ctf	22¾	22¼	22¾
Founds Mach Co	50	50	50	Roosevelt Field	4¼	4¼	4¼
Fourth Natl Inv	46¾	46¼	46¼	Rossia	1¼	1¼	1¼
Fox Theater A	7¼	7¼	7¾	Russek's Fif Ave	16	16	16
	G				S
Garlock Packing	25¼	25¼	25¼	St Regis Paper	23½	23⅛	23⅛
Gen Bak	2¾	2¾	2¾	St Lawrence P M pf	68¼	68¼	68¼
do pf	44¾	40⅝	42½	Salt-Creek Cons	2¼	2¼	2¼
Gen Gas & El A	43¾	43¾	43¾	Schlff & Co	29¾	29¾	29¾
Gen Ind Alcohol	11	11	11	Schulte Real Esta	10	10	10
Gen Petroleum new	33½	32¾	32½	Schut Un 5s-51 St	3¼	3¼	3¼
Gen Realty & Util	14	13¾	13¾	Selected Indust	91	91	91
do pf	85	84	85	Selected Ind tot ctf	74	73¾	73¾
Gilbert Co	16	13⅛	15⅛	Select Ind pr pf	66	66	66
Gleaner Comb Harv	22½	21¾	22½	Sentry Saf Control	7	6¾	7
Glen Alden Coal	106⅝	106	106⅝	Servel Corp	9¾	9¼	9¾
Globe Underwriters	14¾	14¼	14¼	Shenandoah	17¾	17½	17¾
Gold Coin	5-16	5-16	5-16	Shenandoah pf	43¼	42¾	43⅛
Gold Seal Elec	3¼	3¼	3¼	Sherer Pac Ele	76	76	76
Golden Center Min	6¾	6¼	6¾	Silver 1 pf	95	95	95
Goldman Sachs	44¾	42¼	44¾	Silyer King Mines	9¾	9¾	9¾
Graymur	41	39	41	Simmons Mfg Ltd	6¾	6¾	6¾
Gt Atl & Pac nv	226	225	225	Sisto Financial	24¼	22¾	24
do 1 pf	117	117	117	Skinner Organ	33	33	33
Groc Str Prod vtc	12⅜	12⅜	12⅜	Sonora Products	5-16
Ground Gripper	24	24	24	So Am Gold & Pl	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Guardian Inves	28¼	28¼	28¼	South Coast	8	8	8
Guenther Pub	28¼	28¼	28¼	So Calif Edison	26¾	26¾	26¾
Gulf Oil Corp Pa	138¼	138	138¼	Southern Corp	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
	H			So Indiana Royalty	9¼	9¼	9¼
Hap Candy St A	1¼	1¼	1¼	Southwest Gas Utl	13¾	13¼	13¾
Hartford Elec	90	90	90	Std Oil Indiana	51¼	51⅛	51⅛
Helena Rubenstein	5¾	5¾	5¾	Std Oil Kentucky	33¾	33	33
Hir Wilder G&W	8¼	8	8	Std Pow & Lt B	69¾	69¼	69¾

CURB MARKET BULLS PUSH FAVORITES UP

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER

New York, March 8 (AP)—Weekend profit taking was well absorbed in today's short session of the curb market and the bull crowd was able to push several of its favorites 1 to 4 points further on the upward trend of the year.

A wide sprinkling of shares closed lower, but losses were for the most part moderate. The utilities, which have been rather heavily sold of late, displayed a better tone.

Some of the investment trusts again were buoyant features. Lehman Corp. rose near 5 points to a new peak. Goldman Sachs rose nearly 3 points and Blue Ridge was again firm. Shenandoah common sagged a fraction in profit-taking.

Cities Service was a firm spot in the utilities, with a gain of more than a point. American & Foreign Power warrants and Electric Bond & Share sold up nearly a point each. Hydro-Electric, however, ran into considerable realization and closed a point lower. Oils were quiet and irregular. Humbles were slightly and Cities Service gained fractionally. In the mines, Newmont sagged a point.

Crosscut Wheat was a strong spot in the industrials, in sympathy with the recent strength of electrical manufacturing stocks on the "Big Board." The stock jumped more than 3 points.

American Chain, recently brought to the fore in response to favorable earnings, mounted a couple of points to a new 1930 peak.

New Low Records Set for Grains

Chicago, March 8 (AP)—General selling based a good deal on persistent setbacks in Liverpool quotations early today. Chicago wheat values downward early today. New low price records for the season in corn and rye, together with reports of auspicious crop conditions in domestic winter wheat territory, were also a bearish factor.

Opening ⅜ to ¼c off, Chicago wheat rallied a little but afterward sagged again. Corn and oats were also weak, with corn starting ⅛ to 1¼c down, and subsequently keeping to the essential range. Provisions held firm.

$4,545,000 Issue for the New Haven

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Authority for the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad to enter an obligation for $4,545,000 of equipment trust certificates was given today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The securities would be issued by the Second National Bank of New Haven under an agreement to be dated March 15, 1930, and are to be sold at not less than 97.79 per cent and accrued interest in connection with the purchase of new equipment costing $6,068,878.

Mavis Bottling's Report Is Issued

Statement of Mavis Bottling Co. of America as of Dec. 31, 1929, shows total assets of $5,110,289, against $4,326,983 at the end of 1928. Current assets were $285,164 and current liabilities $477,268, against $413,831 and $161,699, respectively.

Bourse Recovers From Friday Upset

Berlin, March 8 (AP)—The Bourse today, to a great extent, recovered from yesterday's flurry brought on by resignation of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht as president of the Reichsbank. Reichsbank shares regain 11½ points, others rose correspondingly.

25 Engines Ordered

Union Pacific Railroad has ordered 25 locomotives from the American Locomotive Co.

Boston Stocks

	A				High	Low	Close	Chg
Alleghany				32	31¾	31¾	— ¼
Alles & Fisher				13	15	15	+ ½
Am Can				143¼	142½	142¾	—1½
Allis Chalmers				63½	63½	63¾	— ¼
Am Pow & Lt				106¾	106¼	106¾	— ¼
Am For Pwr				92¾	91¾	92¼	+ ½
Am Founders				28¾	28½	28¾	+ ¼
Am Pneu 1 pf				50	50	50
Atchison				235¾	233½	235¾	+ ¾
Am Tel				241¾	240	240¾	— ¾
Am Woolen				15	14½	13	— ¾
Am Woolen pf				37½	33¼	35¾	—2¾
Amoskeag				—	15¾	16¼	16— ¾
Anaconda				73	74¾	14¾	—3
	B
Beth Steel				105¾	103¾	105¾	+ 2¼
Bigelow Hartf				75	75	75
Bos & Albany				176	176	176	— ¼
Bos Elev				83¾	81¾	83¾	+ 1¾
Bos Elev 7 pf				98¼	98	98¼	—1
B & M pr pf				110¾	110	110¼	+ ¼
Balt & Ohio				119¾	118	119¼	+ 1¼
Briggs				14¾	14¼	14¾	+ ¼
	C
Cal & Hecla				29	28	29	— ¾
Chrysler				38¼	38¼	38¼	— ¾
Cities Ser				38¾	38	38	— ¼
Col Graph				30¼	29¾	29¾	+ ¼
Col Gas				92¾	92¾	92¾
Conwith Sts				17	16¾	16¾	—1
Con Gas				120¾	120	120¾	+ ¼
Chem Natl				23½	23½	23½	—1
Curtis Manage				16	15¾	16	+ ¼
Credit All A				17	16	17
Crown Ck Int				10¾	10¾	10¾	+ ¼
Curtis W				12¾	12¾	12¾	— ¼
	E
E G&F1 As pr				95	95	95	+ ½
EG&sF1 p pr				77¼	77¼	77¾	— ½
Eastern S S				32¾	32¾	32¾
Edison				265	265	265	—3
Employrs Grp				24¾	24¾	24¾	—
Engineers				58	57½	57¾
	F
Fisk Rubber				3¾	3⅜	3⅜	—¼
Fox Film				35¾	34½	34¾	+ ¼
	G
Gen Food				52	51¾	52	— ¾
Gen Capital				50¾	50	50
Georgian pf				10	10	10
Gen Elec				79	78¾	78¾	+ ¼
Gen Motors				43¾	42¾	42¾	— ¾
Gillette				96¾	93	93	—4
Globe Underw				14	14	14	—¼
Greif Bros A				41	41	41	—1
	H
Hathaway B				17	17	17	—2
Hudson Mot				36¾	36¼	36¼	— ¾
	I
Int Carriers				18¾	18	18	— ¾
Int Nickel				68¾	68¼	68¼	— ¾
Indian Mot				10¾	10¾	10¾	—
	J
Jenkins Telev				3¾	3¼	3¼	—
	K
Kreug & Toll				29	28¾	28¾	— ¾
	M
Mass Util				10	9¾

American Financial News

COPPER PRICE'S KEEPING UP IS DOUBTED

A discouraging view of the copper outlook for 1930 is taken by Brookmire Economic Service, Inc., in its latest special report on the copper situation. Due to a slump in the sales of electrical goods, the biggest single consumer of copper, and a similar sizeable decrease in the automobile industry, producers will have a hard time to maintain the 18-cent price level for copper, the report points out.

"Total copper requirements in the main consuming classes for 1930 compared with the 1929 rate will show a reduction of 15 per cent"; says the report. "This estimate of decline is computed conservatively and should be looked upon as a minimum. A collapse of the price structure is inevitable eventually, and the chief question probability appears to be swinging toward its actual occurrence this spring.

"Turning from the domestic situation to the foreign, there is little need to emphasize the drop that has already occurred in exports, since its extent is well known. Among the major importing countries, France is the only country whose takings of our copper were large in 1929. The two countries that ordinarily take the greatest amounts—the United Kingdom and Germany—both showed decreases from 1928.

"The next two months will constitute a critical period for copper producers. In contrast with the stock of copper less than 50,000 tons in the fall of 1928, the current tallied 18 per cent from the 1929 rate in order to be no larger than the smoothly average consumption is prospect for 1930; from the peak that production reached in the spring of 1929, curtailment must exceed 25 per cent.

"The odds against producers in their price maintenance effort are mounting. As long as there is lack of reviving demand, they naturally endeavor to keep the price pegged at 18 cents, as a breaking of this means it out not merely to 16 cents but perhaps to 14 cents and eventually 12 cents."

One Dividend Up, Another Is Passed

New York, March 8 (AP)—Directors of Coca Cola International Corp., a holding company for the Coca Cola Co. of Atlanta, Ga., has declared a quarterly dividend of $3 a share on the common stock, placing it on a $12 annual basis as against $8 paid previously. The dividend is payable April 1, to stock of record March 12.

The need of more working capital, it was explained by Robert W. Grigsby, president of the Grigsby-Grunow Co. of Chicago, manufacturer of radio receiving sets, caused the directors to omit declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock, due at this time.

Liquid Carbonic Planning Merger

Chicago, March 8—Liquid Carbonic Corp's additional 31,334 shares of common for which listing application has been filed with New York Stock Exchange will be used for purpose of acquiring new companies. Negotiations are under way, but names of the new companies will not be divulged until the completion of transactions.

Granite City Steel

Granite City Steel Co declared regular quarterly dividend of $1, payable March 31.

New York Produce Exchange Dealings

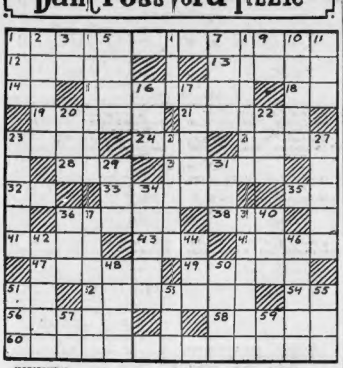
(Quotations furnished by R. A. Gallagher & Co.)

	High	Low	Last
Asso Gas & Elec	18	17¾	18
Asso Gas & Elec rights	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Auto Stock	3	3	3
Auto Music S	3	3	3
Amalg Metals	1¼	1¼	1¼
American Exch	1⅜	⅞	⅞
Amer Util & Gen A	16¾	16¾	16¾
Amer Solvents rights	1	1	1
Bank of U S	244½	244	244
Bagdad	2.00	1.70	1.90
Bank of America	132½	132	132
Bankers Bonds	14	14	14
Chatham Affiliated	4	4	4
Chase National Bank	175½	175½	175½
Claude Neon	3	3	3
Conden Air	1¾	1¾	1¾
Commonwealth	1	1	1
Lazarus Nuts	6	6	6
Motor Bankers	20½	20½	20½
Monarch Royalty	1¾	1¾	1¾
Mtge Trust	152	151½	152
Maple Products A	1	1	1
National Liberty Ins	17	17	17
North American Trust 8s	91½	91½	91½
Petroleum Conversion	11	10½	11
Oil Shares	1	1	1
Public Utility Holding war	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
Rel Mtge war	1	1	1
Rhodesian	12	12	12
Radio Corp	8	8	8
Seaboard Utility	1	1	1
Shamrock Oil	19½	19½	19½
Seaboard Utility wwi	1¾	1¾	1¾
Trust Bond	84½	84	84½
Trust Shares	1	1	1
Twin Tape	14¾	14¾	14¾
Utility Equity	2	2	2
Union Cigar	7	7	7
Warren Bros new w i	6½	6½	6½
Bonds Gold	1.40	1.38	1.40
Chem Associates	22½	22½	22½
Consolidated Gas B	11¾	11¾	11¾
Coma	1¾	1¾	1¾
Dixon	13	12¾	13
Detroit & Canada	3¼	3¼	3¼
Fox Scrip	83	80	81
Fajeon, Nickel	4	4	4
Great Northern Ry A	37⅝	36½	37⅝
General Fireproofing	36½	35¾	36½
General Tap Corp	1¾	1¾	1¾
Hudson Co Gas	50	50	50
Hale Carriage	1¾	1¾	1¾
Int Mineral Iron	3¾	3¾	3¾
Int Petroleum	24¾	24¾	24¾
Jerkins	3¼	3¼	3¼

New York Bonds

	High	Low	Last
Lib 3½s 32-47	99 31	99 31	99 31
Lib 1st 4½s 32-47	101.16	101.6	101.9
Lib 4th 4¼s 33-38	101.20	101.18	101.18
Treas 4½s 47-52	101.14	101.14	101.14
Treas 4¼s 37-62	112.25	112.25	112.25
Treas 3½s 40-43	100.15	100.15	100.15
Treas 3½s 43-47	100.17	100.17	100.17
CORPORATION BONDS.
Admiral Pow 6s	83¾	83¼	83¼
Adriatic Elec 5½s 52	98	98	98
Alabama Power 5½s 48	96½	96½	96½
Allegheny Corp 5s 44	101	100½	100½
Allegheny Corp 5s 49	99	98½	99
Ala Chal 1st 5s	100½	100½	100½
Am Chain 6s 33	100½	100½	100½
Am Chain 5s 43	99	98½	98½
Am Cyan 5s 42	99	99	99
Am I G Chem 5½s 49	103¼	103¼	103¼
Am International 5½s 49	97	96¾	97
Am Roumania 7s	100½	100½	100½
Am Sugar Ref 6s	103½	103	103½
Am T & T 5s 43	103	102½	102½
Am T&T con 5s 46	103½	103½	103½
Am T&T 4½s 29	100	100	100
Am T&T cvt 4½s 39	159	158	158
Am W Wks & Elec 6s	100½	100½	100½
Am W W & Elec 5s	100½	100½	100½
Am Wat Wks 6s 34	100½	100½	100½
Arm & Co Pow 1st 4½s	98½	98½	98½
Armour & Co 1st 4½s	98½	98½	98½
A T & S F gen 4s	94	93½	93½
A T & S F adj 4s	93½	93½	93½
Am T&T 5s 65	102½	102½	102½
Am T&T 4s 29	97½	97½	97½
A C Line 1st gtd 4s	92½	92	92½
Atl Refin deb 5s	101	101	101
Atl Refin 5s 37	101	100½	101
Balt & O ref 5s	103½	103½	103½
Balt & O ref 6s	103½	103½	103½
Balt & O ref 4½s	102½	102½	102½
Balt & O gold 4s	93½	93½	93½
Balt & O S W 4½s W VV Div	97	97	97
Bathing Hersney 6s	70	70	70
Beth Steel 7s 42	60	60	60
Beth Steel ref 5s	102½	102½	102½
Beth Steel 5s 42 ser A	97	97	97
Bklyn City RR 5s	103	102	102
Bklyn Edison 5s 49	103	103	103
Bklyn Union Gas 5s	99½	99½	99½
By Prod Coke 5½s 51	101	101	101
Can Nat Ry 4½s 51	93½	93½	93½
Can Nat Ry 4½s 57	93½	93½	93½
Can Nor s f 7s	101½	102
Can Nor 6½s 46	101½	101½
Can Pac 4½s	93½	93½
Can Pac deb s f perp	85¼	84¾	85¼
Canada South 5s	99½	99½
Carolina Pow & Lt 5s	104½	104½
Caro C & Ohio 5s	101	101
Cent Ill Pub Ser 5s	84½	84½
Cent New Eng 4s	84½	84½
Cent Pac 1st gtd 4s	93½	93½
Certainteed 5½s 48	92½	92½
Chesapeake Corp 5s 47	100	100
C B & Q gtg 5s	106	106
C B & Q 4s 58	93½	93
Chic & E Ill 5s 51	75½	75½
Chic Gt Western 4s	70½	69½
Chic & O 4½s 33 B	85½	85½
Chic & O cons 6s 36	104½	104½
Chic & Slf gen 4½s E	93	93
C M St P & P 5s A	75	74½
C M St P & P adj 5s 2000	72¾	72¾
C M St P & P 4½s 19	104½	104½
Chicago Railway 5s	75	75
Chicago Rys 5s 27	78	78
C R I & P gen 4s	89½	89½
C R I & P ref 4½s A	93½	93½
C R I & P 5s 34	93½	93½
C R I & P 4s 34 A	84½	84½
Chile Copper 5s	104½	104½
Chile Cop 5s 47	104½	104
Chile Mtge 6s 61	96½	96½
C C C & St L rfg 6s C	103½	103½
C C C & St L rfg 6s E 77	96½	96½
Clev Elec Ill 5s	103	103
Clev Un Term 5s	103	103
Colo Fuel & Iron 5s 52 Mar	100½	100½
Conn Inv Sy 5½s 49	93	92½
Con Coal 5s 50	93½	93½
Con Gas N Y 5½s 45	105½	105½
Consumers Pow 5s	104½	104½
Cuba Cane 6s 53	100½	100½
Cuba C Sug 6s 30 ctfs	78	78
Cuba RR rfg 5½s	68½	68½
Cuba RR 6s 36	68½	68½
Del & Hud rfg 4s	86	86
Del & Rit Tun 4½s	93½	93½
D & R G Wes 4s	58	58
Del Pow & Lt 5s	104½	104½
Det Edis 5s 49 A	103½	103½
Det Edis 4½s 33 E	103½	103½
Dodge Bros deb 6s	104½	104½
Dodge Bros 6½s 40	104½	104½
Duke Pow 1st con ext 5s	101½	101½
Duq Light 4½s 45	101½	101½
Elec Pow & Lt 5s 2030	101½	101½
Erie gen lien 4s	82½	82½
Erie ref 5s A	84½	84½
Erie cvt 4s B	84½	84½
Erie cvt 4s D	84½	84½
Erie & Jer 1st 6s	102	102
Fisk Rubber 8s	85	85
Fisk Rubber 7s	83	83
Gen Cable 5½s 47	101½	101½
Gen Cable 5½s 47 ser	101½	101½
Gen Pub Serv 5½s 48	97½	97½
Gen Refrac 5½s 40	97½	97½
Gen Refrac 5½s 43	97½	97½
Goodyear T & R 5½s 57	108½	108½
Goodyear T & R 5s 58	104½	104½
Gr Trunk Ry Can 6s	70	70
Gt Northern Pay 6½s A	103½	103½
Gt Northern Ry 5½s B	103½	103½
Gt Northern Ry 7s 36	103½	103½
Gt Northern 1st rfg 4½s	97½	97½
Gt Nor Ry C & W gen B	97½	97½
Gulf Sta Ste 4½s A	102½	102½
Hocking Val 4½s 59	103½	103½
Hudson Coal 5s A 62	71	71
Hud & Man 5s A 57	77½	77½
Hud & Man 5½s 37 A	77½	77½
Illinois Bell Tel 5s	104½	104½
Illinois Cent 5s	104½	104½
Illinois Cent 4½s	104½	104½
Illinois Cent 1st 4s	93½	93½
Ill Con 5½s 53 Ctf. dv	104½	104½
Interlake Iron 5½s 47	96½	96½
Ind Ill & Iowa 4s	89½	89½
Int Agricul 1st 5s	78	78
Inland St 4½s A 78	93½	93½
Int Cement 5s 48	97½	97½
Intern H Tr rfg 7s	65½	65½
Int Hydro El 6s 57	65½	65½
Int Match 5s 47	97½	97½
Int Match 6s 47	97½	97½
Int Paper 5s 47	87½	87½
Int Paper ref 4½s 39	120½	119
Int T&T deb 5s 52	72	72
Int T&T 4½s 39	97½	97½
Int T&T 4s 52	74½	74½
Iowa Cent 1st 4½s	93½	93½
Jones & Laugh 5s 39	101½	101½
Kan City Pow & Lt 5s	104½	104½
Kan City Sou 5s 50	102½	102½
Kan City Sou 3s 50	75½	75½
Kelly Spring 6s 42	100½	100½
Kelvinator 6s 32	100½	100½
Kentucky Utilities 5s	104½	104½
Keystone Tel 5s A	104½	104½
Kings Co El 4s	93½	93½
Lac Gas of St L 1st 5s	94½	94½
Lac Gas St L 1st 5s	94½	94½
Lake Shore 4½s 31	104½	104½
Leh Val Pa con 4s 2003	88	87½
Leh Val Pa 4½s 40	93½	93½
Liggett & Myers 5s	119	119
Liggett & Myers 7s	119	119
Lorillard 7s 44	119	119
Lowe's Inc 6s ex-war	89½	89½
Long Isl 1st gtd 5s	93½	93½
Long Isl gen 4s 38	92½	92½
Long Isl 4s 49	92½	92½
Lorillard Co 5s	108½	108½
Lorillard 6s 51	108½	108½
Louis & Nash 7s	100½	100½
Louis & Nash 5s 30	100½	100½
Manati Sug 7½s 42	81½	80
Manati Sug 6s 57	80	80
Manhat Ry 5s 57	98	98
Market St Ry 6s	98	98
Market St Ry 7s	98	98
Midvale Steel 5s	98½	98½
Miss River Pow 5s	104½	104½
Mo & N Ark 1st 4½s	106½	106½
Mo Kan & Tex 4s A	81	81
Mo Pac 5½s 49	93½	93½
Mo Pac 5s 77	100½	100
Mo Pac 4s 38	93½	93½
Mo Pac 4s 75	93½	93½
Mo Pac 5s 65	93½	93½
Mo Pac 5½s 49 A	93½	93½
Mo Pac 5s 49 A	93½	93½
Morris & Co 1st 4½s	93½	93½
Morris & Essex 3½s	75½	75½
Nashville Gas 5s	93½	93½
Nat Acme 5½s 49	93½	93½
Mutual Fuel Gas 5s 47	93½	93½
Nat Dist Prod 5½s 46	93½	93½
Nat Rad 6½s 47	93½	93½
New Eng T&T 5s	93½	93½
New Orl Term 5s	93½	93½
N O Tex & Mex 5s	93½	93½
N O Tex & M 5s B	93½	93½
N O Tex & Mex 4½s D	93½	93½
N Y C & HR con 4s	93½	93½
N Y C & H R 4½s 2013	93½	93½
N Y C & H R 4s A	93½	93½
N Y C Lines 4½s E 78	93½	93½
N Y C Lines 4s A 78	93½	93½
N Y Dock 5s 41	93½	93½
N Y Edison 5s 44	93½	93½
N Y Edison 4½s 44	93½	93½
N Y Edison 4s E	93½	93½
N Y Edison 3½s 65	93½	93½
N Y N H & H 4s 67	93½	93½
N Y N H & H 4s 56	93½	93½
N Y Rwys 4½s 65	93½	93½
N Y Rwys 5s 42	93½	93½
N Y Rwys 4s 42	93½	93½
N Y Rwys 5s 42	93½	93½
N Y Rwys 4½

Daily Cross-Word Puzzle



HORIZONTAL
1—Commander-in-chief
10—Roots of certain plants used as substitute for soap
13—The fragrant essential oil extracted from rose-petals
14—Greek letter
15—Britain
16—Ornamental stand with shelves
18—Civil engineer (abbr.)
20—Projecting strip of a roof
21—A Belgian city captured by the Germans in the World War
23—Ornamental stand with shelves
24—Civil engineer (abbr.)
26—Projecting strip of a roof
27—One who plays for pay
32—Perform
33—Window built out from a house, well and resting on a bracket
35—Poured
36—Bury
38—Nerve-like fiber
40—Ox-like animal
42—Compass point
43—Conjunction
44—Wall of a room
46—Tiny
47—A valley
48—Material for cloth
49—Musical note
50—Tobacco pipes
51—Fish having a spiny fin
53—Cereal grass
54—Greek letter
55—Ornamental stand with shelves
56—Civil engineer (abbr.)
57—Projecting strip of a roof

VERTICAL
1—Tobacco pipes
2—Live coal
3—Negative
4—Compass point
5—Conjunction
6—Wall of a room
7—Tiny
8—A valley
9—Material for cloth
10—Musical note
11—Cereal grass
12—Greek letter
15—Ornamental stand with shelves
17—Civil engineer (abbr.)
19—Projecting strip of a roof
22—Fish having a spiny fin
23—Burning
25—Preventive use of a word
28—Speck
29—Sock
30—Resist any authority
31—Wizard
34—Cereal
35—Deer
37—Fe
39—Distance of a mile
41—Entirety
42—Masculine pronoun
43—Battle
45—Chinese coin
47—Hypothetical force
49—Note of the scale
50—The sea which lies to the south of Europe
52—Medieval weapon
53—Masculine pronoun
54—Note of the scale

Copyright, 1936, King Features Syndicate, Inc

Herewith is the solution to yesterday's puzzle.

U	T	E	W	E	L	S	H	C	A	R
P	O	R	T	E	R	M	E	R	L	I
N	R	A	T	R	O	M	E	O	A	N
S	E	E	R	P	O	T	S	S	P	A
D	A	P	S	L	O	E	H	U	E	S
I	T	B	O	A	S	E	A	R	N	S
N	C	O	R	N	E	L	L	E	Y
O	V	A	T	E	V	A	S	E	A	R
Z	A	N	E	V	E	G	A	T	R	I
A	N	D	M	I	L	L	O	B	E	T
T	A	P	E	S	T	R	Y	V	E	X
P	E	D	A	T	E	P	I	L	A	T	E
O	N	E	R	A	S	E	S	I	T

JORDAN EXHIBIT OPEN SUNDAY

Because of many requests sent to Jordan Marsh Company by art enthusiasts for a Sunday exhibit, Ralph C. Hudson, executive vice president, announced today that the art galleries on the ninth floor annex would be open to the public Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 6.

Ralph C. Hudson

He also announced that despite the fact that art week is officially closed today, popular demand had caused him to extend the Jordan art exhibit for one more week.

Great interest has been manifested in the exhibition. More than 2500 persons attended daily. For the Sunday exhibit, the Avon and Chauncy st. entrances will be open, with elevators going direct to the galleries.

MONEY TO LOAN

Use Our Money ! It's Yours for the asking

Pay as you go and rid yourself of a lot of small debts at once. How much do you need? No delay. WE LOAN MONEY ON FURNITURE OR GUARANTEED NOTE

Call, phone or write for details

New England Equity Corp.

453 Washington St., Boston
Liberty 1751, 4th Floor, Llc. No. 87
Confidential Courteous Service

$50 to $5000 BOSTON FINANCE CO.

119 SUMMER ST. LIC. 126 LIB. 7548
15 SCHOOL ST. LIC. 166 LIB. 9266

Furniture & Auto Loans

Low Rates. Quick Service. Llc. 138

TREMONT FINANCE CO.

85 Hanover St., Boston, Llc. 139 Hay 6815

LOANS ON HEIRS' ESTATES

Trust funds, notes, mortgages, stocks, bonds, etc. HUB MORTGAGE CO., 232 Washington St., Room 604.

A FAMILY LOAN SERVICE—Come in, write or "phone if you need up to $300; quick, courteous service. Llc. 146. Industrial Bankers of Massachusetts, 243 Harvard St., Coolidge Corner. Asp. 6-5300.

A QUICK LOAN SERVICE—Come in, write or "phone if you need up to $300. Quick, Courteous Service. Personal Finance Co. of Massachusetts, Lorenz Bldg., 76 Mass. Ave. Porter 2-0-7-0.

NEED MONEY QUICKLY? Come in, write or "phone if you need up to $300. Quick, Courteous Service. Beneficial Loan Society of Boston, Inc. Llc. 72. 31 Tremont Bldg., 72 Tremont St., Boston. Hay. 2-5-3-5.

PERSONAL LOANS. Come in. Write or phone if you need up to $300. Quick, courteous service. PERSONAL LOAN SOCIETY. Room 4, 2d floor, 761 Dudley St., Dorchester. Gib. 0-1-7-0. 9:30-5:30.

MONEY TO LOAN

Mortgages, Collateral, Real Estate, Building Loans, Refinancing, Second Mortgages, Commercial Loans, Factoring, Installment Loans, Personal Loans, Automobile Loans, Furniture Loans, Salary Loans, Insurance Loans, Life Insurance Loans, Stocks, Bonds, Trust Funds, Estates, Notes, Accounts Receivable, Chattel Mortgages, Leases, Contracts, Patents, Royalties, Licenses, Copyrights, Trademarks, Inventions, Machinery, Equipment, Tools, Dies, Jigs, Fixtures, Merchandise, Inventory, Warehouse Receipts, Bills of Lading, Factory Orders, Purchase Orders, Sales Orders, Shipping Orders, Delivery Orders, Bills Receivable, Bills Payable, Drafts, Acceptances, Letters of Credit, Letters of Guarantee, Letters of Indemnity, Letters of Hypothecation, Letters of Trust, Letters of Attorney, Letters of Administration, Letters of Executorship, Letters of Guardianship, Letters of Conservatorship, Letters of Receivership, Letters of Assignment, Letters of Bankruptcy, Letters of Insolvency, Letters of Dissolution, Letters of Liquidation, Letters of Reorganization, Letters of Consolidation, Letters of Merger, Letters of Incorporation

EDITORIAL PAGE
MARCH 8, 1930

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING
CIRCULATION IN NEW ENGLAND

The Pilot

Good for Another Hundred Years, at Least

THE PILOT, official newspaper of the Roman Catholic archdiocese, celebrates today the centenary of its establishment one hundred years ago by the Rt. Rev. Benedict Fenwick, S. J., second Bishop of Boston.

A son of Loyola, Bishop Fenwick called his little newspaper "The Jesuit, or Christian Sentinel." The first number appeared on September 5th, 1829, when the See of Boston was 21 years old.

Seven years later, the familiar name of The Pilot appeared at the masthead. It has remained there ever since. The publisher, for two generations or more, was the late Patrick Donahoe. Two greatly gifted poets have been its editors, John Boyle O'Reilly and James Jeffrey Roche.

The centenary edition recalls these and other distinguished names and recounts most interestingly the growth of the Church in these parts, beginning with the first public celebration of mass, on November 7th, 1788.

Known today as "the Cardinal's newspaper," the Pilot is a welcome visitor every week to many thousands of homes. Its readers look upon it as friend and counsellor. Its editorial page, in particular, is a model of good English, a teacher of sound common-sense, a staunch and rugged expositor of religion. The centenary edition, of 148 pages, is a veritable history of the archdiocese.

Congratulating its venerable contemporary upon the attainment of a ripe old age, the Boston Evening American must also felicitate the reverend editor of the Pilot, and his associates, upon the publication of a birthday number which throbs with the spirit of youthful enthusiasm. The Pilot looks good for another one hundred years, at least.

Standing in the Bus

In Cambridge Against the Law

A COMPLETE list of petitions and denials is not at hand but the Cambridge City Council has AGAIN turned down a request of the Boston Elevated Railway for permission to allow standees in buses.

After two or three more attempts, perhaps, the Elevated will understand that it is the settled policy of Cambridge NOT to permit "packing them in"—so far as the BUS is concerned.

Like the chap who came to the small town dance a bit the worse for wear. Rejected at the door, the young man created a row and was thrown down the stairs. He tried again and was again ejected. On his fifth essay, the boys lost patience and tossed him from a window. He landed in a snow bank, and when help arrived was digging himself out.

"You know," he told the bystanders, "I'm beginning to think they don't want me up there."

We have no doubt whatever that statistics can be produced showing that (1) Cambridge buses are never over-crowded, (2) Cambridge people like to stand in buses, and (3) insurance experts find that the standee lives longer than the sittee.

Just the same, we agree with the Cambridge councilors that, insofar as the bus is concerned, a 10-cent fare should entitle the passenger to a seat.

Standing in tunnel or elevated trains can be borne with, especially in the rush hour. Standing in the trolley car can be endured.

Standing in a bus, the nearest thing on earth to a sea-going tug, is cruel and unusual punishment.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. M'INTYRE

NEW YORK, March 8—Newspaper writers who achieve what is known in the trade as a "by line"—you know, the signed piffle—are targets for many creepy communications. Every syndicated writer has a group of correspondents who bombard him with queer letters.

It is called "nut mail" and, of course, does not include the epistolary cheer that is so welcome, the queries or even those who ring the columnar "I" in red pencil and instigin a neat little notation to take a broad running jump off a dock.

"Nut mail" is rarely amusing, for it usually comes from those with disordered minds. They babble of fancied grievances and are jumpy and incoherent. Some have a panacea for the ills of the world and others are being held in imaginary bondage.

They tell of inventions of which they have been defrauded or of enemies who lie in wait. For more than five years I have received from one to two missives a week written in a distinguished feminine hand and postmarked from a large Ohio city. They address me as "Buddy."

ALTHOUGH not one has been answered, they speak from time to time of my replies and now and then of telegrams and gifts—imagine!—from me. A correspondent in Nome, Alaska, sent me a post card daily for more than four months. They were rational and friendly, but never signed.

Side Dailey for several years received letters from a lady in a nearby New York town. When at last they became threatening he turned them over to postal authorities.

The lady was hiding, investigation developed, a progressive paranoia from even members of her family.

Another columnist has for several years received on the first day of each month a brand new $1 bill. It is folded in a plain sheet of paper in an equally plain envelope and addressed on a typewriter. It has never been mailed from the same postoffice station twice.

Capsule novel: They were talking of one of Broadway's good fellows. "He will," said an admirer, "give you the shirt off his back."

And a mean cynic added: "But he wouldn't pay some poor old woman for washing it."

As the owner of a dog who puts his paw into the handle of a drawer, pulls it open and takes out a rubber ball, I can easily believe a gentleman who writes from Philadelphia that his dog, after an auto ride, rushes up to the front porch and pulls down a switch that turns on the electric lights.

A wire-haired fox terrier living in a hotel a few blocks away, without being told, takes the elevator down to the office newsstand every morning at 9 o'clock and returns with his master's morning paper in his mouth. He never varies more than five minutes timing his departure.

RECOUNTING these dog didos was inspired by a cabled interview with one of those tall-domed Viennese scientists who is blabbing again that dogs have no reasoning powers whatever.

Gene Markey burst in from Hollywood the other day like a skyrocket for a week's stay in the metropolis. A friend, departing for Europe turned over his five-room apartment at the Ritz. Another friend, Florida bound, put his Rolls at the writer's disposal and he saw six shows as the guest of the management. It is things like that that cause many straight forward young men who might amoun' to something to turn to writing as a career.

It has just occurred to me that no actor has ever been able to hand his hat and cane to a butler with the superb indifference of the late John Drew. Nor do I think any fiction character is so well named as Octavus Roy Cohen's Florian Slappey.

Will Cuppy, after reading the fabinids, finds a great many people are suffering from axe trouble.

(Copyright, 1930, McNaught Syndi., Inc.)

We Need a Little Red, White and Blue Schoolhouse

By Nelson Harding

This is another school we need,
And need it very much, indeed,
We cannot very well afford
To let these dreamers go abroad

Until they learn the A B C
Of intricate diplomacy,
Nor mix in Europe's feuds and hates
Unless they talk UNITED STATES.

N. H.

The BAER Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

THE dial phone is the latest substitution for service and puts the burden of proof on the index finger.

It is misinformation in circular form and every lesson costs a nickel.

Drop your five cents into the currency trap. Lift the ear-muff off the hook. The number you want is Percussion 0000, a series of small shocks.

Dial P-E-R and then run four zeroes. You get Artichoke $12.

You dial by poking your finger in the numbers and then winding up the main spring from left to right.

The holes in the dial are so small that only a sharpshooter can get results.

The average subscriber hasn't got any use for artichokes in any form. So he drops in another nickel and manages to collect the complaint department and gets a cold card making him a life member.

We think the telephone company should discard these dial engines and allow us to pick out numbers out of a hat.

We admit that dial telephoning is fascinating. When you drop in your nickel you are under the spell of the lure of the unknown.

We have never heard so many beautiful voices for five cents. It is grand opera at cost prices.

We hope that the Bureau of Weights and Measures doesn't condemn the new dial telephones as gambling machines.

After you have broken three fingernails dialing Insipid 7524 you are interrupted by the cool, calm voice of central distributing icicles.

The company has succeeded in making ordinary telephoning a course in mechanical engineering.

By the time you have sprained your index finger you don't know whether you are dialing or playing pigs-in-clover.

This is notice to the phone company that its dial jigger is now resting easily at the bottom of the air shaft and broke a two-dollar window on its southern flight.

Copyright, 1930, Distributed by Universal Service, Inc.

H. G. Wells Writes on "The Science of Life"

In Collaboration With Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

(Continued From Yesterday)

SMALLER objects can, indeed, be made perceptible by means of optical tricks, but they cannot be examined; they appear as spots or blurs without definable shape. Now that limit has already been reached.

H. G. Wells

Microscopes have been made which clearly reveal objects of that size, and it has been proved that there are living things even smaller than this.

It may sound paradoxical to say that we are sure of the existence of living things which cannot possibly be seen, but, as a matter of fact, our belief rests on solid ground. But before we go into this matter we may pause for a while and define a new word.

For it is inconvenient to measure these minute distances in such comparatively vast units as millimeters or inches; it is like describing the dimensions of a postage stamp in fractions of a mile.

The microscopist, in studying these matters, uses a measure of his own invention called a micron (usually written u): a micron is one-thousandth part of a millimeter, or about one twenty-five thousandth of an inch.

To the unaided eye it is an invisibly small distance. The smallest object that we can observe with any microscope is about a quarter of a micron across—and only the very best instruments can take us as far as this.

Most bacteria come pretty near this limit, the diameter of a coccus is usually somewhere about a micron. And now for the evidence on which our belief in these unmagnifiable creatures rests.

The argument is very simple. Suppose we pass a handful of coarse sand through a sieve whose pores are a twentieth of an inch in diameter; we know that none of the grains that are bigger than this can get through.

Now it is possible to get filters whose pores are about a quarter of a micron in diameter—they are made of unglazed porcelain or of smaller material—and we know that if we pass a fluid through such a filter anything bigger than a quarter of a micron across will be held back.

That is the limit of microscopic vision. Therefore, we may infer that nothing visible through the microscope will be able to pass such a filter—an inference that can be tested by direct experiment.

Now there are several disorders than can be transmitted to healthy subjects by injecting them with fluids that have passed through such a filter. Foot-and-mouth disease was the first to be discovered.

The characteristic feature of this cattle scourge is the appearance of sore blisters, especially on the hoofs and lips. If a little of the fluid from these blisters be passed through the finest porcelain filter so that all traces of visible bacteria are eliminated from it, it will nevertheless, infect a healthy beast if it is injected into its blood; moreover, a third beast can be infected from the blisters of the second, and so on.

Evidently there must be a living thing in this fluid, a thing that can multiply and proliferate. If it was simply a poisonous substance its effect would become weaker and weaker as it was transferred through successive beasts, but this does not occur.

Like a bacterial infection, the invisible creature proliferates inside its host.

A living thing of this kind, too small to be seen with the highest power of the microscope and passing even a porcelain filter, is called an "ultramicroscopic" or "filter-passing" organism, since all the known kinds cause diseases they are also spoken of as viruses. Strictly speaking, the term "ultramicroscopic" and "filter passing" are not synonymous. There are slender, serpentine creatures large enough to be seen through the microscope, yet able to twist and wiggle through a porcelain filter.

There are other diseases with similar causes. Smallpox, typhus fever, trench fever, measles, mumps, the distemper of dogs, and a number of vegetable affections causing the leaves of potatoes, beans, turnips and the like to come out in white spots—these are examples.

Perhaps the common cold is another. There is a possibility—a hotly contested possibility—that an epidemic destruction of bacteria themselves that sometimes breaks out in cultures is due to a living thing called bacteriophage (or devourer of bacteria), which, if it exists at all, is about a fiftieth of a micron across.

Copyrighted, 1930, by H. G. Wells, Julian Huxley, George Philip Wells.

To Be Continued Monday.

What Do You Know?

Match correctly:

1. Cuba	Chief city of Porto Rico
2. Midas	Succeeded Jefferson as President
3. San Juan	Once belonged to Spain
4. Madison	Has six States
5. New England	King with golden touch

Fill each blank:

6. The Battle of Yorktown practically ended the —— War.
7. "Honesty is the best ——."
8. The inhabitants of Indiana are called ——.
9. The expression "ipse dixit" means ——.
10. —— is the only President to serve two separate terms.
12. A platitude is a ——.
13. —— modeled a lion in butter.
14. Lincoln is buried in ——.
15. Slavery was first introduced in the U. S. in ——.

Answers to Friday's tests:

1. Declaration of Independence. 2. Lockjaw. 3. Lover. 4. Vancouver. 5. Admiral Dewey. 6. Cheese. 7. Quarantine. 8. Georgia. 9. Menelaus. 10. Small stone. 11. Principle crop of Hawaiian Islands. 12. Vertical window in a sloping roof. 13. Rabies. 14. A golf club. 15. Young goose.

Copyright, 1930, King Features Synd., Inc.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS

MEN pray with every righteous act.
With every valiant deed,
For toil is prayer, and all they lacked
Comes answering their need.
Their faith is shown in every field
They plant through sun and showers
Their trust that kindly skies will yield
Return for weary hours.
There lies a prayer in every task
Beyond mere spoken plea,
Which leads men towards the thing they ask
In all sincerity.
A mother's tender touch is prayer.
A father's shielding arm
Can silently invoke the Care
That keeps his child from harm.

China's Dreadful Famine

China Is Far Away. These Pictures Bring It Closer

(Copyright, 1930)

CHINESE MOTHER AND CHILD STARVING

THESE pictures, taken in a period of Chinese famine, nearly a year ago, tell you what it means when you read today the latest Chinese news that "millions must die of hunger in China within a short time, no hope whatever of relief to save them."

It is difficult to realize what those words mean, and many of us do not try to realize it.

The two pictures here make famine real, IN SPITE OF US.

China is far away.

There are hundreds of millions of Chinese. We are not our Chinese brothers' keeper, we tell ourselves.

Then we pass on, feeling about the news from China as though it came from the planet Mars, or some place farther off in space.

But we cannot escape the misery and sorrow in the faces of the mother and child above.

Her child is starving with her, in her arms, and as she is the stronger, she probably must see the child die before she dies.

Every mother knows what that must mean to the tens of thousands of Chinese mothers that, within a few weeks, must watch their children die slowly before their eyes.

A BABY ABANDONED BY THE ROADSIDE

The picture of the Chinese baby abandoned and left to die by the roadside makes China seem a great deal nearer than the planet Mars.

The American Fund for the Relief of Famine in China is doing good work, but it can do comparatively little.

Where millions are in want only millions of dollars could help.

However, it is giving SOMETHING, giving what we can AFFORD that counts.

The widow who gave her "mite," all she had, in value less than one cent, gave more in the eyes of God than the man of today who gives millions easily, by the signing of a check.

Listen, World!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

GET OVER THE DONTLIKITS!

EVER think what a lot you pass up by NOT LIKING things?

Most of us begin NOT LIKING when we're about six seconds old, and from that squawk on, life's just one don't like after another. Long before we reach maturity we're full of prejudices on every conceivable subject.

We don't like people with long noses . . . or short ones . . . we don't like boiled salmon . . . or fried liver . . . we don't like red hats . . . or wicker rocking chairs . . . or brown shoes . . . or railroad berths . . . or week-end parties . . . or lavender perfume . . . or men who wear derbies . . . or step-back buildings . . . or continued stories . . . or spotted dogs . . . or snow-shoeing . . . or women with double chins . . . or things that come from Egypt . . . or pink wall paper . . . or any one of a million other objects and experiences.

We not only don't like these things in theory but they make us actually miserable when we meet up with them in practice. And so we spend hours of time and great gobs of energy in trying to avoid them, or fidgeting over them.

Elsie Robinson

Now, of course, some of these dislikes, are based on good sense but the vast majority of them have no such justification and are founded on nothing but cowardice, cursedness and conceit. Like all animals, we're afraid of NEWNESS. New things may be dangerous. They may make us uncomfortable or ridiculous. They may require much disagreeable exertion. Therefore, don't risk new things . . . DON'T LIKE new things. That's the way most of our dislikes start. Or the dislike may be based on some unpleasant memory association.

Once we knew an Old Meanie who wore a derby. Every time we saw a derby we think of that Old Meanie. Of course, if we used a little gumption, we might stop associating derbies with Our Meanie. We might break up that old memory chain and rid our minds of a nuisance. But it's so much trouble to make one's self over. Much easier to just drift along, leaving things as they are. So we drift . . . hating all derbies, being riled by all derbies, because once an Old Meanie wore one.

And not only do we accumulate dislikes, but we MAKE A VIRTUE OF ACCUMULATING THEM. We consider it a sign of superior taste and shrewdness to dislike a lot of things. We rather look down on the easy-going, good-natured saps who like everything. We boast of our dislikes as if they were priceless possessions.

THEY AREN'T PRICELESS POSSESSIONS. THEY'RE A PAIN IN THE NECK. . . . A PLASTER ON PROGRESS.

Every dislike you foster limits your opportunities, blocks your advancement, shackles your freedom . . . and inflicts punishment on you. NO ONE CAN POSSIBLY HAMPER OR HARASS YOU AS MUCH AS YOU HAMPER AND HARASS YOURSELF BY YOUR OWN DISLIKES.

You've no more right to cultivate the average dislike than you have to cultivate a stutter, a squint or a limp. A dislike will do far worse things to your mind than such habits will do to your body. If you've got to be a cripple, be a physical one. Don't deliberately inflict on yourself a crippled mind.

GET OVER THE DON'T-LIKE-ITS! MEET LIFE WITH A SMILE.

Copyright, 1930, King Features Synd., Inc.